Notes About Town.

The Montrose Republican advocates a "status quo" of the editor of this paper. We are proud of such a sentiment, because, coming from that source, we know it will be as promptly as a soldier's "March On!"

Personal.

Hon. Galusha A. Crow has returned from Texas, for a visit to friends and to attend to some business for his railroad and land company. He looks much larger and better since he gave up politics and joined the land speculation company.

Decision Against the Miners.

Judge Dreher has rendered his decision in the arbitration between the miners and the operators in this region. His decision is not what the miners wanted, but it is what the law requires.

Hard to Exceed.

Jeremiah Pierce, of Erie county, New York, has a herd of 17 cows, that give 300 pounds of milk per day. The milk is delivered at a factory for one and one quarter cents per pound, and consequently each cow makes $3.75 per day.

For the Boys and Girls.

Boys and girls, if you wish to astonish any member of the family or any coming guests by some party allowing them to discover their initials neatly printed on a pear, peach or apple, see our advertisement for the "Fruit Marking" paper.

A Fight in High Life.

An unfortunate quarrel and assault took place, on Saturday afternoon, on Franklin street, near Market, between Col. Hoyt and Wm. P. Miner.

An Interesting Letter.

A letter from a girl now going to school at Vassar College, contains information of a startling character. After a request to send her down a box of soft slate pencils and gum drops to eat, she says: "We do have such fun here. All the girls are made to participate in out-door exercises, and we row on the lake, ride horseback, turn handspins, run foot races, and have heaps of fun."

Inks for Postal Cards.

The desire to get the benefit of the cheap postal service which the new cards furnish, and at the same time to avoid the publicity which they entail, has led to the exercise of much ingenuity.

Look Out for the Swindler.

To Old Fellows. We take the following from one of our neighboring exchanges: An impostor, calling himself Geo. Myers alias James Stewart, and giving a new name for every occasion, has been traveling in the South and West, for nearly four years, swindling the members of various Lodges by representing himself at different times a member of Quincey Lodge, No. 285, Ohio, and Wayne Lodge, No. 610, Pennsylvania.

Female Physicians.

At a late meeting of the Medical Society Mrs. Mary Fussell, of Media, presented her claim for membership in the society. The meeting, it appears, adjourned without admitting her, holding the matter over for consideration, which the Media American says looks ominous and further adds: "If she is qualified, and we have no doubt of it from the circumstances surrounding her, we can see no good reason for any hesitancy in the case."

A Singular Will.

A will is registered in Waynesburg, Pa., which contains the following remarkable clause: I also give to my beloved wife one red cow, three year old bull, and the remainder of the kitchen and household furniture."

Scotened.

Henry Campbell, who was tried by the United States Court in Williamsport week before last, for robbing the post-office at Towanda last winter, was found guilty and sentenced to eight years imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary, pay a fine of $200, and the costs of prosecution.

Morning Glorias.

These beautiful garden favorites are coming out now and are hanging their graceful bells in festoons under the chamber windows. They require but little care—only a few inches of soil and a string—when they will climb and run riot all over the walls and lattice, piazzas or porches, gladdening the hearts of the children and greeting you with bright welcome as you step out of doors in the morning. Can anything more beautiful than a well trained trellis of mixed and variegated morning glories, blue, pink, and white, with their slender tendrils and bell shaped petals handsome as an Etruscan vase and truer in its lines of beauty, for its maker and designer is God.

The Pleasures of Vacation.

The pleasures of vacation are various. The reunion at home—the warm greeting of fond parents, brothers, and sisters—make vacation what it ought to be, pleasant; but this alone is not vacation. The body as well as the mind—tired and worn out by the long term of study—needs rest. Just as the eye, by looking at an object constantly, fails to convey clear impressions to the brain, so the mind and body, by long and constant study, become fatigued and sometimes exhausted. When the mind and body are in this condition they need rest; and when a person has vacation he ought not to read books or engage in any sedentary employment, but exercise himself, run, walk, ride, anything to exercise the muscles and to restore the body from its fatigued or exhausted condition to perfect health. Let our young friends bear this in mind.

Roving Rascals Ruralizing.

The necessity of reading a live newspaper is nowhere more forcibly illustrated than in the rural districts, which are swarming with swindlers in quest of victims. The well informed farmer, who carefully reads the current news of the day, is thoroughly guarded against imposition, and with him they fall in the accomplishment of their designs. Not so with the ignorant farmer, who seems to read a paper to enlighten his mind and acquaint himself with the occurrences throughout the State.

A Dastardly Outrage.

On the night of the 5th inst., at Fall Creek, Bradford county, we learn from the Bradford Argus, that a little girl, only about 3 years of age, was inveigled by some dandy in human form away from her father's house, and ravished, and to prevent an exposure of the perpetrator, murdered and thrown into a swamp. The murdered body was not discovered until Monday morning, although the entire community kept up a search for it. On the discovery of the body, and learning the nature of the little girl's death, the staid and industrious miners became almost frantic. Believing that circumstances pointed to one William Jones, a young man and peer in the neighborhood, he was at once arrested, and after a hearing before Justice McCroney was committed to answer the charge of murder at the next term of Court. The prisoner was afterwards taken possession of by the crowd, who believed in his guilt, and for the interference of the more cool-headed would have been hanged on the spot. His limbs were pinioned, his rope placed about his neck, and he was once suspended. The prisoner at the time protested his innocence, even in the face of death. The "witness" and the jury were called on to endorse the back of a piece of paper stating a reason that it must go into the hands of the county auditors. The next thing the farming community is attached to a note promising to pay a certain amount to the swindlers. Half a dozen or more persons have been victimized recently in the rural districts by this operation.

The Accounts of County Treasurers.

The judgment of the court of Dauphin county in the case of John Glatfelter vs. the Commonwealth has been reversed by the Supreme Court and a decision rendered in favor of the plaintiff. The following is the statement of the case: John Glatfelter was treasurer of York county for the years 1898 and 1899, and received the military taxes of these years. He paid out of his own pocket the orders of the county commissioners and his military accounts were separately audited by the county auditors at the end of each year. At the end of the year he paid the balance in his hands to John M. Delfin, his successor in office, and received back his bonds. In the month of August, 1871, the auditor general settled accounts against Mr. Glatfelter, charging him with military tax amountsing to $3,472.15. He took an appeal from this settlement, and the case was tried at Harrisburg in the spring of 1872. On the trial of the case Judge Pennock instructed the jury that the action of the county auditors was void, the law giving them jurisdiction being repealed, that their settlement was no defense, and that the auditor general had power to rectify the accounts. The jury found in favor of the Commonwealth $2,208.85. Mr. Glatfelter took a writ of error, and the Supreme Court decided that the county auditors are the proper parties to settle the accounts of county treasurers of the military fund and other state taxes, and they, having settled Mr. Glatfelter's accounts, from which no appeal was taken by the Commonwealth, according to law, their action is conclusive, and consequently the auditor general had no right to rectify the accounts.

Letter From Indiana.

Editor MONTROSE DEMOCRAT.—Having a few leisure moments, I thought of no better advantage I could take of them, than penning a few lines to the DEMOCRAT, which comes to my hands, when I am a sojourner in the West. When I peruse its columns, it awakens many pleasant remembrances of old Susquehanna county, in my mind; for there it was I first received my youthful training. And I am proud to acknowledge, that the influences and impressions made upon my mind and character, by one of Susquehanna's best and truest citizens, has guided me along the journey of life, even among strangers, in a strange land, it has been to me what riches cannot buy. Hence my thoughts often wander to the home of my youth. I wish to say a few words to the young men who are about you, my schoolmates and associates, in days past. What's in a Name. How few of the young men of this age realize there is an influence in it in shaping our conduct, and forming our opinions concerning persons and things with which we have to do. Young men, stepping out upon the threshold of life, with everything bright and hopeful in your future, let me advise you, above all things else, next to devotion to that religion which is to smooth your pathway to the tomb, avoid taking the first step in any of the evil and temptations that may be thrust into your path. There is only one talisman—no safe guard that will protect you from the seductive power of truth, honor and sobriety, as well as of safety, and then you may know that so far as interest, pleasure, and the many temptations of the world are concerned, their wares may dash against you, but they will dash in vain. Young men, you have a talent if no more, to improve, and which will soon be demanded, whether hidden or revealed. In your classical studies, you will see yourself, at the same school, sitting on the same benches, with the greatest philosophers and statesmen of ancient and modern times, and the mathematics unfold for your inspection the architectural plans of the universe. The laws which are the skeleton of the universe. Then the first impressions upon our minds should be correct, concerning our character and life. These impressions should be ever kept fresh in our memories, like those we first obtained when folded to the beating bosom of a mother. Hence it is that no mortal name with us has such power as the name mother. It's music is sweet in every ear, and captivates every heart. It reaches out its enchanting influence.

New Style of Pickled Oysters and Clams at the Keystone Saloon.

All people would undoubtedly prefer a fine head of hair grown upon their own heads, to being bald, or wearing false hair, and it has been the study of many of our learned men to find remedies to restore the hair when it has fallen out, and renew its color after it has become gray. Such a remedy has been found and is now offered to the world under the name of Hall's Vegetable Sillian Hair Renewer, and, to verify this statement, read the following: This is to certify that I was very bald, in fact, my head was perfectly smooth; and it is completely restored to its natural color and growth. I have now used four bottles of Hall's Vegetable Sillian Hair Renewer, and the hair has grown out all over my head, and is now a natural growth. SCRIPO, JENKINS CO., INC. Personally appeared before me Bartley Conlon, and upon oath, says the above statement is true. M. G. BUTLER, Notary Public.

THE MARKETS.

New York, Saturday, July 19. Money is more in demand, Corporations are again in the market, but the applications from business men are few, which keeps the rates high. The banks are accommodating themselves for the fall campaign, and this is an example which may well be followed by all business men. Rates vary very little from day to day. We still quote loans on call at 5 1/2 per cent.—Time loans range between 6 1/2 per cent. and 8 per cent. will be followed by all business men. Prime rates could be placed readily at 6 per cent. while those less known and approved rates would be followed by all business men. Gold was firm, but not active. It opened at 116 1/2, and declined to 115 7/8, but afterwards receded 116 1/2, and closed finally without change at 116. Sterling exchange, 12 1/2. Bid. Ad. Gold, 116. Silver, 116. U. S. 1881, 116.
