Look to Your Letters.

A telegram from Washington contains the following information that it will do no hurt to letters to be eareful how they address them : "Nearly three millions letters went to the dead letter office last year. They are partly classified as follows: Fifty-eight thousand had no county or state directions; more than four thousand lacked stamps, and three thousand were posted without any address at all. The sum of $92. 000 in cash and more than $3,000,000 in drafts. checks, etc., were found in them. It appears that on an average, every letter that is misdirected or that goes to the dead letter office from any cause, contains one dollar.

Black Bass.

The success of the experiments of transplanting black bass from the Potomac to the river Delaware, seems to be already established everal young fish of this species have recently been taken by fishermen near Trenton. They were in every instance, however, given back to the water as soon as caught. It was only last has always denounced the use of tobacco as a summer that a few hundred of these fish were placed in the Delaware at Easton, and, now that they have made their appearance at Trenton, it is shown conclusively that the Delaward will be swarming with them before many more seasons have come and gone,

Last Thursday evening an immense crowd esembled to assist in the dedication of the Democratic and Liberal Republican Wigwam. It seats twenty-one hundred and was filled to its fullest capacity. General McCartney.

During the progress of the Convention on Monday last, and while the conference committees were consulting, the members of the convention and a large number of citizens who were present, were highly entertained by a stirring speech from Gen. McCartney, who is doing good service in this campaign in various sections of the country. The General treated the matters at issue in this contest, in a manner which brought repeated applause from his hearers, and which entities him to rank among the first speakers of the day. His presentations of Man mind thyself, is a rare old text; facts and figures, were given in an eloquent, happy and convincing manner, and he poured Oh, it blows a regular jamboree! happy and convincing manner, and he poured a full volley of "Heavy artillery" into the corrup-tion and imbecility of the present administration, backed by statistics and sound arguments. which challenge successful refutation. A Phenomenon.

The Albany Times has the following account of what it very justly calls a phenomenon: It was seen on Wednesday last, about six miles from Albany, beyond the Old McKown wood. During the storm which prevailed, a cloud, funnel shaped descended from the heavens, extending apparently from the clouds to the ground. The tail was near the ground, and I won it well, and the nation's minewithin this peculiar shaped mass, smoke and fire were seen to prevail to a degree, which caused general alarm among the residents in that locality, being impressed with the idea that Plantamour's comet had been delayed and come at last. The funnel shaped mass would seperate occasionally, when the flame was plainly visible. This continued ten minutes, and was witnessed by a number of persons, all of whom agree as to circumstances referred to. After the funnel shaped cloud had disappeared, it was discovered that the corn and other produce on the farms in the locality where the tail of the funnel apparently rested were all burned off even with the surface of the earth.

By this, a

By this, a great deal of property was destroyed, and no little alarm occasioned. What produced the phenomenon is more than any one in that locality could determine, and it would be well if I'll hold to my faith in the ancient plansome scientific gentleman could make an invessing out for more and grab all you can tigation and report the result.

Raking it in is the style for me!

Suicide.

William Pendergast, the man who on the 27th of May made an attempt to assassinate Rev-Father McKee, of the Catholic church at Catasauque, committed suicide in jail at Easton on Friday night of last week by hanging himself by the neck to the inner grate door of his cell. Pendergast was evidently insane, having this idea in his head that Father McKee, had been following for years past with the intentions of the prisoner at the time of the shooting so preyed upon his enfecbled mind that it was imessible to disabuse him of the idea that the men were still in persuit of him. This, in con nection with the noisy confusion of a political meeting near the prison on the evening of his doing away with himself no doubt hastened the catastrophe, the unfortunate man thinking in all probability, that the enraged crowd would soon be upon him. Deceased was 33 years of age, and a native of Ireland .- Leighton News.

An Important Suit. About one year ago Mahlon McIntyre was ejected, according to his affidavit filed, from a passenger train north on the Lehigh Valley d at a place where there was no station, at night time, and where McIntyre was totally nacquainted with the country roundabout. The allegation further states that the next down passenger train, on the above mentioned railroad, ran over McIntyre, cutting off his left leg. and that he laid where he fell until the next orning, when he was found by a man living on the opposite side of the river. The station near where this accident happened is called Kitattinny, on what is called the Lizard Creek grade. McIntyre has brought suit in the Lehigh County Court, laying his damages at $30,-000. The case will probably be tried at the September term this year .- Register.

Worth Knowing.

Few people know, and thousands do n know, that by setting a glass of fruit on a folded towel, thoroughly soaked in cold water, the fruit can be poured in boiling hot, with no more danger of breaking than with a tin cup. Cut this out and paste it on your cupboard.

The Golden Age's Life-Size

The Golden Age's Life-Size

Portrait of Mr. Greeley.—The Golden Age has published a beautiful portrait of Horace Greeley, life-size, head and bust, executed in fine lithographic style, suitable for banging on the wall of a parlor, or library, or club-room, and constituting altogether the best likeness of Mr. Greeley which has ever been prepared for popular circulation. The original was a photograph from life, taken by Pearsall in Brooklyn, drawn on stone by Baker of Boston, and litographed by Armstrong of that city. The head-is exactly the size of life, showing how big the brain must be that dwells within it. The expression is pleasing. The white hair is soft and silky. The spectacles have a wise look. The beard ripples over the collar with a graceful curve. The dress is not disheveled. The coat is of black broadcloth, such as Mr. Greeley generally wears. The pleture is thoroughly characteristic of the man, and an admirable success—especially gratifying to Mr. Greeley's intimate friends.
