THE PUBLIC LANDS. During the last fiscal year 809,541,300 acres of public lands were disposed of. Of this quantity 869,891,005 acres were taken up under the Homestead law, and 21,-595.581 neres were sold for eash. The remainder was located with military, war rant, college, or Indian scrip, or applied in satisfaction of grants to railroads or for other public uses. The entries under the Homestead law during the last year covered 961,545 acres more than those during the preceding year. Surveys have been vigorouly prosecuted to the full extent of the means applicable to the pur-pose. The quantity of laud in market will amply supply the present demand. The claim of the settler under the Homestead or Pre-emption laws is not, however, limited to land subject to sale at pri vate entry. Any unappropriated survey ed public land may, to a limited extent be acquired under the former laws if the party entitled to enter under them will comply with the requirements they prescribe in regard to residence and cultivation. The actual settler's preference right of purchase is even broader and extends time of his settlement. His right was formerely confined within much narrower limits, and, at one period of our history, was conferred only by special statuyes. anthorized intrusion upon the national domain. The opinion that the public lands should be regarded chiefly as a source of revenue, is no longer maintained. The rapid settlement and successful cultivation of them is now justly considered of more importance to our well being than is the fund which the sale of them would produce. The remarkable growth and prosperity of our new States and Territories attest the wisdom of the son to lecure is being inches to be the within the reach of all. The pioneer who tier life' and thus aids in laying the foundation of new commonwealths, renders a signal service to his country, and is entitto its special favor and protection. the lowest politician, he washes to another the cale of the continued. EDUCATION AND AGRICULTURE. The subjects of education and agriculture are of great interest to the success of our republican institutions, and our happiness and grandeur as a nation. In the interest of one a bureau has been established in the Interior Department—the Bureau of Education; and in the interest of the other, a separate department—that of Agriculture. I believe great general good is to flow from the operations of both these bureaus. If properly festered I cannot command to your careful consideration too highly the reports of the Commissioners of Education and of Agriculture, nor urge too strongly such liberal legisistion as to secure their officiency.

I would sum up the policy of the administration to be a thorough enforcement of every law; a faithful collection of the tax provided for economy in the disbursment of the nation; a reduction of taxes as rapicly as the requirements of the country will admit—reductions of taxeton and tarif to be so arranged as to afford the greatest relief to the greatest numbers; honest and tair dealings with all other people, to the end that war, with all its highing consequences, may be avoided, but without surrendering any righ tor obligation due to u a; reform in the treatment of Indians, and in the whole civil service of the country; and, finally, in securing a pure, untrammelled ballot, where every man entitled to cast a vote may do so just once at each election, without fear of molestation or proscription on account of his political faith, nativity, or color.
