SUSQUEHANNA DEPOT, Sept. 6th, 1872. To the Chairman and Members of the Dema cratic Committee of Susquebanna County. GENTLEMEN:—When my name was proposed in the County Convention for the office of Representative, as is well known to most of you, I at once, for reasons that I then frankly -perhaps too bluntly-stated, withdrew it-After the nomination was made, it was my intention to have notified the Convention that I still declined; but while consulting with some friends outside (at an earlier hour than we anticipated,) the Convention adjourned, and the opportunity for doing so was lost.

I now, therefore, respectfully tender my declination, to you, in order that such steps as you shall deem advisable, may be taken to fill up the

Bradford County.

EDITOR DEMOCRAT :- Never having seen our village noticed in your columns, and presuming that some of your readers are not acquainted with our inland village, situated midway between Montrose and Towanda, on the old stage road, that has been one of the "land marks" for the last forty years, is my inducement for writing you at this time. To begin, we have some of the most enterprising business men that any town of its size can boast of, and manufacture our own plows and agricultural implements generally, our merchants are prosperous and do a good business, considering the hard times in the money market. We have an excellent school, under the direction of Prof. Cochrane, and the mos industrious set of eroquet players in Bradford A. H. Case, formerly of Anburn, in your coun ly, has been here sometime in the picture buri ness and is a success, his work is hardly equaled in the county.

Politics are beginning to warm up, and we expect to give Buckslew and the State ticket the largest vote Bradford ever gave any candidates since the organization of the Radical party. The people are beginning to realize how their liberties are being taken from them, and the Treasury plundered by Cameron and his thieving ring, and will hurl from power in Ocjoher, Hartranst and the whole set of cormorants who are stealing the people's money, From them by taxation, to be used as corruption fund to keep them in power. It is with the greatest gatisfaction that we note that you have again placed the name of J. B. McCollum, before the people for Congress, he is a man of and for the people, and as such should sective the endorsement of every honest man in LeRayaville, Pa., Sept. 19th, 1872. Gold, on Saturday, 1-18.

Another Lie Nalled.

The Montrose Republican, of date Sent 2d ontains under the above caption an assault up on me, impuguing my character for truth. It asserts that I told an "honest old Republican" that Gen. Grant passed through Binghamtor drunk, and that I gave Wm. M. DeLong as authority for the statement. It also asserts that I repeated the story to G. L. Stone, post-master t Montrose, who at once wrote a series of letters to DeLong, Judge Balcom, and the Binghamton Post-master, receiving answers, which were published in proof of my renality.

In reply I will say, that as for the "honest old Republican," I will attend to his case when convinced that there is one of that character oft in the party. Stone misrepresented me both in his letters to the Binghamton parties, and in his account of the affair. In my talk with Stone, I asserted that Grant passed through Binghamton, and did not appear to the expectant eyes of his worshippers who thronged the Depot platform. It was denied by a Grantite hat he was at Blughamton at all, and I asserted that DeLong assured me that he was there and did not show himself outside of the car. I said it was reported that he sat with bowed head, acting rather studid, and I believed he was drunk. Istill believe so, for I don't think even a reelection would tempt Grant to ride so far and keep soher. His intemperance has been too fully established to be successfully disputed

The only thing in the transaction that affects my veracity, is the letter from DeLong denying that he told me that Grant was drunk. But I held Sept. 25th, 26th, and 27th, instead of the did not give him as authority for Grant's state, time first announced. This change was made only for his being in Binghamton and not showing himself. Stone knew this, and the whole thing is an electioneering dodge between him and the contemptible editor of the Republic None of the letters disprove the charge that Grant was drunk. Judge Balcom says he never saw him drunk, and DeLong never heard that the citizens of Binghamton called upon him, &c. That is all. Stone admitted to me that the article wronged me, and called upon the editor to have an explanation appear in the Republican, clearing me of the charge. But the tive that every district shall be represented if ditor refused. Said he, "I wrote that article, and I am responsible for it." So I leave Stone -my business is with the editor. How does he appear in this transaction? Simply as a wilful ibelier. He publishes an attack upon me, accusing me of falschood. He is then informed that his article wrongs me, yet he declares it shall remain as it is. He says-" I told that lie, Mr. Stone—I am responsible for many lies—I won't feel one more." Now I appeal to all fairninded men. What is the proper course to pursue with such a creature? He is too contemp lible to kick, and it is well for him that he is so. Were he not he would never be able to sit down men. He can only work among the lower in tellects which can be reached by slang. During past campaigns the editorials in his paper, have been generally able articles. This year they are all slang. The reason is that in the past they were taken from the Tribune-this campaign throws him on his own resources. It taxes his brain terribly to write even such an article as his libel upon me, and once written t must stand. "What!" he cries, "do so much dirty work, and then undo it? Never! They rery own. I am proud of it." It is just the course even a stranger would ex pect him to pursue, should be observe him proceeding meekly through the streets, or docilly following the cows home from pasture, his head bowed forward, as if in shame for being so conemptible. In the conduct of his paper he dis plays an utter want of honor. If he can make what he thinks a good hit for Grant, he does no regard a libel upon a citizen, or downright fab-rication anything out of the way. If he libels man, he knows his party friends, and if he is proved a libeller, the majority of his readers will never find it out, if he keeps dark himself. His paper is Independent-a slave to party to be sure, but independent of honor, truth, or com-

The Golden Age's Life-Size

The Golden Age's Life-Size

PONTRAIT by Min. GREELEY.—The Golden Age has published a beautiful portrait of Horace Greeley, life-size, head and bust, executed in fine lithographic style, suitable for hanging on the wall of a parlor, or library, or club-room, and constituting altogather the best likeness of Mr.
Greeley which has ever been prepared for popular circulation. The original was a photograph from life, takun by Pearsail in Brooklyn, drawn on stone by Baker of Boston, and litographe by Armstrong of that city. The head is exactly the size of life, showing how big the brain must be that dwells within it. The expression is pleasing. The white half is soft and silky.
The spectacles have a wisd-look: The beard ripples over the collar with a graceful curve.
The dress is not disheveled. The coat is of black broadcloth, such as Mr. Greeley generally black broadcloth, such as Mr. Greeley generall wears. The pleture is thoroughly characteristic of the man, and an admirable success—espec ially gratifying to Mr. Greeley's intima friends.

All persons who have a hearty liking for the Chappaqua candidate ought to have this likeness of him in his best mood. Any one can obtain it by remitting one dollar, in return for which the portrait will be mailed on a roller post-paid to any address, within the United States, together with a copy of The Golden Age gratis from now till the election, Nov. 5th. Any person who is already a subscriber to The Golden Age, and who will now renew his subscription, and will at the same time procure a new subscriber, shall receive a copy of the pleture; and the new subscriber shall receive it likewise. The Golden Age is a political and literary ournal, devoted to the discussion of all current

Journal, devoted to the discussion of all current topics, and means to do the best it can between now and autumn to elect an Honest Man to the presidency of the United States.

The price of subscription is three dollars a year, or one dollar from now till election. The picture is sent to all new subscribers, whether for the year or for the campaign. Such a paper and such a picture have never been offered to the public at such a price.

A Perilous Season.

Glerious and delightfular the Summer weather 12, its tropical heat is a severe trial to the vital powers. Even the strongest are sometimes prostrated by its effects. The common phrace applied to this condition of the body is "general debility." Now, general debility arises from, and includes a variety of aliments. The liver is more or less affected, the bowels are either constitution, and includes a variety of aliments. The liver is more or less affected, the bowels are either constitution of the original control of direction, the appetite is poor, and the spirits depressed. This is what is called general debility. It is a general disarrangement of all the physical inntitions, and requires as a remedy a medicine that will regulate them all. Hostetter's Stomach Bifters is specially adopted to this purpois. Its general operation is not confined to a single organ. If the liver is affected, it restores its tone. If the stomach is torpid, it regenerates it. If the new case tremulous smod weak, it braces and releforees them. If the mind, which ever sympatities with the body, is gloomy and desymdent it relieves the difficulty, and soon brings the whole mechanism of the body luto harmony with the lows of health.

There is no civilized nation in the Western Hemis. it relieves the anneary with the lows of mechanism of the body into harmony with the lows of health.
