"One Thing at a Time."

The National Live Stock Journal notes that the history of stock husbandry in Europe and in this country satisfactorily proves that few men succeed in an marked degree as breeders of more than one race of domestic animals, or of more than one variety of a single race. A farmer well situated to do so may attain a certain measure of success in raising and selling horses, cattle, hogs, sheep, and poultry—his operations with each may be profitable—but we believe there are not many instances on record where remarkable eminence as a breeder has been at-tained by one individual with more than one class of stock. The maxims and arguments in favor of a mixed system of husbandry alone. The practice of mixed husbandry so often advised consists simnusosatily so often intrised consists similar nly, in growing some grain, some vegetables, come fruits, some grasses, and some stock—the proportions and varieties of each to be determined from year to year by the surrounding circumstances and the prospective markets. For the general farmer this is unquestionably the safest and best, but it is not the system which gave celebrity or fortune to the Bake-wells, the Collings, the Bateses, the Boeths, the Hammonds, and others now living. "One thing at a time as a leading specialty, and that alway," seems to be a good law for the breeder who seeks dis-tinction.

Easping Morses Feet.

A correspondent of the Canada Far-A correspondent of the Canada Farmer, speaking of this practice, says:
Rasping down the feet nicely, as they call it, is quite a passion with some people. I have often rasped the hoof, and the owner of the horse standing by to tell when it would suit him. This rasping on the hoof that happens to be a little ill-shaped, until it will spring under your finger, is far too dangerous a plan for making things look well. I often commenced on hoofs that had a beautiful gloss all over,
and given them a thorough rasping, not and given them a thorough rasping, not that I could make them any better, for that was beyond the power of any human hands, but they had to be rasped merely because the owner's mind was a slave to fashion or fancy. This rasping takes the atrong surface off the hoof, and nature, trying all she can to make for the evil done by injudicious hands, forms a hard glossy surface to protect the foot. This glossy surface takes the place of the previous tough horn, and the next shoeing of the foot will probably split a little at the nails, and not unfrequently the nail punches a piece out before it.

Care of Winter Apples.

The way most farmers save their winter apples is to hole them up like potatoes, or pile them up in a cave or cellar. By this method you not only lose much valuable time, but lose very many apples, and what you do keep over winter are in bad condi-tion. Apples may be kept in barrels that are quite open, but the best and cheapest way is to keep them in crates or boxes made in the following manner: The ends or head pieces should be ten or twelve inches wide by fifteen or eighteen long; they can be sawed or split; nail your boards on the bottom and sides, leaving places for ventilation. Have your boards When you gather your apples from the trees put them in these boxes (be careful not to bruise them) and lay the boxes on each other in your apple houses. Two men will handle these with ease. You can look your apples over in these boxes at any time with but little labor.

you are ready to ship, just nail a board over the top and you are ready. In this way you get your apples in market in good candition and handle them but once. Have your house as cold as possible at all times, without freezing- Vermont Farmer.

How Clover Improves the Soil.

Professor Noelcko explains the action of The Weekly Sun. clover in, increasing the fertility of soil as follows: All who are practically acquainted with the subject must have seen that the best crops of wheat are produced by being preceded by crops of clover grown for seed. I have come to the conclusion that the very best preparation,the very best manure, is a good crop of clover * A vastamount of mineral manure is brought within reach of the corn crop, which othewise would remain in lock-up condition in the soil. The clover plants take nitrogen from the atmosphere, and manufacture it into their own substance, which, on decomposition of the clover roots and leaves, produce abundance of ammonia. In reality, the growing of clover is equivalent, to a great extent to manuring with Peruvian guano; and in this paper of mine I show that-you obtain a larger quantity of manure than in the largest dose of Peruvian gu-ane which a farmer would ever think of applying. * * * It is only by care-ful investigating subjects like the one under consideration that positive proofs are given, showing the correctness of intelligent observers in the field.

HERE are the latest Irish agricultural statistics. Three thousand eight hundred enumerators, selected the Royal Irish con-stabulary and the Dublin Metropelitan police, having visted six hundred thousand holdings, declare a decrease of 134,915 acres in the extent of land under crops last year. The decrease in cereal crops is 23,361 acres. The returns of emigrants from the several ports of Ireland for the first seven months of 1872 record an increase of 5,840 persons over the same number of months of 1871. In 1861 the number of fourth-class houses in Ireland, each of which had but one room for the entire family of every age and sex, was 89,374. These were occupied by half a million human beings. Mr. Froude thinks that home rule would be the ruin of Ireland for shore the world. ruin of Ireland. Is she not ruined already?

in England throughout the summer and autumn that the cereal produce was inferior in quantity and quality. France, on the other hand, was favored with a good harvest. Mr. James, a practical and literary agriculturist, formerly M. P. for a Scotch borough, calculates that until next Scotch borough, calculates that until next Scotch borough. Calculates will have THE year 1872 was so extremely rainy for their breadstuffs to the extent of 12, 000,000 quarters of wheat and floor, but 000,000 quarters of wheat and floor, but that as France will not be a competitor in this, prices will be kept within reasonable limits, so that the four pound loaf will be obtainable by British consumers during 1873 at the usual price—from 14 to 16 cents. The grain and flour required will be supplied by Prussia, Belgium, Will be supplied by Prussia, Belgium, Holland, and the Unit'd States.

Is claimed by our best Judges, to meet the necessity so ong feit, of a Contenient, Practical, Durable Gate, so indowed by the highest authority in America. Is entirely different from and has many advantages over any other Gate ever invented. Is Cheap and easily constructed and for convenience cannot fail to pleass all. Can be opened and closed without the opperator changing hapasition, litting or puilling a pound, and if desired can be easily arranged to be opened and closed without dismonnting. It occupies no more ground when opened then two posts without gate, this making it very desirable over any other Gate to farmers and those living in Villages and Towns. Is in order every day in the year, no snow to shove its winter. It cannot say or get out of repair dross the undersigned, who will say for a possible visit the several Countles in Pennsylvania and adjoining States, for the purpose of exhibiting and introducing its same.

Farmers and enterprising men generally, will do well to give this special attention, as this Gate certainly will go into general use.

NATURE'S GREAT REMEDY FOR THE

Throat and Lungs.

It is gratifying to us to inform the public the Dr. L. Q. C. Wishart's Pinc Tree Tar Cordial, for Throat and Lung Diseases, has gained as enviable reputation from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and from thence to some of the first cific coast, and from thence to some of the first families of Europe, not through the press siene, but by persons actually benefitted and cured at his office. While he publishes tess, so say our reporters, he is unable to supply the demand—It gains and holds its reputation—

First. Not by stopping cough, but by loosening and assisting nature to throw off the unhealthy matter collected about the throat and bronchial tubes, which cause irritation.

Second. It removes the cause of irritation (which produces cough) of the nucus membrane and bronchial tubes, assists the lungs to act and throw off the unhealthy secretions, and purifies the blood.

Third. It is free from squills, inbella, piecela, and opium, of which most throat and lung re, medies are composed, which allay cough only, and disorganize the stomach. It has a soothing effect on the stomach, acts on the liver and kidneys, and lymphatic and nervous regions, thus geathing to every part of the system, and in its invigorating and purifying effects it has gained a reputation which to must held above all others in the market.
