Water Works Exploded.

Our citizens were startled last Tuesday morning about half-past eight o'clock, by a report that one of the boilers of the City Water Works had exploded, and that one of the engineers had been killed. A visit to the scene confirmed the worst fears. The dead and mangled body of engineer Daniel J. Smith was found lying some thirty teet from the place where he was last seen upon a pile of brick and rubbish which which was accountly done and responded to by the best of the place where he was last seen upon a pile of brick and rubbish which was accountly done and responded to by the best of the worst to the worship of God. We would warn boys, who want to be anything in the world, to shun tobacco as a most baneful poison."

That Multiling Manufectory.

Yesterday we were shown the plans on paper for the new knitting manufactory proposed to signs call for a first class building. It is estimapeople of Pittston as a loan to the manufacturing company. Of this sum eleven thousand dollars have already been subscribed.

Yesterday Messrs. John Howell and Jerry Shiffer started for Philadelphia to have an interview with Judge Packer with a view of se-

We naturally hail with delight, anything which may end to add interest to the togu. We believe that this advancement will be preliminary to other enterprises. Financial,

The week closed upon an amply supplied money market, with rates on call still quoted at 3@4 per cent., and prime discounts 5 to 6 and upwards. The bank statement did not show any important changes, but favorable ones for the most part. The loans were contracted $1.070,000, and the deposits were reduced $260,800. The circulation decreased also $180,000, and these so brought down the total liabilities that they were not neutralized by the loss in total reserve of $162,300, made up of decreased legal tenders $2,500, and lower specie $150,800. Consequently the movement of the week eventuated in a net gain to the banks of $124,025.
