Notes about Town.

We had an Angel in town last week. He came from Binghamton though.
Who will be the next Treasurer? We know some people who would like to know.
E. W. Smith, Esq., showed us last week some corn, of his own raising, that was nearly large enough for roasting.

Local Option Arrests.

A large number of hotel and saloon keepers have been arrested in Williamsport, for selling liquor without license.
Drunkenness has largely increased in that place since "no rum" prevailed at the election. It is stated that such is the result elsewhere—Columbia.

Sale of Scranton Coal.

The regular monthly sale of Scranton coal took place on Wednesday, at the sales-room, Exchange Place, New York, John H. Draper & Co. being the auctioneers.
The quantity offered was 75,000 tons. The attendance was large and the bidding spirited.

Bradford Railroad.

John S. Madden, President of the Bradford County Railroad together with Wm. H. Morgan and his corps of Engineers have nearly completed the survey from Binghamton to Canton, via Towanda, which produces quite a different result from the representations of grade from Towanda to Canton.

Notes from New Milford.

Haying is nearly done.
Late oats are struck with rust.
Winter wheat and rye is cut and in the barn.
The late rains have made the hill roads quite bad.
The late rains will make abundance of fall feed.

What are the Good Templars about these Local Option times?

The changing of the road called "Mot's Hill" is being agitated again.
People will not change their neighborhood customs to please new comers.
H. VanCott has built a nice house in the southern part of the borough.
Some men will let their haying go and look over the fence to see their turkeys grow.

Spontaneous Combustion.

A curious instance of spontaneous combustion is reported from New Hampshire. A physician had prescribed linseed oil and camphor for a severe pain in the chest, and the patient complained of the heat soon after its application on Boston butting. In about an hour he protested he could bear it no longer, and before it could be removed it took fire, actually blazing up and burning the poor fellow's neck severely.

State Convention.

John Handley of Stratton, Hon. H. B. Wright, Stanley Woodward, John Lynch, Major E. A. Hancock, of Wilkes-Barre, Dr. Fruit, of Hazleton, Payne Pufflitter, of Wyoming, A. B. Dunning, of Dunning's, D. L. Chapin, of New Columbus, and Dr. S. W. Trimmer, of White Haven, have been appointed a committee to confer with the state committee and make arrangements for the reception of the Democratic State Convention, which assembles in Wilkes-Barre, August 27th.

Better Come Down.

An editor thus reasons with a man who don't subscribe: Now I tell you, Squire, the day will come when somebody will write a long eulogy on your life, character, etc., and the printer will set it in type with a heavy black ink and under it, and with all your riches this will be done for you as a grave for a pauper. Your liberality, wealth, and all such will be spoken of, but the printer, as he arranges the type, will remark: "Poor, mean devil, he never took the paper, and is now swindling the printer out of his funeral notice."

Killed on the Railway.

While the excursion train from the circus at Tunkhannock was returning last evening, and when about five miles from Tunkhannock, Mr. Samuel Henstock, of the firm of Henstock & Hawley, Montrose, was thrown from the cars and almost instantly killed. He, with some others, was riding on the engine, and as near as we can ascertain, he attempted to get upon the tool box to the tender, and fell over backward, striking on his head and shoulders, and he was taken up, but lived but a few moments. There was a cut on the back of his head, and it is supposed his neck was dislocated. He leaves a wife and family.

A Swindler.

A few days ago a tall, well-formed, nicely-dressed and generally well appearing man, blond in complexion, and with a full beard, attempted to swindle the Second National Bank of Elmira out of $5,000, on a bogus certificate check and a New York letter of credit. He was put off a short time, and the telegraph called into requisition, when it was learned that he was a swindler, but as he did not again put in his bland appearance at the bank he is probably still at large, and his financial figuring should be carefully guarded against by all cashiers and tellers.

Death of Mrs. Linderman.

On Friday, July 27th, the remains of the late Mrs. Linderman, wife of Dr. G. B. Linderman, and daughter of Hon. Asa Packer, who died at her residence in South Bethlehem, on the afternoon of the 22d ult., were taken to Marsh Creek for interment.
A special train left Bethlehem on the Lehigh Valley road at 12:40 p. m., bearing the remains and friends of the deceased. The whole train was heavily draped with mourning for one who was so much loved and esteemed by all who knew her.

May Fever.

"May fever" has not yet been reported in this country, but it is a disease which has been reported in England from the month of August. The part attacked by the disease is the vicinity of the open part of the nostrils, which is sometimes accompanied by a thin watery discharge, and is accompanied by a headache, but which is not attended by any fever, and is usually attended by a sore throat, and is usually attended by a sore throat, and is usually attended by a sore throat.

The Linden Murder.

The murder committed at Linden, near Williamsport, has features about it that mark it as one of the most terrible occurrences that ever took place in this part of the country. An Italian man and his wife by the name of McBride, both of them over seventy years of age, reported to one Nelson E. Wade, who was their life insurance agent, that they had been robbed by a man who was with them on the night of the 15th inst. Wade was arrested in Williamsport on the 17th inst., and was taken to the jail, where he was held on the charge of having committed the murder, basing it on the fact that he had it all alone, and claims as by no means the first crime of the kind that he has committed, and he is a man of a very bad character, and is a man of a very bad character, and is a man of a very bad character.

Summer Play.

Nothing can be more cruel and nothing more foolish than to place children where they must be dressed every day in fresh and fashionable clothes and their freedom to play curtailed for the sake of appearance. What childhood needs is perfect freedom among the things of nature—freedom to romp, to make mud pies, to hop, to row, to fish, to climb trees, to chase butterflies, to gather wild flowers, to live out of the doors from morning until night, and to do all those things that innocent and healthy childhood delights in, in cheap, strong clothes provided for the purpose. Exactly that which childhood needs manifold and womanhood needs—perfect liberty and perfect carelessness—no, wretchedly the dweller by the sea goes inland city go to the sea, he should seek some spot unvisited by those devoted to fashionable display, and pass his time in unrestricted communion with nature, and in whose pursuits and amusements which, without let or hindrance, perform the office of recreation.

Railroad Improvement.

In every car on the Connecticut River railroad there is a box overhead, at one end, in which is contained the name of the next station, which it is the duty of the brakeman to change as they leave the stations. And it goes further, it states where they connect with other roads. As the change is made a bell strikes twice, which attracts the attention of the passengers, the next station, and so on. This passenger always knows the name of the stopping place, and also if it connects with any other railroad. An arrangement of this kind would add vastly to the accommodation of the traveling public if adopted by the railroads in this state.

Change of Front.

Heretofore it was held by everybody, says the Luzerne Beacon, that Railroad companies were liable and should pay the damages for killing cattle by their cars, whenever and wherever the road was endangered by a reasonably good fence. Gradually this doctrine of responsibility has been changing front, until the damages are to be paid by the owners of the cattle, and not by the railroad companies.

Business Change.

A change in the proprietorship of that ever popular hotel, the Ward House, has taken place. Mr. C. M. Koon has purchased the interest of J. William Means, has put in charge of the hotel his son Byron Koon and G. H. Frink, (formerly clerk) both of whom are well known to the traveling public as genial and affable gentlemen. C. M. Koon is interested in the Ward House at Scranton, but intends giving a portion of his time to the Ward House. That the hotel, under this new arrangement, will maintain its high standing is self-evident to those who are acquainted with the young gentlemen who have assumed the responsibility of keeping up its reputation. The retiring partner, J. W. Means, retires with the best wishes for the prosperity of the hotel, to which he has given his labor in the past. My property attend the new regime—Bradford Argus.

Personal.

We had a social chat on our Sanetion, on Friday last, with H. A. Beebe, editor of the Evening Gazette. Mr. Beebe came to see his brother, Mr. O. S. Beebe, of this borough, who has been confined to his bed for some time, by sickness, and his wife is also quite ill.

Advertising.

Their understanding something about the value of advertising in New York. We see it stated that one year's advertising will cost of $75,000 for one year's advertising, and that earnings resulted from that advertisement were $50,000. It is a fair estimate for those who are not in the habit of advertising. It is a fair estimate for those who are not in the habit of advertising. It is a fair estimate for those who are not in the habit of advertising.

Letter from Wyoming Valley.

Editors of Democrat—Thinking that some of your subscribers may be somewhat ignorant as to the true and faithful history of the Wyoming Valley, I have written you a few lines from here, which if of interest, I will send you some, and if you do not desire the following worthy publication, pass them over to the waste basket, but if you think them of interest, you may receive them from the same source.

State Teachers' Association.

The following railroad arrangements have been made for the accommodation of teachers who purpose attending the state association to meet in Pittsburg on the 12th, 13th and 14 of August:
Persons having orders from the ticket agent of the association can procure excursion tickets at the principal stations on the Cumberland Valley, Belvidere, Delaware, North Pennsylvania, Northern Central, Philadelphia and Erie, Pennsylvania, and Danville, Hazleton and Wilkes-Barre.

Postoffice Department.

Extracts from a further abstract of rulings and instructions, compiled from the official records of the Postoffice Department for June, 1873:
When a newspaper, regularly sent by mail, is refused by a subscriber, or not called for by him for one month, the postmaster at the office of delivery should write a statement of the facts to the postmaster of the mailing office, to be conveyed by him to the publisher.

The Markets.

The money market was unchanged in condition. The rates for money on call are extremely easy, and with this is coupled a fairly active movement in time loans at higher rates. Lenders are disposed to keep their funds well in hand, waiting patiently for the time when they can be more profitably used. Call loans are quoted at 5 1/2 per cent, mainly at the former figure. Time loans on stocks run at 7 1/2 to 8 per cent. Railroad paper the same. The commercial paper market ranges between 7 and 8 per cent, for prime, and for that classed as good between 8 and 12 per cent.
