There's never a day so sunny Bat a little cloud appears; There's never a life so happy But has had its time of tears; Yet the sun shines dut the brighter When the stormy tempest clears.

There's never a garden growing With roses in Event plot; There's never a heart so hardened. But it has one tender spot; We have only to prune the border To find the forget-me-not.

There's never a path so ragge! That bears not the print of feet; And we have a Helper promised For the trials we may inext.

There's never a sun that rises

There's never a dream that's happy But the waking makes us sad; There's never a dream of sorrow

But the waking makes us glad; We shall look some day with wonder At the troubles we have had.
