Summer Arrangements for Horses, A member of the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons, writing to the Times, exposes the fallacy of the popular belief that a horse is benefitted by "a month's run." He says that as new pastures are beginning to look green, and the weather promises to become warm, owners are thinking of giving their horses a treat by turning them on to grass. "I have worked my horses hard," say they, and they need a summer's run." It will rest their need beginning to look green, and the weather natural provender for horses, and they will enjoy a few month's rest at grass, and be all the better for it." It is all very well for the young animal, protected by long hair, lengthy mane and tail, whose time while young has to be got over one way or another, and it is found convenient to or another, and it is found convenient to let him forage for himself; but with stale and "groggy" horses requiring rest, and whose owners turn them out with this object, the matter is entirely different "Rest" properly so called, is not to be had is the resture. In the simple process of degree shall say a fine of 25. in the pasture. In the simple process of gathering his food the horse walks many miles during the twenty-four hours, if the Christmas or saint days, make minced pasture be bare, and the same process pies, dance, play cards, or play on any obliges him to throw extra weight on his other instrument of music, except the fore legs and feet, which it has been the intention of the owner to "rest." Besides, in the summer months, witness the poor horses huddled together for shelter from the myriads of insects which surround cattle when grazing, and watch them nervously tossing their heads, switching their tail, stamping, and thus jarring the feet and legs, moving to and fro in the vain hope of escaping from their tormentors, and if this be "rest." When the sun is powerful, the feet become hot and parchthrows a horse so soon out of condition as green food. The consequence, in eight cases out of ten, is that the animal comes up from the grass in much worse form than when turned out "to rest"-if he escapes getting staked, or being kicked by his companions. What, then, is the best method of dealing with horses in the of her parents; £5 penalty for the first summer, when either rest is a necessity or otherwise desirable? If, on the part of the owner, there is predilection for green food, give it in small quantities, mixed by hand with the har, always remembering that the fat which it invariates that the fat which it invariates the formula of the first state of the food $5.50 to the fo bly produces is so much lumber, not condition, and that when the horse returns to work, the fat is thrown off at the cost of an additional wear in the feet and

Keep the Surface Moist and Mellow.

By the loosening of the soil, the air, and especially the night air, charged with moisture even in times of severe drouth obtains ready access to the roots of the plants, and becomes condensed in the soil. Very often during a hard summer drouth we have seen corn leaves day time; but come out again at night in consequence of the falling dew, or the prevalence of the most air. When the ground is not stirred it becomes crusted over, or baked as it is called, and hence the moisture from below does not find its way up to meet the condensed moist air.

He sent for his jailor, and told him that he had a secret of great importance which had a secret of great importance w the moisture from below does not find its way up to meet the condensed moist air. But where the ground is frequently hoed, the reverse is the case; hence the benefit of repeated hoeing during the summer months, Upon this point one of our late English journals mentioned the fact that during the extremely dry season of 1826.

The thief replied that he knew the secret of great importance which had been done he would be prepared to die. Upon receiving this piece of intelligence the king at once ordered the culprit to be conducted to his presence, and demanded of him to know his secret. of the Digrestive Organs.

DYBFEPSIA GR INDIGESTION, Read sche, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Diztiness, Sour Eructaities of the Etomach, Rad taste in the Mouth, Bilbons Attacks, Papitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidners, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspopsia.

They invigorate the Stomech and stimulate the torpiditiver and howels, which render them of unequalled afficacy in cleaning the blood of all importines, and imparting now life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Sall Ifteum, Blotthes, Spots, Pimples, Practices, Dolfs, Casbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald-Read, Sore Eyes, Drytipelas, Itch, Scurft, Discoberations of the Skin, Rimoros and Diseases of the bikin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Ditters. One bottle fit such cases will convince the most incredatous of their surative effect.

Cleanse the Villated Blood whenever you find its impurities hursting inhough the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find its foot, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure and the health of the system will follow.
