Attention Democratic Committee!

The members of the Democratic County Committee are hereby notified that a meeting will take place at the Exchange (O. M. Koon's) Hotel, Montrose, on Tuesday, April 9th, 1872—it being the first week of court—at 3 o'clock p. m. "Action" is the watchword.

E. B. Hawley, Chairman.

Trying a Remedy.

A man in Stroudsburg discovered that powder fried in lard was good for boils. He tried it. The stove cover went up through the roof and the stove is in the cellar. He was deceived in his lard, he says.

Sinking Slowly.

Geologists affirm that the eastern shore of the United States is sinking into the ocean at the rate of about one-sixth of an inch per annum, or sixteen inches every hundred years. The island of New York goes under at the rate of seventeen inches per century.

Use of Signals.

A lady hearing the remark that the storm signal was sent, inquired what that meant; and being told that the Signal Department at Washington now watches the weather and telegraphs in advance all over the country, replied: "Now, isn't that convenient for washerwomen!"

Seven Times Shut.

It is noted, as a remarkable fact, that the river Delaware has been closed by ice seven times this winter, which has never happened previously within the memory of that oft-quoted personage, the oldest inhabitant.

Getting Less.

A friend of ours complains that the days are getting shorter instead of longer. He gave a note of sixty days on the 1st of February, and dosen't at present see where the money is to come from. Perhaps that accounts for his hallucination.

High on Heads.

In noticing the head-dresses at a regent party, it is written that one handsome person entered with her hair piled so high and in such disorder, that she brought to our mind the negresses in the mountains in Cuba, who carry purse, needles, pins, thimble, scissors and jack-knife stuffed in their wool. Another had her hair so tightly drawn over a cushion that she seemed in imminent danger of falling over backward. What will the next fashion be, we wonder?

Safe in the Senate.

The bill securing to married women their separate earnings came up on third reading and passed—yeas 17, nays 13. The bill gives a wife sole control of her earnings, whether wages of labor, salary, property, business or otherwise, so as not to be subject to any claim of her husband or his creditors; provided, that she shall first prove her separate title and ownership.

Some Spelling.

At the new Danville school, Pequa township, Lancaster county, at a recent spelling exercise which continued during some weeks, a little girl in the ninth year of her age missed only four out of fifteen hundred and seventy-four words, and another girl of eight years of age missed but six words out of the same number. Can our pupils equal this grade of proficiency?

Answer to Enigma.

Master Daniel W. Terry, of Rush, sends us the correct answer to the following enigma, which appeared in this paper March 6th, as follows:

Enigma.—I am composed of eight letters: My 5, 8, 7, 4, refreshes the traveller. My 1, 6, 2, 3, is a Satellite of our Globe. My whole is the name of a town in Susquehanna county, Pa.

Answer.—The first is Rest for the Traveller, the second is the Moon, and the Town is Montrose.

Important.

The Supreme Court delivered an opinion which is of especial interest to soldiers in the army. A minor had enlisted without the permission of his parents, and had been discharged from the custody of the military authorities by a State Court. The Supreme Court decided that the State Courts have no jurisdiction in such cases, and that when it is shown that the person is held by the authority of the United States, no matter how illegal his enlistment was, the only courts which can take cognizance of the case are the United States Courts.

The Crops.

Quite a diversity of opinion appears to prevail in relation to the prospects of the growing wheat and rye crops throughout the country. Some agriculturists say that the crops have sustained considerable damage. The cold weather, in the absence of snow, in addition to pleasant sunshine causing the frozen ground to thaw in day time, has frozen out much of the forthcoming crop, while others contend that the grain is not materially injured. It is probably too early in the season to form a correct opinion as to the prospects of the crops, but we hope with fair weather and timely rains to have an abundant yield of both wheat and rye crops.

A Mystery.

The Norristown Herald says that the workmen employed in excavating a siding for the Reading Railroad Company, on Bush's premises, in Bridgeport, unearthed a heavy iron chest of a very old fashioned make. It is about four feet long, two feet wide and about two and a half feet deep, and guarded by heavy bands of iron crossing and recrossing the body of the box which is also made of iron. There are two heavy hasps and staples for padlocks, a large key hole in the lid and one in the side. It is to be forwarded to Philadelphia, where it will be opened by the officers of the road.

Stamps on Leases.

As the time for the renewal of leases, and of the execution of new agreements between landlords and tenants is near at hand, the decision of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue as to whether the provision of law imposing a stamp duty on leases should be enforced in regard to stamping duplicate copies, usually furnished the leassee, is not only interesting but important to all. He decides that when an instrument is executed and in duplicate, triplicate, etc., as in the case, of a lease of two or more parts, each part has the same legal effect as the other, and each should be stamped as an original. When parties make executive duplicates or counterparts "copies," it does not make them mere copies, or relieve them from duty as original.

Moving Matters.

April's advent approaches—and around and about us are even now manifold evidences that the reign of discord and confusion has commenced; and ere many suns shall wane, it will be still more inexplicitably confounded. Broken mirrors, shattered furniture, scratched tables, spoiled veneering, clocks that will not go, legless chairs that will not stand—carpets that will not fit—curtains either much too long or far too short—women vexed—men maddened—children restless, and squalling babies, will, with a myriad of untold inconveniences, dim the vision and dull the ear. Indignation meetings will be held by disturbed bedbugs, and grand councils of venerable rats will be held nightly. Tenants are on the wing; landlords restive for security, and the only consolation left to the migrators is, that as the old proverb runs, three moves are as good as one fire. From cold dinners on moving day, carrying beds to the attic, cording up, sacking bottoms and sore throats for a week afterwards, deliver us.

The Secret of Success.

The true secret of the growth of any place are the inducements held out to strangers to settle among them. Encourage active and worthy men, whether they have any money or not. Their labor alone is worth money. Stimulate every legitimate enterprise by giving it all the friendly aid in your power. Cultivate a public spirit for it and help your neighbor. If he is in danger of breaking down before you know his situation set him upon his feet again. His misfortune is to be pitied, not blamed; his talents and labor are worth money to the community. Besides it may some day be your turn to need a corresponding sympathy. Let us speak well of our neighbor. Talk well and encouragingly of your town, of its growth, its prospects, its advantages, and in short everything likely to advance its welfare.

A New Custom.

A new custom is being introduced in Towanda, which, although quite common in some localities, is rather novel here. It is that of wives accompanying their husbands to drinking places, and remaining with them untill they get ready to go home. We heard a lady remark the other evening that she considered that if such resorts was good enough for her husband, they surely were good enough for her. And why is not this a good plan? President White, of Cornell University, in his advocacy of the joint collegiate education of sexes, says that "men become more gentle and refined from the presence of woman." Therefore, husband when you go to the club or saloon of an evening don't forget to take the partner of your joys along.—Towanda Business Item.

It Pays to Keep Your Word.

Some years ago a pastor of Williamsport became very intimate with a wealthy member of his congregation. So strongly was the latter attached to the pastor that he exacted a promise that he would preach his funeral sermon. The Pastor promised that no matter what the distance that separated them, or the difficulties that might be placed between them, he would, when informed of the death of the old friend, drop all else and hasten to the spot that was to be the resting place of his mortal remains. The pastor afterwards moved into the vicinity of Allentown, and a short time received the sad announcement that his friend was dead. Instead of keeping the promise, he replied that he was unable to be present, as he could not close up his church, etc. The funeral took place in due season, but the pastor was not there to perform the last sad rites over the body of his departed friend. The ceremonies, however, were performed by another, and afterwards, when the will was opened, it appeared that the old man had been faithful in death as he was in life, and bequeathed a thousand dollars to his old friend, provided he preached his funeral sermon.

Incorrect.

In duty to Mr. Lewis, whom E. W. Hawley charges with misrepresenting Mr. Williams in the Democratic caucus, by saying that Mr. W. had sold his farm, etc., we have made diligent inquiry of the members of that caucus, and find that Mr. Lewis made no such statement whatever, and that no other name but Mr. Lewis' was brought before the caucus. Dind't our Radical friend, Mr. H., make his statement more upon inflamation than "information?" It is a matter of a very cloudy character, that Mr. H. should be attempting to run both the Republican and Democratic caucuses. It is still more colored in its appearance, when the facts appear that the regular nominee on the Radical ticket was called upon to resign, and Mr. W.'s name placed upon the ticket in opposition to the expressed will of the caucus. Mr. Hawley not being present to get Mr. W. nominated in the Democratic caucus, his name appears on a "scratch" ticket. We find investigation does not prove to be a good "balm" for Mr. H.

Get Ready for a Smash.

A decidedly new sensation is promised us on the 12th of next August. The famous M. Plantamour, Professor of Astronomy at Geneva, has discovered a new comet, which, it is declared, exceeds in size any similar meteor hitherto known of. By the elaborate calculations of this learned observer, the new comet is darting directly toward our globe with prodigious velocity, and will come into collision with it on the 12th of August, as aforesaid. The approach of this terrific object will be heralded by an extraordinary degree of heat; and the catastrophe cannot possibly be avoided unless by a deflection, not now to be prognosticated, produced by the comet impinging on the attractive scope of some other heavenly body. We believe that this alarming prophecy corresponds with one of Dr. Cummings' more recent announcement; and, if so, science and religion—or one eccentric representative of it—will for once and unequivocally be in accord. The inhabitants of the earth will have at least this consolation, that after the Plantanfour comet comes within range of telescopic observation and becomes visible to the naked eye, there will yet be a long time for them to set their houses in order and prepare for the "eternal smash" that must ensue.

In Memoriam.

We are called upon to record the death of William Barrett, Esq. For some time he had been afflicted with rheumatism, but no danger was apprehended of a fatal termination of his disease, but on Saturday evening, 16th inst., he became rapidly worse, when death relieved him of his sufferings. Mr. Berrett was a warm friend, a life-long democrat and an able counsellor, and though having faults in common with mankind, he possessed many virtues, which endeared him to the community. The legal fraternity will be deprived of a valuable companion, and a large circle of friends will mourn his untimely death.

In open Court, Judge Murray presiding notice was made of the death of Mr. Barrett. His Honor the Judge gratified the numerous friends of Mr. B. by some very graceful remarks. Messrs. Johnson, Seymour, Judd and Becker forgot the asperities of legal contests and indulged in flattering testimony to the ability and courtesy of the deceased. At a meeting of the Bar to be held Tuesday evening it is understood that formal resolutions of sympathy and respect will be passed.—Binghampton Democrat.

The following additional is from the Binghamton Republican:

Mr. Barrett was born in Enfied, Otsego Co., and was nearly 70 years of age. His father was Dr. Barrett, well known in his day as a prominent physician; also as an extensive tanner and merchant latter in life.

The deceased graduated at Union College, and read law with Hon. Joshua Spencer, at Utica. After being admitted at the bar he opened an office in Herkimer, and was elected District Attorney of Herkimer county. He afterwards practiced in his profession at Wellsville, Otsego Co., and at Utica. At Utica he was a partner of Mr. Benton, for many years canal auditor.

Mr. Barrett was twice married. His first wife was a sister of William R Osborn, Esq., and his second wife, who is now living in Savannah, Georgia, is sister of Hon. Edward Tompkins, of California. Mr. Barrett had a son by his last wife, who is with her at Savannah.

Mr. Barrett came to Binghamton from Utica, about twenty years ago, and for ten years was prominent in his profession; but for the past ten years he did little business on account of failing health.

Knight Templars.

Friday evening March 15th, Great Bend Commandery, No. 27, K. T., held their annual convocation and election at their Hall in Great Bend, and made choice of the following officers for the ensuing year:

Rev. I. N. Pardee, Com.; P. T. B. Emmons, Gen'l.; S. I. Mayo, Capt. G.; W. W. Simrell, Rec.; C. Simpson, Treas.; G. B. Whitney, S. W.; A. P. Stephens, J. W.; Dr. E. Gill, Sent.; D. Mason, Warder; N. W. Fox, St. B.; R. T. Gillespie, Sw. B.; J. H. Dusenbury, Prelate.

After the election, the order of the Red Cross was conferred upon candidates, and a presentation of an elegant jewel and set of engrossed resolutions made to Past Commander John A. Dusenbury by the Rev. Com. I. N. Pardee, in an eloquent and feeling address.

After this, the Knights indulged in a feast of reason and flow of soul, at the banquet board.

Knights were present from Binghamton, Elmira, Montrose, Hornellsville, Carbondale, and Susquehanna Depot.

Murder in Wellsboro.

On Sunday evening last, a young man named Lute Culver was shot and instantly killed by a saloon keeper named Burgin, a German, both residents of Wellsboro, Tioga county, Pa. By private letter we have the following particulars of the affair:

Young Culver, and a party of lumbermen who were stopping in Wellsboro at the time, were parading the streets during the evening, evidently intoxicated, as they had a bottle of whisky with them, and about 10 o'clock they were in front of Burgin's saloon, making a riotous noise, and stoning the sign, when Burgin fired two shots upon them, the first killing Culver almost instantly. Soon after the party dispersed. Up to Monday morning Burgin had escaped arrest. Great excitement prevails, and various rumors are afloat.

Hard Pushed.

"Yet we find in the Montrose Democrat of March 6th the allegation that Horace Greeley charges the President with being a thief, and proves it. This statement is made by one who signs himself "Veritas," which in this instance is properly interpreted "a liar."

Mr. Ed.:—I find the above given as an extract from my communication of March 6th, and for which I am called "a liar." It is of very little consequence to the public whether I am a liar or not, but it is of some consequence for the public to know whether a journal published in the interest of the Republican party of this county, habitually falsifies the truth and by garbled extract, places others in a false position, and then makes use of the favorite Republican argument "you are a liar."

What I did say was this: Every man in the party, that had office, and every man who hoped to get an office if Grant was elected, suddenly found out that Horace Greeley, was an old fogy, an old fossil, a political knave, and a fool, and all because he charges the present republican managers with being so many thieves, and proves it."

Now Mr. Frazier, if I am a liar there is two of us. The difference is, I based my statement upon the sworn testimony of witnesses, taken before a congressional investigating committee. That evidence has become a part of the records of the present congress, and gone to the world as a part of the political history of the Republican party. You lied wilfully and deliberately with the facts before you. You were not mistaken, you did just what you intended to do, and just what no gentleman would do, lied for the purpose of injuring your neighbors. Again you tack the extract on to an old editorial relating to the French Arms swindle, there by implying that I made my charges in that connection, when as you know there was not a word in my communication referring to it. So much tor the Republican's fair dealing. The only charges I made in my communication was against the "managers of the Republican party," except as related to San Domingo, from which the Republican does not quote. I did not suppose any body would charge Grant with managing anything except as he manages to obtain "strange gifts of men." Having announced that he "had no policy" of course he could not claim to be the head of his party any more than the Republican man, and as neither would like to be called its tail, I propose to christain them its crupper and let them go. Veritas.

Transforming the Complexion.

The transformations produced by Hagan's Magnolia Balm are quite as astonishing as any scene on the stage of a theatre. The famous beautifier, transmutes a sallow, pecky looking complexion, into one in which the lily and the rose vie for admiration, and imparts to a dry, harsh skin, the softness of perfect lwitness. Tan and freckles, which country air and sunlight are pretty sure to produce, in spite of parasols and sundowns, are completely obliterated by it; while it has a perfect magical effect in banishing undue redness, blotches and pimples from the skin. When the lady who has used it to remedy her complexional defects looks in the mirror, she is equally astounded and gratified at the improvements in her appearance. Every blemish has disappeared; her neck, arms and bosom, now rival in whiteness the snowy color which encircles her throat, her cheek mantles with a peach-like bloom, and she is ready to invoke a blessing on the inventer of the article which has wrought such a delightful transformation.

WHAT DYSPEPSIA MAY END IN.

Indigestion is not dangerous, say the faculty. Perhaps not in itself, while it remains mere indigestion; but look at the consequences to which it may lead, and often does when it becomes a chronic disease. A spark of fire is a small thing. A pressure of the foot will put it out; a breath will extinguish it. Yet it may fire a powder mill, or kindle a flame that will consume a city. In like manner indigestion may produce gastritis, cancer of the stomach, congestion of the bowels, apoplexy, liver disease, and many other dangerous maladies. Is it not wise, then, to check it in the germ? Nothing is more clearly and indisputably established than that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will eradicate dyspepsia in all its stages. The true policy, however, is to extinguish it in the first stages with this wholesome, powerful, and infallible tonic and alterative. It is easier to quench a spark than a flame, and it is easier to cure dyspepsia when it is first developed, than when it has made headway by neglect, and become complicated with other ailments. There is not the shadow of a doubt that the bitters are as directly antagonistic to dyspepsia as water is to fire. There are thousands of cases on record proving this fact. The remedy is safe and agreeable. All the liquors of commerce prescribed as stimulants leave a sting behind. But the sting is taken out of the spirituous basis of this great remedy by vegetable medication, and, moreover, the stimulant thus medicated is of exceptional purity. Of all tonics taken as safe-guards or remedies for fever and ague, billious remittents, and other epidemics, it is the only one that can uniformly be depended on.

THE SECRET ERRORS OF YOUTH,

Which are hurrying so many thousand of the bright and promising youth of both sexes to early and unhonored graves, are but the outcroppings of a diseased imagination. Indisposition to exertion, loss of power, loss of memory, difficulty of breathing, weak nerves, trembling, horror of disease, dimness of vision, pain in the back, hot hands, flushing of the body, dryness of the skin, pallid countenance and universal lassitude of the muscular system, are among the most frequent symptoms.
