Destructive Fire in Tunkhannock.

On Thursday last the village of Tunkhannock was visited by a very disastrous fire, which consumed a large portion of the business part of the town, and but for the timely interference of rain it ravages would undoubtedly have been doubly destructive.

The fire broke out about 8 o'clock, a m. in a barn belonging to the Hufford family. The origin of the fire is unknown at present. There was a very strong wind at the time, causing the flames to spread very rapidly.

The following buildings were destroyed, besides damaging other buildings and property: The Hufford house and stables; Zeigler's cigar manufactory; Dr. Rhoads' drug store; Gray's bakery; Stanbury's cabinet ware rooms; Billings & Phillips' store; Pratt's dwelling and tin shop; Bedford's harness shop; Benshaw's grocery and provision store; Geo. Fisher's grocery and saloon; Flecker's grocery; Simpson's meat market; Mrs. Maland's and Mrs. Mary Fick's millinery stores; F. G. Ochs' livery and livery stable; and James Kelly's dwelling.

Some horses, hogs and other animals were burned. The heat was so great that the French plate glass in Bunnell's bank were broken by it.

The Pittston firemen were telegraphed for, but did not arrive in time to assist in suppressing the fire, as with the exertions of the citizens and the setting in of a heavy rain about 11 o'clock, the fire was arrested in its mad career before their arrival.

The loss is estimated at about $125,000.

Horse Stolen.

Some thief took from the stable of Mr. Horace Brewster of Bridgewater, on Tuesday night, Oct. 24th 1870, a three year old black mare, described as having a white spot upon her rear flank and a sprinkling of white hairs over her body. Pursuit was given on Wednesday morning, and the horse was traced by way of Chesapeake Falls to Waterville near Cata N. Y., but as yet has not been recovered. A reward of $100, has been offered by the Montrose Horsethief Detective Association for the return of the horse and thief, or $50 for the return of the horse.

We, as well as others, were much amused by the description of the thief, as given by the handbills, scattered over the country. As they emanated from the office of that critical "grammarians," the edition of the Montrose Republican, we must suppose the description true to life, hence we will give it verbatim as follows: "Taken by an Irishman, about 5 feet 8 inches high, had on a high hat and light pants; short box coat, and dark whiskers; 30 or 35 years old; would have a new saddle on, or as 'baught such a one of Mr. Cox on Monday the 24th."

We are not fortunate as to be able to discern nationality as readily as some people are, hence we could not say whether the thief is Yankee, Irish, Dutch or African, as there are "thieves in every class, but from the description unless he should have a "soft saddle on," he cannot be considered as Irishman or convicted as the thief. We think our travelling acquaintances who are named the "New Milford," "Huge Paw," and other blustering names, not long since, were teaching us to go some other parts just now.

The tracks he has left do not speak well for his ability.

Young Men's Christian Association.

The Third Annual Convention of the Young Men's Christian Association of the State of Pennsylvania, will convene at Scranton, Luzerne county, on Thursday, Nov. 8th, 1870, closing its session on Thursday evening. Delegates are expected from all the Associations in the State, among whom will be many of our most prominent ministers and earnest Christian workers. A most cordial invitation is extended to ministers and Christian laymen in town and country districts where there are no Associations, to come to the Convention. A most hearty Christian welcome is assured to all who come, and arrangements will be made for their entertainment, as well as for reduced fare on railroads.

A Severe Licking.

A curious case is mentioned by an exchange of a thief in Pittsburg, Pa., who, while engaged in stealing apples from an orchard in the suburbs of that city, fell from the tree into which he had climbed, and was so injured as to render him incapable of rising. While in this condition two cows came upon him, and began licking his face. They so relaxed the taste of the brackish perspiration there, that they tore the clothing from his body, in order to enlarge their sphere of operations. The licking from the rasp-like tongues was continued until blood oozed from his arms, breast, and face, after which he fainted from exhaustion. He had nearly perished from loss of blood before he was rescued. No hopes of his recovery are entertained. He thinks this was the worst "licking" he ever had.

From the Argus. FIRE—INCENDIARISM—Last week our town was visited with a series of destructive fires, which, beyond all disputes, was the work of incendiaries.

On Wednesday night, at about 10 o'clock, the barn of Messrs. Wickham & Black, in rear of the Means House barn, was set on fire, and before discovered, had made such progress as to defy all efforts to save it. One horse, Cow Carriages, and all the contents thereof was totally destroyed. Loss $1,500. Insurance $320.

This fire impelled the Means House barn, but by a determined effort, it was finally saved. Before the Fire Department had ceased to work on this fire, another alarm was sounded, when to the consternation of the already excited people, it was discovered that the large barn belonging to the Elwell House, was in flames, and in defiance of all efforts it was obvious that other buildings could not be saved.

The steamer was yet playing at the first fire, and the entire Fire Department, with their hose stretched, was entirely unprepared for this unusual emergency, and considerable time was lost in getting at work on the second fire, notwithstanding the unprecedented efforts of the department.

The Elwell House barn, with eight horses, carriages, harness, etc., was burned. The Wm. Kramer, Drovers, on Hook, Harness and Wagon, and two boxes of Millinery Goods, Cass Knapp, Burlington, one Mare and Calf, harness and buggy—Miss McDonald, Dutchess, one horse and buggy; James Passett, Scotland, one horse and harness. J. C. Wilson, proprietor of the Elwell House, three horses, back one buggy, one sleigh, three sets harness, hay, grain, etc. Mr. Wilson's loss alone, is $50,000, to $20,000—no insurance. The barn belonged to Wm. Elwell and Geo. D. Montany. Loss $1,000, insurance $500.

From Our Correspondents.

Letter from Mankato, Minn.

The recent opening of the Winona and St. Peters Railroad to Mankato, forming a connection with the St. Paul and Sioux City road, and affording two outlets to the Atlantic cities, in addition to the natural one by the Minnesota river, has called, in an especial degree, public attention to the commercial importance of this point.

The growth of Mankato, notwithstanding the fact that, until recently, the dikes to the site upon which the city now stands was in controversy, has been vigorous and rapid.

The first claim was made to the land now occupied by the city, in 1832. In 1839 the inhabitants numbered 613; in 1846 it had attained 1,320—and the decennial Federal census of 1850, just completed, exhibits a population of 9,183.

In 1860 the whole county, (Blue Earth) numbered 4,263 inhabitants—being only 1,321 more than the present population of the city alone—This year the roll of the census taker exhibits 17,447 souls in the county.

How many counties east of the Mississippi can exhibit a ratio of increase compared to this? The records of the "Old Settlers Association" of Mankato, organized during the present year, of which Geo. Maxfield, Esq. is Secretary, and also from a publication made in the Record, it appears that in 1852 the inhabitants of Mankato consisted of the following named persons: Parson R. John S. Hinckley, E. Goodrich, James Habbington, James Gunther, Daniel Williams, Samuel Leach, John James, Henry Coon, John Schroeder, John E. Harris, Joseph Lavin, Noah Armstrong, Joseph Bender, Henry Jackson and John Horens—(Mrs. Rablin being the first white woman in the place).

Mankato is situated on the right or south bank of the Minnesota river, at the point of the intersection of the Blue Earth, and on the most southerly bend of the first named river. The ground gradually recedes from the bottom, a distance of near half a mile, when it strikes a series of elevations, the approaches to which are broken by benches or tables, averaging 40 rods in width, and the summit reaching an altitude of 200 or 300 feet above the surface of the river.

More grand and picturesque view, obtained from these heights, rarely enchants the vision of the lover of nature; and they will hereafter constitute locations for those delightful villas that are destined to be planted on the margins of these grand rivers of Minnesota.

A district better watered by rivers that have their sources in never-failing springs and lakes, has not been discovered by the United States Surveyor.

Within the corporation are three artesian wells, one of which, were its volume not restrained by artificial means, would supply force adequate to run manufacturing establishments.

Where these supplies are not on hand, wells a few feet below the surface furnish inexhaustible supplies. And a characteristic of the physical arrangement here manifests itself in the fact that on the summit water is obtained at one half the depth that is required on the plain below. There is probably not a quarter section in Blue Earth county not supplied by never-failing streams of springs.

Mankato is in possession of educational advantages of a superior character. No city in the State of its population and wealth, is more highly favored in this important regard.

The State Normal School, under the efficient management of Prof. Geo. M. Gage, is conducted with a degree of success that justly challenges the pride of citizens and visitors interested in the great work of popular education.

The attendance in the Normal, during the present session, is 165—80 in the former and 85 in the latter. The buildings are now about finished, and it would be a measure of justice not only to Mankato, but to the educational interests of the whole State, if the next session of the General Assembly appropriate a sufficient amount of money to thoroughly complete the buildings, and properly fence and adorn the grounds, upon which nature has lavished such gifts.

Two private schools, one under the management of the Sisters of Notre Dame, and another established by the Society of Christiana, are each largely attended.

The Presbyterians, Catholics, Episcopalians, Methodists, Baptists, Lutherans and Welsh Calvinists, have each commodious church edifices, the first named being of brick, and the Catholic of stone. The Catholics are engaged in the erection of a church building which will cost $70,000. The present building will then be chiefly used for school purposes.

The value of flour and feed for custom, as a collection of the mills within and adjacent to the city, is estimated at $175,000. The quantity of flour, particularly that produced at the best Jacket Mills of Messrs. Hawley & Pearson, is in high repute, not only at home, but in the eastern markets to which it is shipped.

Nearly the entire produce of the Red Jacket mills are forwarded to eastern markets. The eastern shipments of these mills amounted last year to 12,000 barrels. In the Chicago market it ranks higher than any other Minnesota brand with few exceptions, and equal to those of the West.
