After the 3d of September it will be too late to register. Voters should remember that the law has been passed since last year.

The whole atmosphere seemed like furnace lest week, and the heat was the most enervating, oppressive and exhausting that has yet been experienced at this point during the present season.;

At Long Branch on Wednesday, Gran was asked if he was a candidate for the third term. He replied that he had nothing to say on the subject. How cruel to keep the organs so long in suspense.

It is a good thing after all to have a brother-in-law. Marshal Bazaine says that his brother-in-law aided in his escape from St. Margurite. Perhaps Grant has been unjustly blamed in fixing the value of brothers-in-law.

The Pennsylvania Republican Convenloud shouts of disapproval.

H. M. Jones, of whose popularity we have heard so much since last winter through the ring organs in this vicinity, being backed by S. B. Chase in spread eagle resolutions, came almost as near being nominated Auditor General at the late Ring convention at Hairisburg as the tellow did to getting married. He asked a girl to have him and she said no. If she had only said yes, he would have been all right. Mr. Jones esked for the of purpose and firm adherence to the convention and the defeat of the oppohe had received 126 he would have been nominated. Pretty close rub wan't it? His record last winter was not quite strong enough or else it was a little too strong.

There is one honest principle in currency and finance by which alone the inflation and repudiation demagogues on every hand and of every discription can be met-and that is the hard money doctrine of the Jacksonian democracy. No enunciation of a policy on the currency that does not come squarely up to that line will command a decent share of pubhe respect. The radical state convention did not date to meet this issue, and adjourned leaving the demands of the public unsatisfied. The democracy of Pennsylvania cannot afford to follow the example of a timorous, timeserving, outworn political organization which is rapidly hastening to decay.

All the high honors conferred upon him by the grand Old Domocratic Party of this county have been entirely unsolicited (the present one with the rest) for which he ought and does feel a just pride and by it he is determined to merit the distinction, to the best of his ability. As to his capability, the party in convention have unanimously expressed themselves and it will be responsible for the prophecy.

The Pennsylvania Republican Convention met in Harisburg, at noon, Wednesday and made the following nominations; E. M. Paxon, Judge of the Supreme Count; A. G. Olmsted, of Potter County, for Lieutenant Governor; Harrison Allen of Warren County, Auditor General; Col. R. B. Beath, of Schuylzill, Secretary of Internal Affairs.

A significant feature was the introduction of a resolution endorsing President Grant, in the event of his candidacy for a third term, which was voted down with loud shouts of disapproval.
