The following case of malicious mischief was tried in the District Court, held in Binghamton, last week. Almeron Hubbell against William H. Cronk. This action was brought to recover the value of an orchard of young apple trees, which Cronk bired Tomp. Hull to girdle, about two years ago. It appeared from the evidence that Cronk poisoped the mind of Hall, who had just returned from State prison, against Hubble, and then after getting him drunk, bired him to girille the trees for $5. Hull, afterward repented, and confessed having committed the crime to D. S. Richards, Esq. Mr. Richards ac-quainted Mr. Hubbiell with the developments. and it was arranged to bring a civil suit against. Cronk to recover the value of the trees. As Hull's testimony could be easily impeached, a little strategy was resorted to by Mr. Richard's to procure the cyldence decessary to convict.

Cronic. About a year ago it was arranged that Deputy Sheriff Brown and policeman Stebbind? should get in Leo Dawson's pedler wagon, and be driven into Cronk's barn, where Hull was to call Cronk and demand payment to the chair nal work he haddene for him. The plan worked well had he manties was talked over and the money paid by the side of the wagon, and in hearing of the secreted detectives. The jury rendered a verdict of $400 in favor of the plate.
