A Coroner's inquest was held before Esquire Hall, of Jackson, on Saturday, 15th ult., under somewhat peculiar circumstances. Tue body examined was that of a boy named Leonard, aged about fifteen years, who died on or about the 10th of January last, after a few days illness. It was alleged by the father and friends of young Leonard that his sickness and death were the results of injuries inflicted by a schoolmate about his own age, named Lewis, while engaged in a scuffle, or fight, at school, near their homes in Thomson.

"PAIN-KILLER"—There can be no necessity, at this late day, for the press to speak in com-mendatory terms of this remarkable medicine, The body of the deceased was exhumed and taken from the Cemetery about one mile north of Jackson Corners.

Dr. Orchard, of Jackson, and Dr. Birdsall, of Susquehanna, were the medical witnesses, and made the post-mortem examination. The body was in a good state of preservation.

The testimony of the medical witnesses was that the body presented no evidence of injury to the parts examined, which were alleged to have been injured. The testimony of other witnesses was deemed insufficient to warrant turther proceedings, and Lewis was discharged.
