The accompanying excerpt from a scrap book ulled in their fuother's childhood, seems to give oice to the sorrow of her smitten bousehold : "We miss thee, dearest mother, We miss thee every day; Death might have claimed another.

And let our mother stay, Rest, mother rest, thy work is done, Thy life on earth is o'er; Thy Father's voice hath called thee home, And thou shalt weep no more.

'Twas sad to hear thy dying groan, Without the power to saye, 'Twas hard to see the much loved form, Laid in the silent grave.

But Jesus wants thee mother, dear, To dwell with him above, And, though we fain would keep the here, We yield thre to his love.

No sorrow there can cloud thy briv, Or weigh fly spirit down, Thou art a shining angel now, A star in Jesus' Crown."

He wished to present a falschood to make out that we were repudited at home, for the benefit of his "band," and he did it expressly for that purpose, and Homer should not take the responsibility to correct unless he is anxious to be "white-washed" by that committee.</li> <li>Small Pox.</li> <li>Great destitution exists in some of the families, in our city on account of the rarages of the small pox. The prevalence of this disease cut off sopplies heretofore furnished to these poor bauilies, persons charitably disposed being afraid to venture near them. A family named Kearney, consisting of father, mother and seven children, is the latest case brought to light.—Two of the children are now suffering with the loathsome disease, and the family are in the most destitute circumstances. They live on Chester Street, Hyde Park. The poor directors and ansall pox committee should attend to the wants of these destitute persons at once, —</li> </ul>	B. W. PICKERING, C.A. KENNEDY Jackson, Feb. 25th, '74 Strike of the Erle Shopmen, On Monday morning last, at 90°clock a strike was begun by the Erle shopmen of this place, for a regular pay day, a reform in the appren- ticeShip system, etc., which was announced by blowing the whistle and ringing the bells in the shop; whereupon all left the shop, except those deputized by the striking committee to guard the company's property; from injury.— The shopmen went to their homes, dressed themselves in their "store clothes" and congre- gated in groups on the stroker; giving it the ap- pearance of a holiday, but everything was quiet and orderly, all the heator saloons being closed by order of the committee. About 21% o'clock it was announced on the strike that the committee had just had an interview with the Master Mechanic Mr. Fry, and had a report to make. Accordingly they filed by two and threes up to Skinners Hall where ther were met by the committee who read to them a sound, com-	for the purpose of asking a restoration of the ten per cent, taken from their wages last fall. About five hundred were present. The meeting was called to order by Mr. Thomas P. Brown, who stated the object for which they had met. The meeting was organ- ized by elevating Thomas P. Brown as perma- nent president, and David L. Brown, as secre- tary. The president said they should start the movement they had entered upon in earnest and stick to it, so that they would win. Their de- mands were not unreasonable, and they should know no such word as failure. Mr. M. McGinn suggested, as the most feasi- ble way of accomplishing their wish, that a committee be appointed to wait on the master mechanic of both shops, Messrs. Dawson and McKinney, who would present the matter to the company. All they wanted was the ten per cent that a few months ago was taken from their wages. They did not see fit to accede to the committee's request, there was n a internative but to remain idle for a while. The ides of fill-	Chorch, for the benéfit of the sunday Scnool. An interesting variety may be expected, con- sisting of dialogues, declamations, tableaux, and appropriate singing and music. Ten cents ad- mission. By ORDER OF COMM. Fairdale, March 11, 1874.—w1 It is a rare thing that physicians give any countenance to a medicine, the manufacture of which is a secret. About the only exception we know of is Johnson's Anodyne Limment. This we believe, all endorse, and may of them use it in their practice with great success. Persons requiring purgative or pills should be careful what they buy. Some pills not only cause griping pains, but leave the bowels in a torpid, costive state. Parson's Purgative FIIs will relieve the bowels and cleanse the blood without injury to the system. FRUIT ASD ORSAMENTAL TIRES.
