Those who can not attend the entertainment, can nevertheless show their good will by purchasing tickets. The Secretary of the Montrose Railway Company, in answer to our criticisms last week gives us the following reason why the road is not completed. He says, that the rolling mill where the Lehigh Valley Company purchased the iron, suspended work about the first of last October, and that they have been unable to get the iron. He informs us that the rolling mill will resume work about the first of January next, and the iron will then be forthcoming --These rails are a special pattern and cannot be procured elsewhere. This appears to be a valid excuse as to the living of the iron, but why does not contractor Marcey complete the grading and build the trestling, and be in readiness to by the iron when it does come ? The suspen sion of the rolling mill, need not suspend the grading. When the road was completed to Springville and above, the iron was a great a mount of it haid on the snow and on the frozen ground. If the same zeal in grading had been manifested toward its completion to Montrose, yore." the road might be running here very soon after January first, unless we have too much snow needed ditch in front of his mansion, on Return and ice. We do not propose to mince matters in the interest of any one Montrose and vicinity have done their full share toward the building and completion of tuis road, and the road will be obligated to the people and business men of Montrose for the greater amount of freighting business. Now we plainly say to the Railway company, that less they manifest more zeal in the complenament to the store. tion of the road to Montrose, than they have for some time past, they will invite successsful competion and drave away freighting business as they already have done.
