Notes About Town.

Clean your side-walks.

Several inches of snow fell last night.

Our thanks are due Gov. Hartranft, for an early copy of his message, published in pamphlet form.

It is said the Montrose Railway will run on the Montrose Railway. Wonder if the rolling mills started January first?

Geo. C. Hill & Co. have greatly improved the Keystone saloon, by enlarging, painting, and otherwise remodeling it.

We give on our first page an original "Adventure," written by one of our young friends in this county. Its conclusion will appear in our next.

Philip Hart, the Public Avenue butcher, killed a six year old steer on Monday last, which, when dressed and quartered, weighed 1,214 pounds.

Court convened on Monday last, Judge Streeter, presiding. Judge Morrow was also here yesterday, to hear some motion and argument under rules of last Term.

At a meeting of Rough & Ready Fire Co., No. 1, held January 5th, 1874, a vote of thanks was unanimously tendered to J. R. Tompkins, the Montrose Cornet Band, and others, for their valuable assistance at the late entertainments.

The ladies of the M. E. church held their supper and festival, as advertised, on Monday evening last. A splendid supper was served, with oysters, ice-cream, etc., as extras. The attendance was large, and a very enjoyable time was had. We have not been informed of the amount of the receipts.

The length of the Governor's Message, which we give in full, precludes other editorial matter this week. We hope our readers will peruse it carefully, as we deem it a clear and sensible statement of the affairs of the commonwealth, the best that has emanated from the Gubernatorial source in a number of years.

The Grand Jury was organized on Monday last, with Ex-Sheriff W. T. Morley, foreman. The case of O'Mara and Irving was immediately brought before them, as to the murder of Mary O'Mara, the sister of the accused, and an indictment was found. It will be remembered that at last Term they only indicted for the murder of the mother.

The winter term of the Montrose Public School commenced last week, the session opened with an unusual large number of scholars, which shows the increased popularity the school is commanding under its present Principal. The number of students from different parts of the county is considerably increased, and largely in excess of last year.

We attended another of those "clinics," with the doctors, on Wednesday last, under the hospitality of Dr. W. L. Richardson and wife. The "subject" for the occasion was a fine roasted turkey with all the "collaterals," and our host and hostess had spared no pains in catering to our carnivorous desires. We made post mortem examination of the part assigned us by the Dr., and pronounced it in a very healthy condition when we commenced, but it was in a sadly demoralized state as the close. We noticed parson Miller in our left, and parson Miller's wife on our right, rendered about the same verdict, as well as the rest of the doctors, and although our attention was called pretty closely to our own part, yet we think it would be difficult to tell which one was most expert in laying bare the blanks, the parson, the doctors, or the editor. We are certainly grateful to friend Richardson and wife, that neither their social moral or physical ~~ailments~~ prevented the parson and his wife, nor the editor and his wife from being present at so enjoyable a festival with the doctors. It will long be remembered.

A large and complete Grange of the Order of Patrons of Husbandry was instituted at the Tarbell House, Montrose, on Friday afternoon, January 9th, by S. W. Buck, Deputy of the National Grange. This is the first organization of the kind in Susquehanna county, and contains the following ladies and gentlemen as its charter members: R. S. Searle, Horace Brewster, Apollos Stone, L. C. Smith, O. M. Hall, E. L. Cool, J. R. Lyons, Kirby Bunnell, John S. Tarbell, I. G. Lake, G. B. Johnson, D. A. McCracken, N. S. Harrison, J. W. Allen, F. H. Hollister, Myron M. Mott, Harrison Harrington, John L. Hunter, Charles J. Hollister, Mrs. Margaret Lake, Mrs. A. J. Hall, Mrs. Sarah A. Bunnell, Mrs. Lavinia B. Stone, Mrs. Ellen E. Searle, Mrs. M. E. Tarbell, Mrs. Alice G. McCracken, Mrs. A. E. Lyons, Mrs. B. A. Allen, Mrs. E. J. Catlin.—A full list of officers were chosen for the year, as follows: Roger E. Searle, Master; M. L. Catlin, Overseer; H. Brewster, Lecturer; Apollos Stone, Steward; L. C. Smith, Assistant Steward; O. M. Hall, Chaplain; Enoch L. Cool, Treasurer; J. R. Lyons, Secretary; Kirby Bunnell, Gate Keeper; Mrs. Margaret Lake, Ceres; Mrs. Sarah A. Bunnell, Flora; Mrs. Lavinia B. Stone, Lady Assistant Steward. This, the first Grange, begins its existence under the most favorable auspices, and will undoubtedly be one of the best subordinate Granges in Pennsylvania. It has the material and the ability.

We wish, Messrs. Editors, to express our thanks, through your excellent paper, to the good people of Harford and of South Gibson, for their kind tokens of regard in the shape of Christmas presents, consisting of two turkeys, Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, a dress, glove and many other articles both ornamental and useful, worth in all over $40. Bless the givers!

H. G. HARNED.
N. A. HARNED.

Harford, Jan. 5th, 1874.

Circulating Conference.

The Circulating Conference held its meeting for this month on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, in the Harford M. E. Church. Revs. C. M. Prescott, P. B. Van Syckle, B. T. Davies, A. Miller, —— Allen, and others were present and participated in the exercises. Notwithstanding the rain and bad roads the meeting was a success, and much good I trust will result from it.

The next meeting is to be held in the Gibson Presbyterian Church, on the first Tuesday and Wednesday of next month.

H. G. HARNED.

Harford, Pa., Jan. 8, 1874.

Harford Graded School.

The teachers and scholars of the Graded School have been having a vacation since Christmas. It re-opens January 5th. There were three pupils in the High School and seven in the Primary department, that did not miss a day, and were never tardy during the fall term of three months, and some of them lived full two miles from the village. Their names are as follows: High School, Coleman Stearns, Carrie Brewster, Lillie Hine. Primary Department, George Stearns, James Adams, Frank Quinlan, Clark Tiffany, Eddie Osborne, Marion Adams, Katie Quinlan. The per centage of attendance during the past term has been 94. W.

Harford, January 3, 1874.

Fatal Accident.

Calvin Beebe, of Apolacon, a son of Lewis Beebe, while in the woods cutting wood on the 30th ult., and, while trimming up the top of a tree, slipped in some manner, breaking his leg. Being unaccompanied by any one, he was forced to seek assistance for himself, and in the course of two or three hours he succeeded in crawling with hands and uninjured limb through the snow, some distance out of the woods, where he finally succeeded in making himself heard, and was taken to the house. He was so much exhausted by suffering and exertion that he died on New Year's day. It seems still more sad from the fact that he was to have been married the day before he died. He was a young man of good character, and much respected by all who knew him.

Towanda.

The derivation of the name "Towanda," has long been in doubt, says the Bradford Reporter, but the following facts related to the writer by a gentleman now about ninety years of age, and who knew the Indian hunter and circumstances referred to, settles the question:

"Some seventy years ago, in the early history of the Indians in this county, it was said that a noted Indian hunter and trapper among them, used to pass much of his time in quest of game up and down the now Towanda creek, and at the headwaters thereof. He found abundance of beavers, which he caught by his traps. By some misfortune he became lame, and afterward called by the other Indians 'Towanda,' this name signifying in the Indian tongue the peculiar motion in the lame Indian's walk. It was said he remained a long time hunting and trapping up and down the creek, after most of the other Indians had left; from this circumstance, we suppose, arose the name of the 'Towanda creek.

MEMORY."

Franklin, Dec. 25, 1873.

Medical Society Meeting.

The Susquehanna County Medical Society held its annual meeting at Montrose, on the 7th of January inst. On account of the very bad condition of the roads, the attendance was much smaller than on previous occasions. The officers of the Society remain the same as last year.

Drs. Birdsall, Halsey, and D. C. Olney were elected delegates to the State Medical Society, to meet at Easton, in May next.

Drs. Dayton and Brundage were elected delegates to the American Medical Association, to meet at Detroit, on the first Tuesday of June next.

The Society resolved to purchase the History of Susquehanna County, by Miss Blackman, as an addition to its small but valuable library, to which donations are respectfully solicited.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Dr. Richardson for the elegant entertainment at his house, where clerical and editorial, as well as medical vocations, were represented.

Several cases of interest were presented at the Clinic.

Adjourned to meet at New Milford, on the first Wednesday of June next.

OUR CORRESPONDENCE.

(We invite our friends, from different towns, to send us items of interest. Send the facts; we can arrange them.)

FROM NEW MILFORD.

Some "beautiful snow" is falling.

South of the Post Office, "South Side."

The revival still continues with success.

"Warwick" has returned to Binghamton.

Seventeen games in one day, "Micawber."

We noticed our friend R. P. Beardsley, in town last week.

The Good Templars have changed their meetings back to Monday nights.

We hear that Dr. Smith is going to raise and repair his house in the spring.

The next dance at the Town Hall will take place Thursday, January 29th, 1874.

Mr. Whitlock is having his sidewalk on Main street torn up and a new one is being laid in its place.

Quite a large audience assembled at the M. E. Church, to watch the old year out and the new year in.

A large number of the citizens of this place and vicinity will attend Court this week, on the O'Mara trial.

The New Year's Ball at the Eagle Hotel was enjoyed by all present. The best of music was furnished by Hagar's full band.

Mr. E. S. Guild, formerly Universalist minister of Gibson, will preach in the Town Hall next Sunday, January 20th.

A new kind of spelling school has been held in Summerville, under the management of our friend "Micawber." After they get tired of spelling, they have a violin player summoned and some polka and waltzing for the closing ceremonies.

Mr. Jordon Palmer, while working on the sidewalk with another man, had the misfortune of having a spike fly from the hammer of the other man, striking him in the eye, making a dangerous wound. The eye was dressed by Drs. Williams and Harris, and is now doing as well as could be expected.

DOMESTICUS NO. 2.

January 10th, 1874.

The Model Subscriber.

"Good morning, sir; Mr. Editor, how are the folks to-day?
I owe you for next year's paper, I thought I'd come and pay.
And [illegible] again to take it, and this is his money here;
I started down lendin' it to him, and then coaxed him to try it year.
And here is a few little items that happened last week in our town.
I thought they'd look good for the paper, and so I just jotted 'em down.
And here's a bushel of russets my wife picked expressly for you;
A small bunch of flowers from Jennie she tho't she must do something too.
You're doin' the politics badly, as all of our family agree,
Just keep your old goose quill a flappin', and give them a good one for me.
And now you are chuck full of business, and I won't be taking your time,
For things of my own I must tend to—good bye, sir, I believe I will climb."

The editor sat in his sanctum and brought down his fist with a thump,
"God bless that old farmer," he muttered "he's a regular jolly old trump."
And this thus with our noble profession, and thus it will ever be still
There are some who appreciate its labor and some who perhaps never will.
But in the great time that is coming, when Gabriel's trumpet shall sound;
And they who have labored and rested shall come from the quivering ground,
And they who have striven and suffered to teach and enable the race,
Shall march to the front of the column, each one in his God given place,
As they march through the gates of the City with proud victorious treat,
The editor and his assistants will not be far from the head.

Query.

EDITORS OF DEMOCRAT:—We should like to know if the school directors in adjoining towns have been paying ten per cent. for collecting school tax. The school directors of Silver Lake district have allowed the collectors to add five per cent. for their fee, when they collect the tax, and for their good behavior, (or something else,) they allow them to retain five per cent. on amount of duplicate less exonerations making ten per cent for collecting, which is five per cent more than the law allows them, five per cent. more than the directors intended to give them, and is 5 per cent. more than the collectors expected to receive. Now if directors of other districts have been paying ten per cent. for collecting, I presume they will ask the collectors to refund the amount paid to them by mistake, and if the collectors have any conscience and are "kon-she-en-shus," they will refund without delay, and not complain that they have caught the grab fever—which is quite "kon-ta-jus" now a-days—and it would not be constitutional for them to do so under the circumstances. Are we the only tax-payers that violate the law and allow that which we never intended to allow, pay ten per cent. to those that never expected but five per cent. for collecting. O what a generous people. Is it a wonder that we are asked to have our property assessed twenty-five per cent. not at all. Anything to please. Ask and ye shall receive. Will those collectors be as generous as we have been. You have taken from us what does not justly belong to you, and all that we ask of you is to return the amount paid to you by mistake, and you will receive the thanks of the tax payers of Silver Lake township.

TAX-PAYER.

The O'Mara Murder Trial—Drawing of the Jury.

The trial of O'Mara and Irvin was commenced yesterday (Tuesday) morning. The indictment found against them last Term for the murder of the mother, (Margaret O'Mara,) was quashed, upon the ground that the Commissioners were not sworn in before the jury was drawn from the wheel. The prisoners were brought into court to plead to the charge of the murder of Mary O'Mara, the daughter, upon a new indictment, and plead "not guilty" to each count in the indictment, separately, whereupon the Court directed the impanelling of a jury.—W. W. Williams, of Gibson, was first called, and after a thorough examination was rejected, for cause on account of opinion formed. Charles H. Sherman, of Springville, called, Court overruled challenge, but he was challenged by defendants' counsel peremptorily. Oren Barret, New Milford, called, challenged peremptorily. Hugh M. Tingley, Gibson, challenged peremptorily. Henry B. Wood, Lathrop, occupation a farmer, called, and was the first juror drawn, and was immediately sworn. Calvin S. Gay, Auburn, called, challenged peremptorily. O. T. Smith, Susquehanna Depot, occupation upholsterer and undertaker, was the second juror drawn and sworn. W. D. Farnham, Bridgewater, called, challenged peremptorily. James D. Goodwin, Bridgewater, called, challenged peremptorily. William Gardner, Lenox, third juror drawn and sworn, occupation a farmer.—George G. Woodward, Gibson, fourth juror drawn and sworn, occupation farmer. Nicholas Coyle, Montrose, Commonwealth order him to stand aside. Anson B. Hill, Silver Lake, fifth juror drawn, occupation a farmer. William H. Harrison, New Milford, challenged peremptorily. R. R. Brand, New Milford, challenged for cause, and sustained by the Court. George Houghton, Susquehanna Depot, Commonwealth order to stand aside. Wm. E. Taylor, Choconut, Commonwealth's order to stand aside. Robert Westgate, Herrick, sixth juror drawn, occupation a farmer. Geo. H. Stearns, Clifford, challenge for cause, sustained by the court. Alexander H. Stephens, Auburn, challenged peremptorily. Miner Tarbell, Forest Lake, peremptory challenge. Warren Tewksbury, Auburn, peremptory challenge. George F. Holmes, Gibson, peremptorally challenge. Nathaniel J. West, Ararat, seventh juror drawn and sworn, occupation a farmer. Alfred Baldwin, Montrose, eighth juror drawn and sworn. Thomas Maxcy, Clifford, Commonwealth order to stand aside. N. C. Warren, Montrose, challenged for cause and sustained by the Court. Samuel Halsey, Franklin, Commonwealth order to stand aside. Harvey Summers, Franklin, peremptory challenge. Theodore Smith, Montrose, Commonwealth order to stand aside. Henry Griswold, Susquehanna Depot, ninth juror drawn and sworn. C. P. Edwards, Gibson, challenged for cause and sustained by the Court. A. N. Bullard, Montrose, challenged for cause and sustained by Court. W. L. Perry, Brooklyn, challenged for cause, and sustained by Court. Geo. B. Smith, Lathrop, tenth juror drawn and sworn, occupation a farmer. James Murphy, Silver Lake, Commonwealth order to stand aside. Nelson R. Comfort, Harmony, eleventh juror drawn and sworn. W. White, Lenox, peremptory challenge. Lewis W. Beagle, Clifford, challenged for cause and sustained by Court. Ezra Strickland, peremptory challenge. Levi T. Birchard, Forest Lake, twelfth juror drawn and sworn, occupation a farmer.

E. L. Blakeslee, Esq., opened for the prosecution, in which he stated what they expected to prove, which is similar to the statement heretofore given our readers in our columns. Nothing further has transpired as we go to press.

Tuesday evening 5:30, p. m. Court adjourned to meet at 6:45. Will give our readers a full account in our next.

Binghamton, Deposit & Williamsport Railroad.

MESSRS EDITORS:—In your issue of the 31st ult., appeared copied from the Binghamton Democrat, an article which directs the inquiry to me, "what is this about our railroad?" In answer to all friends of the enterprise, I will say that I am not prepared to endorse all the assertions made in that article, but wish they were literally true, and further I wish to call attention to a very important fact connected with our project, and that is a tier of counties west of the river connecting our line with the Hughesville railroad, also that a very strenuous effort is being made to draw the attention of the people of Binghamton to a line known as the Madden route, which, if successful, will leave our line a long state in the future, before anything need be expected that will result to our advantage.—When the survey by Collingwood was undertaken, our knowledge of the country west of the river was very limited, and the subject of a connection with the Hughesville line had not assumed the importance which has since been attached to it. Lured by the glowing accounts of the rich deposits of coal in the mines near Dushore, we were prompted to seek a line that would carry us to the coal, over the shortest practicable route, and the east branch of Sugar Run was adopted as the line for such purpose—later examinations have satisfied that we were mistaken—by taking the south branch of Sugar Run, and running to the summit as described by Pumpelly, we reach that point in no distance of five miles from the forks of the stream, on a grade no heavier than the east branch described by Collingwood, eighteen miles to the north-east. After reaching Pumpelly's summit, we are within five miles of Lovilton, a town lying on the Mehoopeny, which I am informed can be reached on a grade that forms no obstacle to the line in modern engineering. In taking this course we run northward till the grade is reduced to the desired maximum and after crossing the stream turn southward along the hills skirting the stream until the vicinity of Farmon is reached, then taking the south branch of the Mehoopeny, we soon come upon the water shed from which the tributaries of the east and west branches of the Susquehanna river derive many of their sources forming many avenues by which the lower Susquehanna may be reached when such improvements are desired. This point attained, we can reach the Hughesville line to Laporte at some intermediate point, a less distance of some ten or fifteen miles than any line heretofore described. From Wyalusing to Long Pond, a body of water situated upon these highlands, is a distance of about thirty miles, and the route described brings us into its near vicinity. During an interview with our departed friend James E. Hawley, a few days previous to his death, he assured me that certain Philadelphian friends of his, owning lands in this vicinity, informed him that during the oil excitement which prevailed throughout the country a few years since, they as well as others were subjects of mania, and that in all their attempts in prospecting for oil, which were numerous, they invariably found coal in abundance, of a quality very similar to that at Dushore. Collingwood makes this distance from Wyalusing to the mines by way of Dushore, twenty-eight miles, and this new line is to start from the same point traversing the same line to the forks of the stream, a distance of nearly three miles, when the streams diverge at nearly right angle. By the reckonings which I have obtained, I find the distance to Long Pond to be thirty four miles, which will probably be near the length of line necessary to satisfy all cavils that may arise about distance, for a line has been surveyed recently from the east branch of the Susquehanna, passing near the pond to connect with the Hughesville line. After reaching Lovilton we enter a dense forest, abounding in all the varieties of timber, which usually grow upon the tributaries of the Susquehanna, hemlock forming the most conspicuous part. This forest stretches over the greater portion of the country towards Laporte, and is owned by individuals living at points remote from the lands, also each other, as follows, Binghamton, Laporte, Wysaukin, Pittston, Wilkes Barre and Philadelphia. The country adjacent to this forest is sparsely settled, and many of the inhabitants are still occupying the log huts of primitive settlers.

The condition of these citizens is such that it is not reasonable to hope for aid in the way of money, yet they offer to furnish axmen and feed the corps, caring for their wants in general, while engaged in taking the survey. Now I appeal to those who have heretofore so willingly lent their means to the surveying of the first line, whether they would rather lose what has been already done, than to give a little more for the purpose of exploring this wilderness line, which I am assured is a really practicable one, but must have the compass and level applied to waive all doubts in the matter. Binghamton is loth to be first in this undertaking, and should not be asked to begin the movement, but I confidentally assert that if we set the ball to rolling, an impetus will soon be felt from both her energy and money. There are men enough living within two miles of this line, along the Choconut and Wyalusing vallies, who if they would but contribute the nominal sum of one dollar per man, it would survey more than twice the length of the required line. To all the people of the western portion of Susquehanna county, a line of railroad constructed along the last named vallies, would be a boon of untold value to the present generation and future generations would have cause to bless their ancestors, whose money and energy have secured to them the work. I feel that confidence in those who have aided me in compiling the foregoing statement of distances that it is not their intent to mislead or misrepresent. The surveying of this line beyond the river should it prove as represented, will set aside all cavil as to practicability, and secure to us what we have so long desired, a railroad. The eastern portion of Bradford county is as much interested as we are, and should willingly unite with us in this effort, making it not a long pull, but a strong pull, giving us not only the privilege of saying with Mr. Waterman, that officials are chosen, but the authority to assert that a complete organization of officers is made, and that Williamsport and Binghamton will soon be united with bonds of iron, and the "Iron Horse" is soon to roam over the intervening vallies and mountains, freighted with the "black diamonds" of Sullivan, and the softer bitumens of Lycoming, in haste to deposit them in the lap of Binghamton, in exchange for such commodities as suits her trade, and last though not least forming an important link whereby the travel from the east to the west will be materially shortened.

I now conclude by asking the Montrose Republican to copy, also all other papers feeling an interest in developing the resources of the country.

Yours, etc.,
JOHN BRADSHAW.

DONATION.

The members of the Baptist church, and congregation of Montrose propose to give their pastor, Rev. J. E. Cheshire, a donation visit, at the Baptist Chapel, on Thursday evening, Jan. 29th, 1874. Everything will be done to make the occasion one of pleasure and interest to those who may attend. A general invitation is extended.

BY ORDER OF THE COMM.

Montrose, Jan. 10, 1874.-3w.

WORTHY OF NOTE.—An exchange says there is scarcely a day passes that we do not hear, either from persons coming into our office or in some other way of the success of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment in the cure of coughs and colds, so prevalent about town just now.

If we can benefit the readers of the DEMOCRAT any by recommending Parsons' Purgative Pills to be the best antibilious medicine in the country, we are willing to do so. We have had about as good a chance to know as any one.

TO THE AFFLICTED.

Drs. D. D. Harris and L. R. Williams have been stopping in New Milford this county for two or three days. They appear to be gentlemen in every respect, and those who know from personal knowledge say that they fully understand their Art and Science. They will be there again, at the Union Hotel, the 18th, 19th, and 20th days of January, 1874. All persons who are suffering from rheumatics in any form would do well to call on them for immediate relief.

January 14, 1874.-3w.

Centaur Liniment.

There is no pain which the Centaur Liniments will not relieve, no swelling they will not subdue, and no lameness which they will not cure. This is broad language, but it is true. They have produced more cures of rheumatism, neuralgia, lock-jaw, colic, sprains, swellings, caked breasts, scalds, burns, saltrheum, ear-ache, &c., upon the human frame, and of strains, spavin, galls, &c., upon animals in one year than have all other pretended remedies since the world began. They are counter-irritant, all-healing pain relievers. Cripples throw away their crutches, the lame walk, poisonous bites are rendered harmless, and the wounded are healed without a scar. The recipe published around each bottle. They sell as no articles ever sold before, because they do just what they pretend to do. Those who now suffer from rheumatism, pain, swelling deserve to suffer if they will not use Centaur Liniment, white wrapper. More than 1000 certificates of remarkable cures, including frozen limbs, chronic rheumatism, gout, running tumors, &c., have been received. We will send a circular containing certificates, the recipe, &c., gratis, to any one requesting it. One bottle of the yellow wrapper Centaur Liniment is worth one hundred dollars for spavined or sweenied horses and mules, or for screw-worm in sheep. Stock-owners —these liniments are worth your attention. No family should be without them. "White wrapper family use;" Yellow wrapper for animals. Sold by all Druggists. 50 cents per bottle; large bottles, $1.00. C. B. Rose & Co., 53 Broadway, New York.

Castoria is more than a substitute for Castor Oil. It is the only safe article in existence which is certainly to destroy the worms, regulate the bowels, cure wind colic and produce natural sleep. It contains neither minerals, morphine or alcohol, and is pleasant to take. Children need not cry and mothers need not rely.

The American Submerged Pump.

"THE BEST IN THE WORLD."

Double Acting, Non-Freezing. The simplest and most powerful in use. It is proved to be the cheapest, most effective, durable, and reliable, not only for family use, but also for Florists, Factories, Breweries, Distilleries, etc. It is particularly recommended by Insurance Companies as the smallest pump that will throw a full stream through a hose. It is the most effective because it never fails. The most durable because it is composed of but few simple parts of iron (enamelled so as to prevent any contact of brass), and the brass valves have a rubber packing. A child can work it. It never freezes, as no water remains in the pipe when not in action. It will work the coldest water, being placed in the bottom of the well. See opinion of Orange Judd, in the American Agriculturalist, June No., 1873, page 209; also Jan. No., Page 31.

Having purchased the county rights, I still hold my rights to sell purchasers, and to those in want of a pump I am prepared to sell as cheap as they can be sold by the company. Send for circular and price list to

NO MORE DANGER

IN USING

Coal Oil Lamps!

At last an article has been invented that will prevent Coal Oil Lamps from exploding. It can be attached to any Lamp in use already, and the most explosive or burning fluid rendered impossible. So absolutely certain is it, to prevent lamp explosions, that the patentees and manufacturers guarantee it under a forfeit of $1,000 in case of failure, and they authorize their agents to warrant it to make lamps safe from explosion, under any and all circumstances, if the lower end of the Attachment is covered by the oil in the lamp.
