Warning to flotel Keepers.

The latest swindle on hotels is thus described: A sharper enters the hotel, walks up to the office counter and carefully scrutinizes the satchels and valises in the office. Selecting one of the most valuable in appearance he goes to the depot and from there dispatches the hotel morter hurriedly to the hotel for his baggage, searing the description to conform with the one selected at the hotel. As guests frequently send for their baggage in this manner the hotel clerk was specifically hands the described baggago to the portor, who takes it to the depot and hands it to the third. A Pathetic Incident.

A pathetic incident occurred during the floods at Binghamton. A Mrs. Fox, residing near the cemetery gate, heard, in the morning a peculiar monning in the direction of the cemctery. Going there she found a little child waist deep in water and weeping near a head-stone, which marked a lonely grave. Upon being questioned she said that she lived a long way off. She had heard that the graves were cover ed by water, and she feared that her mother' would be washed away. So she went to keep her poor watch and ward beside it. She was kindly cared for and returned to her motherless

Odd Fellows' Festival at Montrote. The 26th of April has come to be regarded as Odd Fellows' day, and this year was celebrated cinity in a hearty and enthusiastic manner. At an early hour of the day a few faithful ones were busy making the needful preliminary arrangements at the Hall, as it is no small matter to set the tables for more than a hundred. As the hours of the afternoon began to increase there were constant accessions to their numbers until the hour of the feast, when one hundred and twenty souls were found to be in attend
