The Rafting Beason.

Lise other branches of business rafting does not promise a profitable investment as compared with last year, when 1,700 rafts (or abou 10,080,080 feet) were-shipped to the lower market by river, railroad and canal, while this year scarcely 900 are ready to be shipped to the same destination. The Susquehanna is in excellent rafting condition, but very few rafts bave passed Harrisburg.

Post Mortem.

Mr Jacob Decker of Fairdale, this county died very suddenly week before last and was burned Since that time suspicion has arisen that all was not right about the matter and up on application a Coroner's inquest was held Friday last. The body was disinterred and was viewed and identified, a Coroner's jury summoned and a large number of witnesse sworn The inquest was adjourned until yesterday, when it was ascertained that there was no cause for suspicion, and the jury was discharged

· ····· Eilitary Matters-

Under the direction of Governor Hartranfi on Saturday, adjutant General Latta visited Luzerne county for the purpose of learning whether the reports of violence among the miners had any foundation. While at Hazleton and other mining regions he mingled freely with operators, miners and the military, and all but the operators expressed the opinion that the presence of the military, was entirely unneces sary. He also attended the lodges of the sev eral labor organizations and found them conducted in the most orderly mannel. But not withstanding the quiet aspect of affairs the adjutant general thinks it advisable not to withdraw the troops at present, and the governor June 1, 1876. General Latta left for
