Notice.

We are requested to give notice that the sermon te young people which the Rev. Dr. Chesshire, pastor of the Baptist Church, announced to preach last Sabbath evening was postponed to next Sabbath evening, on account of the unfavorable weather. The young people, especially young men, are carnestly invited to attend on Sabbath evening, Oct. 6th, 1672. Divine service to commence at 7 o'clock. The subject is "The Elements of True Success."

Read a short Biographical sketch of Hon. C. R. Buckalew on our first page. R Buckslew on our first page.

There was one thing in the procession, and on the platform with the speakers and officers of the Itadical Mass Meeting which we omitted to report in our notice elsewhere, and that was a pumpkin head. Pumpkin heads cannot vote in the reform party. To be serious we say that when the redical party of Susquehanna County will story to such above carricature to show their hatred of an honest man, to whom they are almost entirely indebted for all they know.—Hon. Horace Greeley—it fully shows their character and the desperation of their cause. "Whom the gods wish to destroy they first make mad."

the gods wish to destroy they arst make mad.

One of our leading Grant Republicans in Montrose estimated—and he is not far out of the way—that there were 1500 persons at the mass meeting last Saturday. The editor of the Republican said that if there were not four times as many as we had at our meeting, he should be disappointed. As there were about 1200 at ours howest here disappointed. We wonder inst have been disappointed. We wonde

he must have been disappointed. We wonder if it made him groan any.

We give below the names of twenty Liberal Republican soldiers of Auburn, this county, all but two of whom volunteered to assist in saving the nation from the attacks of armed rebellion. and now they volunteer in the army of reform to save the country from the mantle of corrupto sive the country from the mander or corrup-tion that threatens to smother out the very prin-ciples of Liberty for which they perilled their lives. As they longlit side by side with Demo-crats on the bloody fields of battle, they are no-verady to do so to reinstate honesty and capabil-ity in office, and to establish peace with "Amacur and Reconcillation."

This is the age of adulteration, and as wise old falies often remark, "you really can't tell what you're eatin'"—and that is a fact—or drinking either. A great many people—cunning people—always buy their coffee whole, because you can't be cheated if you buy the berries. How much innocence there is in the world!

They are made from chikory-which costs a few cents per pound-mixed with ground peas. So well finished is the berry that only an expert could detect the imposition. There is nothing about these berries unhealthy; in fact, as good coffee can be made from them as is generally obtained in restaurants. Isaac Reckhow, of Great Bend, Pa., died in Slaterville, N. Y., Aug. 19, 1872, aged 61 years. The subject of this sketch was born in Rockland County, N. Y., Feb. 16th, 1811, and when but three years old moved with his parents, into this County, and with but a few weeks intermission has resided in the town of Great Bend ever since, He became in early manhood identified with all the affairs of a rapidly growing county, and with it arose step by step to posts of honor, occuping a seat in the State Legislature, and being for fifteen years an efficient Justice. He never coveted official duties and honors, but in the broadest sense of the word was a peace-maker. He had a high constructive instinct, rising above a majority of his age. A strong parti-

Insurance Notice. The undersigned, out of no ill-feeling to anyone, published an official statement some weeks ago, of the impairments of the capital of several insurance companies, represented by some four agencies in this county, one of which was the Andes of Cincinnati. At the instigation of the agents, or some other person, the President, J. B. Bennett, wrote a letter to the editor of the Republican, denvine the statement, which was Republican, denying the statement, which was published in that paper. We now find the following statement published in the New York Times, Sept. 21st, 1872, which makes the Andes Times, Sept. 21st, 1872, which makes the Andes Insuranc Company $289,165 27 worse off than nothing. According so this statement parties in this county, and eisewhere, holding policies in this company are not insured. Mr. Bennett is also President of the Amazon and Triumph—companies also doing business in this State. I would recommend all parties who desire sale insurance to apply for policies in old, rehable companies represented at this agency. The North America Insurance Company, of Philadelphia, incorporated 1794, Franklin, of Philadelphia.

The above companies lost over $5,000,000 in the Chicago fire, which was promptly paid, and the companies are in as good condition as they were previously to the fire. It costs no more to insure in good companies train it does in dou's ful once, and carties applying to this agency will get reliable insurance.
