UNION REPUBLICAN STATETICKET

FOR GOVERNOR,
MAJ. GEN. JOHN W. GEARY,
OF CUMBERLAND COUNTY.

Soldiers of Pennsylvania remember that Heister Clymer voted against a joint resolution of our Legislature, asking Congress to increase the pay of the private soldiers and non-commissioned officers of the army. (See page 205 Legislative Record session 1864.) While you were battling for the Union he was exhausting his ingenuity in devising means to covetize the acres of your arms.

THE NEW PAPER.

We publish this week the cards of Messrs. H. T. McAlister, R. W. Jamison, S. M. Shelly, and C. G. Shelly, in reference to the use of their names by W. M. Allison & Co., in connection with the publication of the new paper. These gentlemen have all been life-long Republicans, and their opinions, as expressed in their cards should have due consideration by the party. In addition to these cards we have received letters from all parts of the county regretting the action of the new paper men in their efforts to keep up the spirit of faction and thereby aid the Locofocos to destroy the organization of the Republican party.

WAR DEBTS OF THE STATES.

In a report submitted to Congress Pennsylvania is set down as having a war debt of $53,000,000. The only war debt contracted by this state was the $1,000,000 war loan, and that is in course of extinction. Philadelphia borrowed some few millions to pay bounties; but the people of the state generally raised from among themselves, by taxation, the money necessary for that purpose; so that although the sum of $53,000,000 was undoubtedly spent in raising troops to fill the quotas of the State, it is not in any sense a debt. The State is in a better financial condition, to day, than before the war, with less debt and with better means for paying rapidly what she owes, and that too, without resorting to direct taxation.

General Grant has already emphatically declared in favor of General Geary, and will throw all his influence for him. General Logan, of Illinois, and General Duroside have expressed their willingness to take the stump and do battle beneath the banner of the capture of Savannah, and their companion in arms, General Geary. Major General Hancock, one of Pennsylvania's most brilliant heroes, with Gen. Meade, the hero of Gettysburg, who may be classed among the best soldiers of the world, are ready for his warm support while with the soldiers of the State the gallant Geary is a tower of strength, and they will rally to the fight with all the eagerness they responded to his battle-cry, on the bloody field.

Gov. Brownlow thus speaks out, who more than any other one man was instrumental in having President Johnson nominated for the Vice Presidency: "Our mind is made up—we are with the Union party in Congress, and with them we intend to sink or swim. The PEOPLE are also with them, for the country, and against its enemies and the men who refused to vote men and money to carry on the war. This latter class are the most loud in their praise of the President, laboring day and night to create a split between him and the party that elected him and saved the country."

CARDS.

MEXICO, March 19, 1866.
This will certify that my name has been placed on the handbills of Mr. W. M. Allison & Co. without authority.
J. J. APPELBAUGH.

McALISTERVILLE, March 24, '66.
Mr. H. H. WILSON—Please insert the following card in your columns in next week's issue. This will certify that my name has been put on the hand bills of W. M. Allison & Co. without my knowledge or consent. I believe the proposed paper to be an injury to the party.
Respectfully,
S. M. SHELLY.

FAYETTE TOWNSHIP, March 24, '66.
DEAR SENTINEL—Please publish the following, as it will place me right before the people of the county. My name has been used by the firm of W. M. Allison & Co. as being favorable to the issue of a new Republican paper in this county, and as my name appears upon the Prospectus, I wish to notify my friends, through the columns of your paper, that I have not, nor will I have ought to do with said paper.
Yours respectfully,
H. T. McALISTER.

EAST SALEM, March 23, 1866.
H. H. WILSON—Dear Sir:—I see my name on the Prospectus of the Juniata Republican as one of the Agents to solicit subscribers for that paper. I do not wish to have it understood that I am in any way interested in that paper, nor do I think that it is calculated to do any good, but on the contrary it will have a tendency to distract the party and promote the interest of the Democracy.
Yours truly,
C. G. SHELLY.

FAYETTE TOWNSHIP, March 24, '66.
EDITOR SENTINEL—You will confer a favor on me by publishing the following: My name has been used by W. M. Allison & Co. for the purpose of supporting and sustaining a new paper in this county, to be called the Juniata Republican. This card is to show that I denounce the entire firm and will have nothing to do with the new paper, believing that it would, if encouraged by the people, result in the entire disruption of our party in the county.
Yours truly,
R. W. JAMISON.

CAPT. H. H. WILSON—Dear Sir:—I see my name published in a prospectus of a new paper to be called the Juniata Republican and to be published by W. M. Allison & Co. I simply desire to say to you and to the public that I did not authorize Mr. Allison or any one else to use my name in connection with said prospectus, and that I have no interest pecuniary or otherwise in the publication of the proposed paper, and do not desire my name used in connection with it, as I believe the project is calculated to distract the party.
Yours &c.
JOSEPH POMEROY.

A CARD.

We the undersigned whose names are signed to the Prospectus of a new paper to be published in Mifflintown by W. M. Allison & Co., and to be called the Juniata Republican, do hereby declare that we never authorized Mr. Allison or any one else to sign our names to said prospectus, and we repudiate all connection with this effort to start another paper, believing it will have a tendency to distract the party, and that it has been gotten up to serve personal ends and gratify personal animosities at the cost of the harmony and success of the party in the county. We discountenance the whole scheme, and will use our influence against it, and urge every member of the party to denounce it. No one but an enemy of the party and Locofoco will give encouragement to such a scheme. When there is so important an election before us we should cultivate harmony in our own ranks and keep down the spirit of faction. We demand of Messrs. W. M. Allison & Co. the withdrawal of our names from their Prospectus.

A TRICK.

We hear complaints made by some people that newspapers are sent to their address for which they never subscribed, but that they innocently took them from the Post Office two or three times and shortly were notified that they were liable for a year's subscription. This is the law, and we warn every person against it. The trick has often been played by unprincipled publishers. No one should take a newspaper from the Post Office unless he has subscribed for it, as he thereby becomes liable for a year's subscription at full rates.

Mr. Clymer says he is willing to sacrifice his life, if need be, in defending the Union. Why didn't he act upon that principle when the Union was in peril? It was the Soldiers who saved the Union, not the Copperhead politicians who staid at home and got up County Meetings to discourage volunteering and denounce the "Conscription" act.

THE NEW NATION.

We have received the second number of the New Nation, published at Richmond by Mr. Hunnicut, formerly of Fredericksburg, Va. Mr. Hunnicut will no doubt be remembered by many of our citizens, as he visited this county during the campaign of 1862 when Gov. Curtin was a candidate the second time, and delivered several very able and eloquent speeches. He spoke in the Court House in Mifflintown for three hours and twenty minutes, and all who heard him on that occasion will say he is the right kind of a man to publish a loyal paper at the late Capital of Jeff. Davis & Co. The New Nation is a good sized paper, and contains some of the strongest and most convincing editorials we have seen for some time. The subscription price is Three Dollars in advance.

Mr. Hunnicut publishes a letter received from some person signing himself "Conservative," in which he seeks to think the editor must be drunk, crazy, or a fool to publish a loyal paper in Richmond, and in reply Mr. H. very coolly says:

"Mr. 'Conservative,' we want you and all of your 'sort' to understand distinctly in the outset, that money can't bribe us—nor threats intimidate us—we have heard the roar of lions, the braying of asses, and the raucous of geese, for these many years. We are now in our native South, where we were born, educated, and lived all our life, up to the time we were driven from our home, by tyranny of Jeff. Davis & Co. The South is our home, we love the South, and we are going to live in the South until we die, (unless we get killed,) and we are determined to continue the publication of The New Nation just so long as we can get bread, butter, and molasses enough to keep us from starvation and can raise means to purchase material and pay hands for getting it out. So, be easy, 'Mr. Conservative,' we are not scared, the world is rolling on—this is a progressive age, wonderful things are happening—the Copperheads are rejoicing, the secessionists are exultant, Thaddeus Stevens, Benj. Wade and Charles Sumner live. We have got a loyal Congress, and Congress will stand by us, and we trust God will stand by all, and defend the right, and save our country."

An Accommodating Party.

The Democratic party is a very accommodating one, so far as accommodating itself to circumstances is concerned. All through the war, it distinguished itself in Pennsylvania by its hostility to the soldier; but as soon as the war was over it put up two soldiers as candidates on the State ticket to catch the soldiers' vote. So long as the constitutional amendment abolishing Slavery was in doubt they opposed it and denounced every one who voted for it; as soon as it is adopted they declare that they endorse it cordially!

In Connecticut for four years past, they have contested the State as the ultra pro-slavery, anti-war party, this year they put up a candidate for Governor who voted for the anti-slavery constitutional amendment and for the Abolition of Slavery in the District of Columbia, whom they themselves burnt in effigy for these very votes.

In Indiana their platform for years past has been based on the doctrine that the government has no power to coerce a State to stay in the Union, and therefore the war was all wrong; now they lead their ticket with a soldier who fought in that war, and declare that no State has the right or power to get out of the Union!

No party ever before showed such facility in changing; yet with all its changes it never manifests change to the right side.

The Indiana Democratic Resolutions.

The Indiana Democratic State Convention resolve that they will support Mr. Johnson in all his conflicts with the Congressional majority. It seems to us that this is prudent, political and, above all, cheap. If he will fight the majority of his own party, they, the minority will hold his coat. The offer shows a high estimate of Mr. Johnson's character and sagacity.

The doctrinal part on the effect of the failure of the rebellion is free and easy. The seceders had not the right to secede; therefore the attempt involves no guilt. The rule will apply equally well to the whole catalogue of crimes.

The claim that Congress is a rebellion and call on Mr. Johnson to oust it by force. That is the way they felt all through the war but they did not then compliment Mr. Johnson by calling on him to join them.

On the whole the resolutions are a striking mitigation of the venom of Indiana Democracy. The serpent has been out in the cold a long time; he wants to warm himself in the husbandman's bosom, and he conceals his fangs. The thing shows management, and we presume it gives the key note of the Democratic political melodies this year.—Ch. Gaz.

Great Fire on Oil Creek.

This morning's Pittsburg papers contain an account of one of the most destructive conflagrations, with perhaps one exception, which has yet occurred in the oil regions. The conflagration began at the Ocean Well, where two men were engaged in caulking a new tank which contained oil to the amount of two hundred barrels. One of the slaves being forced at the bottom created a vacuum, through which the oil ran out and running down the run it communicated with an engine house and there caught from the fire in the furnace. From this point it rapidly spread to the oil tanks of the Ocean Oil Company, of Philadelphia, the Arctic Well, and No. 2, Patterson & Dickey, and No. 19; thence down the Run to different wells, five in number, belonging to the Breeden & Myers, and Breeden & Tenment leases, which were soon enveloped in one huge mass of flames with no earthly means of checking this fearful tide.

It rolled onward down the run in flames, communicating with everything combustible, sweeping every object before it. It soon found a channel, which carried the burning mass into Beechcroft Run, catching in its way three refineries, some thirty or more buildings and several wells in progress of drilling. In less than fifteen minutes from the breaking out of the fire it was emptying itself into Oil Creek at the mouth of the run, thus presenting to the eye a terrible mountain of black smoke and flame nearly a mile in length.

The damage is estimated at $150,000. Twenty thousand barrels of oil was consumed, with the tankage, some sixteen engine houses, derricks, engines, and the whole paraphernalia for sinking wells are destroyed.

Two men were reported burned seriously, three fatally, and one, Frank McKenzie, has just died at the McClintock House. He was the hardest sight ever witnessed, being nothing but a black oar, charred mass of flesh, when extricated from the devouring element. Both eyes were burned out, and he was in every way unrecognizable. Another man is reported to have burned to death in a derrick, and one jumped from the top of still another derrick to save his life. He was injured slightly.

The Reading Journal, published at the home of Heister Clymer the Democratic nominee for Governor says:

"Against Mr. Clymer, personally, we have nothing to say—against him, politically we will have much to say in the course of the campaign. His record, fortunately for the people, is a public one, and he cannot hide it. He was the Valiant Hero of Pennsylvania throughout the war, and when his votes, his speeches, his news, are thoroughly ventilated, and the people, and especially the returned soldiers come to know his political status, he will meet with a condemnation scarcely less overwhelming than was that which befell Vallandigham when he ran for a similar office two years ago in the Buckeye State."

The following is a copy of an act regulating the mode of voting at all elections in the several counties of this Commonwealth, which has been passed by both the Senate and House:

SEC. 1. Be it enacted, etc., That the qualified voters of the several counties of this Commonwealth, at all general, township, borough and special elections, are hereby hereafter authorized and required to vote by tickets printed or written, or partly printed and partly written, severally classified as follows: One ticket shall embrace the names of all judges of courts voted for, and to be labelled outside "judiciary;" one ticket shall embrace the names of all State officers voted for, and be labelled "State;" one ticket shall embrace the names of all county officers voted for, including office of Senator and member of members of Assembly, if voted for, and members of Congress, if voted for, and be labelled "county;" one ticket shall embrace the names of all township officers voted for, and be labelled "township;" one ticket shall embrace the names of all borough officers voted for, and be labelled "borough;" and each class shall be deposited in separate boxes.

SEC. 2. That it shall be the duty of the sheriffs in the several counties of this Commonwealth to insert, in their election proclamation hereafter issued, the first section of this act.

The State Treasurer of Indiana recently received a package of money from the Treasurer of Ross county, a twenty-dollar bill, signed by the Treasurer of the United States, made payable in Heaven, and the Angel Gabriel's name affixed as cashier. The note was issued by the National Bank of Jeffersonville, and is genuine. The bank, however, refuses to redeem it, and we understand a suit will be brought by Mr. Morrison for its recovery.

The Republicans of Rhode Island have made a wise choice in the selection of Gen. Burnside for Governor. His name is recommended to the voters of "Little Rhody" in the history of many battles. Success attend the brave soldier.

NEWS ITEMS.

The cops are making desperate efforts to defeat the Republican nominee for Governor in Connecticut—anything for fraud and spoils is their motto.

Six tons of rock fish, weighing an average of seventy pounds, were taken in the waters of North Carolina a few days ago, sold at ten cents a pound, taken to New York and retailed for twenty-five and thirty cents.

A wool-grower made a statement at a late convention in Vermont, held on a bitter cold day, that every rag of clothes he had on was made of foreign wool while he had at home three clips of wool from his own flocks which he could not sell.

An agricultural society recently offered a premium for the best mode of irrigation which was pointed "irrigation," by mistake, whereupon a wag sent his wife to claim the prize. He took care to be out of the way when she returned.

General Lee's Arlington estate belongs to the government, having been purchased at a sale for the non-payment of taxes. All talk, therefore, of restoring the land to Mrs. Lee, is sensational. Uncle Sam has a title to the farm, which holds good against all litigation.

Two Cherokee Indians had a fight over a bottle of whisky recently at Sulphur Springs, Arkansas, which resulted in the death of both. It is very likely that had the savages agreed peaceably to drink the stuff, both would have been killed, so that it is not altogether fair to attribute the killing to the fight.
