The Coal Trade.

We find the following in the Mauch Chunk Coal Gazette: "The Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company are making surveys of their land a short distance above Mauch Chunk upon which it is proposed to store their coal mined when the market is not in a condition to take it. The Delaware & Hudson Canal Co., have done this for a long time and find it very profitable. The location has not yet been decided upon. This is a new departure for the old company, and we hope it will be found to be successful in a pecuniary point of view. The coal mined at Summit Hill during the winter when trade is dull will be stored on the side of the river, and shipped by canal when prices are better, in the spring and fall. Coal from Newport mines will estored on the other side of the Lehigh of the company deem it advisable. It is expected that there will be sometimes as high as two or three hundred thousand tons on hand at these yards." We understand the Wilkes-Barre Company, which now ranks third as to the quantity shipped will also make a similar move at their works in the Wyoming Valley, the exact location not yet being settled upon.

If this one price system were adopted general ly what a world of trouble would be saved both buyer and seller. Business could be transacted with half the difficulty it now is. There would ries the very life out of dealers. "We have but one price," would settle the matter. There would be none of "Won't you take less?" or "Ill give you so much." The reply to such remarks would be a reference to the placard, "One price only." It is surprising that more of our retail only." It is surprising that more of our retail merchants have not adopted this plan. Those who have tried it-ond there are such in the city-find it works admirably, and if all would do it shopping would be more agreeable to both buyer and seller.

Spare the Broom.

In many families, carpets are worn out more rapidly by the unscrupulous use of the broom da, Pa., recently leased by Messia. Koon & than by any other means. If the good man of the house the house coming in from the dusty street choose now closed for repairs. Mr. J. O.
