EDITOR'S OF DENOCRAT. It has been a long time since I have let you know my whereabouts, but now I will try and make tice somewhat.

About four weeks ago I had an attack Governor Moses, of South Carolina, has beed pronounced infallible. Indicted by a Grand Jury for stealing, a South Carolina, has their own influence and weaken the party and suddenly "shook" myself out of strength by sending any unfit representatives to Harrisburg. The times are out pleasant place, and quite a business place, I judge, as I see several of the young men from Montrose driving business here. Among them I will mention Mr. Fred Warner, in the grocery business, and to judge from the customers going in and out of his place, and the large stock of goods in the store, that he is a very prom-inant business man here. We all notice Mr. "Ad," Watrons, who was formerly from a speech before the New York Liberal Montrose. He is doing a good business too. Several other Susquehanna young med are here in business, which might be mentioned, as an honor to them and the town they came from.

This is an enterprising town, full of young energetic men, who drive public enterprise, as a stranger would immedi-ately see, in coming into the place. It's ately see, in coming juto the place. It's hotels are large and well furnished, and convenient, and kept in the best of style. convenient, and kept in the best of style. The buildings are high and well built-mostly of brick—and all of the latest architecture, and in fact, are quite city-like. This place boasts of two printing offices, which are conducted well and their patronage is good, for people here believe in letting the printer live, or at least half live, both offices having steam presses and everything convenient in a presses, and everything convenient in a printing office. One in particular is better than often found outside of a city, the Waverly Enterprise, and with its gentlemanly editor, Mr. Frank T. Soud-der, it is one of the best weekly papers in the Southern Tier of New York, The village has an Opera House which would be an ornament to a much older town. It is well built and in the latest fashion, and is much appreciated as it is in use nearly every night.

This is also quite a railroad centre : four railroads come in here and connec with the Erre Railway and Lehigh Valle R.
