Iowa and Nebraska have been carried by the Republicans as usual but with reduced majorities.

Bartholomew Laporte is on the record as voting for an increase of salary and taking the same, while a member of the Legislature.

Do the tax-payers and hard-fisted yeomanry of this county and district want such a man to represent them in Congress?

To the Democratic Voters.

The battle for constitutional government has begun.

The people of Ohio and Indiana have declared that independence of Radical rule.

The victory at the polls in those States on Tuesday last will be as memorable as the contest at Lexington and Concord.

Self government is triumphant over centralization and usurpation on which the Radical party depends for power.

The next Congress will represent the people.

The rights of the white race will demand the respect of the Federal government.

Ohio and Indiana are sovereign States, and their people, free from tyranny of Radical power, maintain the Constitutional rights of their sister States.

A large majority of the members of Congress elected in these States are Democrats.

Let Pennsylvania follow in the triumphant march to a "restored and un-defiled Constitution."

Every Democratic voter in Pennsylvania should now resolve to go to the polls in November and aid in redeeming the State out of the hands of the spoilers.

Farmers, mechanics, laborers, toilers, merchants, business men, the time of your deliverance has come.

Rise up! Gird yourselves for the contest on the 3d of November, and join in the great victory for constitutional government, gold and silver money, honesty in public trusts, economy in public expenses, free, honest and fair elections, revived industry, peace in the land, and prosperity to all its people. I salute you greeting.

JOHN MILLER, Chairman, Democratic State Central Committee, Headquarters, 1014 Walnut street, October 15, 1874.

Don't be Cheated Twice.

It was the proverb of an honest old Quaker, who had seen much of this world, its sins and follies, and who had profited by his experience: "He who cheats me once is to blame, but if he cheats me twice, it is my fault and stupidity."

Applying this trite proverb to the Republican nominee for Congress, Mr. Laporte, and what is the inevitable conclusion as to his course in Congress if elected?

In 1855 and 1856, he was a member of the Pennsylvania Legislature, and the first time he had an opportunity to show what was in him. Of his notable acts in this capacity, (let us be candid in this examination) we find him VOTING EXTRA PAY INTO HIS OWN POCKET! and using almost his own admission (see Towanda Business Item of Sept. 27,) dishonestly taking mileage for a great many more miles travel than he was entitled to! True, he sneakingly creeps behind other men, and whimperingly pleads his great sorrow for doing so.

There is no safer rule to judge a man's future conduct, than by his past acts; and with this record confessed, what can we expect of him at Washington in these days of back pay, salary graft, Credit Mobilier corruptions?

Men's characters do not change as they grow older, but rather harden and become confirmed. By looking over the Journal at Washington, an abundance of illegal mileage will be found for a precedent, and scores of names recorded in favor of increased salaries and that too by men we can easily call honorable.

Should his thoughtless mind too susceptible to influences effecting his pocket give away to the terrible temptations that will beset him if elected, it will be poor consolation, indeed, to the honest voters of this district, when he manly creeps behind Ben Butler, saying: "HONORABLE men did so! I thought it was right! I know better now! I am sorry I did it!" &c.

VOTERS OF BRADFORD COUNTY!

He who cheats you once is to blame; if he cheats you twice it is your own folly and stupidity.

Can you expect that the candidate for Congress of to-day thinks less of his own pocket than the Legislature of twenty years ago? Does the fact that other men do it, justify the taking of that which belongs to the people; or does age confer the right to charge unlawful fees in traveling to and from attendance upon public duties? Where are the works that give evidence of repentance?

Rather cast your ballot for Joseph Powell, the honest, upright-business man who by industry and merit has risen from the poor, obscure farmer-boy to be trusted, admired and respected by all with whom he comes in contact. Who has come up from among the people—knows well their wants—is thoroughly informed on all subjects—has never wallowed in the dirty pool of politics—who has not spent two years of bargain, sale and dirt, dealing demagoguism, to get his nomination?

Mr. Laporte is every inch a politician has always been hankering for place; never has failed to be a candidate when there was a reasonable chance, and for the two past years has been with might and main whaling away, fighting everybody for the place he thinks has secured. He made debasing and unworthy combinations; was willing to aid and abet men whom he bitterly assailed in the past; and has exhibited a degree of moral cowardice, and submitted to exactions upon the part of his Confessors in permitting himself to be thrice assailed in two years lease of office—provided he could secure the present nomination, unbecoming the dignity of an honorable, high minded man!

FELLOW-CITIZENS!

Look this matter squarely in the face, and pronounce your judgment at the polls on the 3d of November.—Bradford Argus.

Do you Hear the Slogan?

HONESTY & CAPABILITY IS OUR MOTTO.

Terrible Outrages in the West!

IT MAKES OUR EAGLE SCREAM.

"Carry the News to"—Homer.

The most significant and decisive victory achieved by the people since 1857 was that won on Tuesday the 13th, in the great States of Ohio and Indiana.

The latest telegraphic reports estimate the Democratic majority in the former State at about 35,000, and in the latter at about 20,000 to 25,000. The Ohio Democrats elect fourteen, of the twenty members of Congress from that State. In the present Congress the delegation stands thirteen Republicans to seven Democrats. This shows a complete turning of the tables. The congressional delegation from Indiana will probably stand five Republicans to eight Democrats. The atrocious gerrymandering in the formation of the congressional districts deprives the majority in Indiana of their just representation. Nevertheless the Democrats gain five members, the delegation in the present Congress standing ten Republicans to three Democrats. Of the thirty-three congressmen chosen in these two States on Tuesday last at least twenty-two or a majority of eleven are Democrats.

In the present Congress the Republicans have a majority of thirteen in the Ohio and Indiana delegations.

West Virginia gives a Democratic majority of 8,000 and a gain of two congressmen. Last year the delegation stood one Democrat, one Republican and one Independent while now all three are Democrats.

Arkansas gave a majority of over 70,000 for the Democratic State ticket, and the new Constitution.

Such is the verdict of the people of the West upon the issue presented by a radical Congress and the national administration. Such is the response of Ohio and Indiana to the wretched and malignant appeal of the radical politicians to prejudice and hate, and such the voice that goes up from these Democratic empires in condemnation of the paternalism, centralism and Caesarism of the party in power. The popular dissatisfaction with the conduct of public affairs by that party has thus voiced itself so loudly and emphatically as to attract the attention of the people of the whole country. The influence of their election will be felt in every State yet to hold elections. If these States lately bound as it were with hooks of steel to the party of the administration, have found it necessary to sever the bonds which hold them to that party, why should not Massachusetts, New York and even Massachusetts go and do likewise? Neither Ohio or Indiana had a Mann-Kettle ring, or a Custom House clique, or a Butlerian band of brigands to bring its people to their senses. With just so much greater reason, therefore, will the voters of Pennsylvania, New York and Massachusetts repeat in November the judgment just pronounced upon radicalism by the two great western commonwealths.

Forward, then, men of Pennsylvania! The glorious examples of Ohio and Indiana must be gloriously emulated. The enemy is cowed and panic stricken. Like a scared belated drummer of the dead, and walking in the dark.

He must not be permitted to make Pennsylvania his rallying ground. Organize! Organize! and prepare to make our coming victory in Pennsylvania complete and overwhelming.

Joseph Powell's Position Correctly Represented.

"Our thanks are due the editor of the Montrose Republican for the kind advertisement he has given us, on the neary question, in his last issue, and but for a few falsehoods respecting Mr. Powell, our nominees for Congress, we should not have a word to say.

We give below, the facts in Mr. Powell's case which we can assure the Montrose Republican will be substantiated at the polls in Bradford on Tuesday Nov. third. These are from the pen of a man in Bradford county who knows whereof he speaks.

"We took early occasion to glance over the columns of the last week's Reporter for the purpose of satisfying our anticipations, feeling confident that the junior editor of that paper, would, either personally or by proxy, attempt to stay the course current of independent action, so manfully the purpose of the people in the coming election by parading Mr. Powell as the President of the First National Bank of Towanda.

We admit without the least hesitation that he does occupy the position, and we point with pride to the circumstances which brought about such a result, as confirmatory evidence of the trust reposed in him by men, who realizing the necessity of selecting a prominent, competent, responsible head to a financial institution, which by virtue of its undoubted security, and through its absolute conformity to law, might establish in the minds of the people of this community, the firm idea, that success may attend the following of legitimate moneyed transactions, without the necessity of diverting the funds of a confiding public, or the inheritance of widows and orphans, into channels of speculative risk and insecurity.

This being the only mark, where these desperate office-holding editors can point their arrows of assault against the solid armor of Joseph Powell, they direct their entire battery toward it, hoping to poison the minds of the people by the demagogue's cry of capital arrayed against labor! But we thank the gentleman for presenting the issue at so early a day, as it gives us ample opportunity to answer it, to the entire satisfaction of every fair thinking man in the District.

The amount of capital invested in aiding and conducting industrial enterprises in Bradford county by Mr. Powell, are, when compared to his stock held in the National Bank, largely in excess, both as to amount and general importance. An equal partner in the most extensive Tannery in the county, with the financial responsibility upon his shoulders, he supplies the heads of few less than seventy-five families with their means of support; Secretary and Treasurer of the Schrader Mining and Manufacturing Company; until recently the superintendent of their extensive lumbering establishment, and now in charge of their extensive mining interest; contributor to the success of the Towanda Nail Manufactory; responsible head of the largest mercantile firm in Northern Pennsylvania of which he may justly claim to have been the pioneer of the cash system—whereby farmers were enabled to sell their products for money, and buy their goods ten to twenty per cent less for cash; and added to this, he conducts the farm upon which he resides, in a manner that would meet the approbation, and add credit to the ability of the most progressive patron of husbandry in the district—and indeed for amount of products grown to the acre, or in systematic method of cropping we doubt if he has a superior in the county.

We speak of these transactions reluctantly, with no desire to parade their extent before the public, but having been attacked for his connection with a Banking House, it was eminently proper that Mr. Powell should be correctly represented to the people away from here, who are not so well informed of his intimate business relationship with the productive industries of the country, as are nine out of every ten in this great county of Bradford.

We believe this a sufficient reply to a weak and groundless attempt to array the employed against the employer, but when its force is directed against him—who with the recollection of every middle-aged business man in this community, began his career with nothing but bare hands and an empty purse, securing but a meagre salary as clerk, which was cheerfully divided with a mother and sisters dependent upon him for support struggling to gain that confidence which was to stand in lieu of capital, and which alone if forfeited would afford him, after years of constant effort, the means by which he hoped to attain an honorable competence—it is not difficult to realize the degree of reluctance with which he can be persuaded to permit his name to be used, and his business affairs paraded like auction goods in the public market yet who shall say that such a man is not entitled to equal consideration with the man who inherits his broad acres, and by commendable economy increases their valuation."

The day of assessment is past. The time when taxes must be paid to secure your vote, has also passed. Nothing now remains but to marshal your force for the coming battle. We do not ask, are you ready? For you ought not to cease your efforts until the third of November has closed upon us. There is work for each and every Democrat to do up to the very closing of the polls. Look up the Lukewarm and inspire them with zeal for the success of Democratic principles. Encourage your fellow laborer in the cause of Democracy by counsel and assistance of every needed kind. Provide means for the aged and infirm that they lose not the privilege of adding their votes to the Democratic thunder that shall shake old Susquehanna's hills. Come one and all to the rescue of our country! Close up the ranks and march in solid column, to victory.

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED.

SCHECK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SCHECK'S SEA WEED TONIC.

Are the only medicines that will cure Pulmonary Consumption.

Frequently medicines that will stop a cough will occasion the death of the patient; they lock up the liver, stop the circulation of the blood, hemorrhage follows, and in fact, they check the action of the very organs that caused the cough.

Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia are the causes of two-thirds of the cases of Consumption.

Many persons complain of a dull pain in the side, constipation, coated tongue, pain in the shoulder-blade, feelings of drowsiness and restlessness, the food lying heavily on the stomach, accompanied with acidity and belching up of wind.

These symptoms usually originate from a disordered condition of the stomach or a torpid liver.

Persons so affected, if they take one or two heavy doses, and if the cough in these cases be suddenly checked, will find the stomach and liver cleared, remaining torpid and inactive, and almost before they are aware the lungs are a mass of scars, and ulcerated, the result of which is death.

Schreck's Pulmonic Syrup is an expectorant which does not contain opium or anything calculated to check a cough suddenly.

Schreck's Sea Weed Tonic dissolves the food and gives the gastric juices the stomach, aids digestion, and creates a nervous appetite.

When the bowels are constive, skin sallow, or the symptoms indicative of a bilious tendency, Schreck's Mandrake Pills are required.

These medicines are prepared only by J. H. SCHRECK & SON, N. E. corner of Third and Arch Sts., Philadelphia. And for sale by all druggists and Dealers.
