But the passage of issue. a like resolution on the part of the Pennsylvania legislature would be exceedingly appropriate, as the senior senator from this state and nearly half of the representatives in the house have declared themselves in tavor of the pernicious policy of inflation.

A Sensible Temperance Man.

Rev. James M. Buckley, pastor of the Summerfield Methodist Episcopal church in Brooklyn, spoke on temperance in the Preacher's Meeting, at New York, the other day. He said he was a temperance man in theory and practice. He thought the women's movement in the West might succeed, because the rowdy element would not dare to disturb them, but in New York and that city, where the court at which succeed, and that city, where the rowdy element would not dare to disturb them, but in New York and that city, where the court at which so many days shall intervine, and take out the wheel the names therein deposite. Tork and that city, where the rowdy element was prominent, he saw no opportunity to bring about success like that attending the movement in the West. So far as the movement in the west when the names in such wheel for the remainder of the current year in the manner now required by law. Hereafter the movement in the west so far as the manner now required by law. the movement in the West. So lar as manner now required by haw, prayer is concerned, he said, it is as powered in the closet as in the street. If he were a storekeeper all the women in the world would not trouble him; their at world would not trouble him; their at the future, persons whose duty it is to set the future. The first the future of the process whose duty it is to set the future. The same as the election in which the verdict was so directly and emphatically rendered by the purpose of connecticut is uttered so significantly.
