Mutilated Currency.

The following law regarding defaced and mutilated currency of the United States went into effect on New Years day. Fractional currency instead of Jeing redeemable by the Treasurer of the United States, subject to a discount of mutilation, will be redeemable at, their full due the United States ; provided that three-fifths and less than five-eights is presented, half the face value will be paid; less than a half will not be redeemed only on affidavit that the missing portion has been totally destroyed.

Got "Bothered." The editor of the Montrose Republican, in referring to cur notice of Col. D. A. McCracken last week, says:

"The first part of the antiouncement appears to be all right; but what bothers us is to know why the Colonel took his departure from Green so suddenly, as reported by the DEMOGRAF." We would explain, by saying that the Colone found he had omitted to renew his subscription for the DEMOCRAT, and he immediately returned to Montrose, gave us a hearty shake of the hand, went back rejoicing. It is all right now Mr.

Frazier. Guess you will not be "bothered" any The editor of the Republican seems to be "bothered" very badly lately, but if he will call upon us we think we can atraighten him out most any time.

A Good Word for Local Papers. The New York Times says you might nearly as well forget your churches, your academies and school-houses, as to forget your local paper. It speaks to ten times the audience that your local minister does, and if it has any ability at all, it is read eagerly each week from beginning to end. It reaches you all, and if it has a lower spirit and less wisdom than a sermon, it has a it does open on every table, in aithost every house, you owe it to yourselves to 'rally liberally to support, and exact from it as able, hightoned a character as you do from any educator and care-unless yourselves are beneath notice and care—for it is your representative. Woman's Markmanship.

A writer thus happily alludes to a remarkable peculiarity of the down-trodden sex : Did you ever see a woman throw a stone at a every day life. We recently observed the process-indeed we paid more attention than the hen did, for she didn't mind it at all, and laid an egg the next day as if nothing had happen ed. In fact, that hen will now learn for the firs usand times better chance at you. Lying as time that she served in the capacity of a target The predatory fowl had invaded the sacred precincts of the flower bed, and was industrious ly peeking and scratching for the nutritious seed r early worm, blissfully unconscious of impend in your midst. It is in no sense beneath notice ing danger. The lady now appears upon the scene with a broom. This she drops, and picks un a rocky fragment of the Silurian age-"they all do it,"-seizing the projectile with the wrong upon the stone flies into the air, describing an irregular, elliptical curve, and strikes the surface of the earth about as far from the hen As the thrower stood at the time, and in a course due west from the same, the hen then bearing by compass N. N. E. by E. half east. At the second attempt the stone narrowly missed the head of the thrower herself, who, seeing that any further attempts of the kind might have been suicides, does what she might have done at first-starts after the hen with an old family weapon. The moral of which is "stick to the broom-stick."
