

TERMS OF PUBLICATION.

The JUNIATA SENTINEL is published every Wednesday morning, on Main street, by H. H. WILSON. The SUBSCRIPTION PRICE of the paper will be TWO DOLLARS per year in advance, and $2.50 if not paid within the year.

Business Cards.

JEREMIAH LYONS, Attorney-at-Law, Mifflintown, Juniata County, Pa. Office on Main street South of Bridge str etc.

E. C. STEWART, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, Mifflintown, Juniata Co., Pa. Offers his professional services to the public. Collections and all other business will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM M. ALLISON, Attorney at Law, and Notary Public. Will attend to all business entrusted to his care. Office on Main Street, Mifflintown, Pa.

JOHN T. L. SAHM, Attorney-at-Law, MIFFLINTOWN, JUNIATA COUNTY, PA. OFFERS his professional services to the public. Prompt attention given to the prosecution of claims against the Government, collections and all other business entrusted to his care. Office in the Odd Fellows' Hall, Bridge Street.

J. A. MILLIKEN, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, MIFFLINTOWN, JUNIATA CO., PA. Office in the Odd Fellows' Hall, Bridge street. COLLECTIONS, AND ALL OTHER BUSINESS connected with the profession promptly attended to.

DR. P. C. RUNDIO, of Patterson, Pa., wishes to inform his friends and patrons that he has removed to the house on Bridge Street opposite Todd & Jordan's Store, April 19-11

VENDUE AUCTIONEER. The undersigned offers his services to the public as Vendue Cryer and Auctioneer. He has had a very large experience, and feels confident that he can give satisfaction to all who may employ him.

ALEX. SPEDDY, AUCTIONEER. RESPECTFULLY offers his services to the public of Juniata county. Having had a large experience in the business of Vendue Crying, he feels confident that he can render general satisfaction. He can at all times be consulted at his residence in Mifflintown, Pa. Aug. 16, 1865.

MILITARY CLAIMS. THE undersigned will promptly attend to the collection of claims against either the State or National Government, Pensions, Back Pay, Bounty, Extra Pay, and all other claims arising out of the present or any other war, collected. JEREMIAH LYONS, Attorney-at-Law, Mifflintown, Juniata Co., Pa. [Feb]

Pensions! Pensions! ALL PERSONS WHO HAVE BEEN DISABLED DURING THE PRESENT WAR ARE ENTITLED TO A PENSION. All persons who intend applying for a Pension must call on the Examining Surgeon to know whether their disability is sufficient to entitle them to a Pension.

MEDICAL CARD. DR. S. G. KEMPFER, (late army surgeon) having located in Patterson sends his professional services to the citizens of this place and surrounding country.

LARGE stock of Queensware, Cedarware such as Tubs, Butter Bowls, Buckets, Churns, Baskets, Horse Buckets, &c. at S. C. WILSON'S, PATTERSON, PA.

Table with 2 columns: Train Name and Time. Includes Pennsylvania Railroad, Philadelphia Express, Cincinnati Express, etc.

READING RAILROAD. SUMMER ARRANGEMENT.

GREAT TRUNK LINE FROM the North and North-West for Philadelphia, New York, Reading, Pottsville, Tanawagon, Ashland, Lebanon, Altoona, Easton, &c.

On Sundays: Leave New-York at 8:30 P. M., Philadelphia 3:15 P. M., Pottsville 8:00 A. M., Tanawagon 7:30 A. M., Harrisburg 9:45 A. M., and Reading at 1:30 P. M.

1866. Philadelphia and Erie Rail Road.

THIS Great Line traverses the Northern and Northwest counties of Pennsylvania to the city of Erie, on Lake Erie. It has been leased and is operated by the PENNSYLVANIA RAIL ROAD COMPANY.

628, HOOP SKIRTS, 628, HOPKIN'S 'OWN MAKE,' MANUFACTURED AND SOLD WHOLESALE & RETAIL. NO. 628 ARCH STREET, PHILAD'A.

Select Poetry.

ECHOES. Still the angel stars are 'hining, Still the rippling waters flow, But the angel voice is silent That I heard here long ago.

Miscellaneous Reading.

PARTIES AND PLATFORMS.

About the most remarkable proposition connected with the present political crisis is that we should go back to the Baltimore platform of 1864, and base upon it our reconstruction policy.

How long did that platform last us? We strove manfully to get along upon it. But it embarrassed the progress of the war so much, that in less than two years it was nullified, and in three years we had advanced so far as to proclaim liberty to the slave.

When that platform was made, the war was not yet ended, and the need of a reconstruction policy was not felt. That the party should therefore abandon all right to make my policy on the subject is what we are coolly asked to believe.

Now we beg leave here to say distinctly that the Civil Rights bill does constitute our platform. The essential element of that great measure is equality before the law. We regard that principle as too dear to the hearts of all lovers of constitutional liberty and popular rights to be evaded, or left open to jeopardy hereafter.

before the law shall be incorporated with the national Constitution. That is the first section of the proposed amendment that has just passed the House of Representatives, and it is, so fundamental in its character and so inestimably valuable, that we should be willing even to accept other conditions respecting which we are not quite so clear, in order to insure this one.

Here, then, we plant our feet. The principle of equality before the law is the platform of the Republican party, and if the President and his friends cannot accept it, we must part. This is a platform worthy of the country, of the age, of the close of such a struggle as that from which we have just emerged.

THE TWIN BROTHERS. That fact is stranger than fiction is exemplified in the following true story of two brothers, twins, which occurred during the memorable siege of Port Hudson.

He related their story in a few words. "They were my sons," said he, "and were twins. One of them joined at the same time I did. We came here with General Beauregard, and have done our duty to the best of our knowledge, and I believe to the satisfaction of our officers.

WHAT'S THE USE OF THE MOON? M. Geoffroy, of Paris, asks, in an article in the Monteur, what may be the utility of the moon with regard to our planet, and whether it is only there for the purpose of raising the waters of the ocean twice a day.

NITRO-GLYCERINE.

A series of experiments were made in New York to test the explosiveness of nitro glycerine, of which the following experiments were made:

The inventor opened a bottle of it, permitting the fluid to run out upon the stone. He touched it with a lighted match, which caused it to ignite and burn like pitch, but not to explode. He threw a can and a bottle of it from a high rock upon the ground with impunity, showing that mere concussion would not explode it.

He says, also, that glycerine mixed with spirits of wood cannot be exploded, and proved it by applying a lighted fuse to the mixture. Subsequently, by withdrawing the oil from the compound—an application of water only being necessary to separate the elements—he renewed its exploded condition and demonstrated it.

MARRIAGE OF A CHILD ELEVEN YEARS OF AGE.

The Detroit Union records the following: A wedding came off on the 7th inst., at the Johnson House, which was the cause of much gossip and virtuous indignation against all parties concerned.

Squire Carson solemnized the sacred ordinance of matrimony between this ill-matched and unequal pair—a fierce upon religion and civilization, unequal in the annals of barbarism.

MY COURTSHIP.

When I was sixteen, I fell in love.—There is nothing remarkable in that, for most all young men at that age do the same thing. But what I am going to tell you is, how my courtship terminated.

It was at a party I saw Sallie B—, who was one of the sweetest girls in Ticktown; and I tell you she looked sweet in her white muslin ball-dress, with her hair falling loosely over her shoulders.

I got an introduction, danced with her once, twice, thrice, and I was just the happiest man in all Ticktown. Well, at last the party broke up; but I had an invitation to call on Miss B—.

At the end of a month I was completely gone. At last I resolved to "pop the question," and fixed on my next visit for the time, studied "Courtship Made Easy," thoroughly, and concluded I was ready for the task.

The time arrived. Here I was, sitting by the side of my beloved, with my arm around her waist! I took her hand in mine, and screwed up courage to say, "Dear Sallie, do you love me?"

"You're as bad as Sam Simmons!" An old farmer, now dead, who bore the cognomen of "Old Tom Fawlet," was quite a fun-loving, jolly fellow in his day.

"Is there good bottom to this slough?" "Yes," replied Tom; and the traveler drove in, stuck, and had to be pulled out, horses, carriage and self.

MARRIAGE OF A CHILD ELEVEN YEARS OF AGE.

The Detroit Union records the following: A wedding came off on the 7th inst., at the Johnson House, which was the cause of much gossip and virtuous indignation against all parties concerned.

Squire Carson solemnized the sacred ordinance of matrimony between this ill-matched and unequal pair—a fierce upon religion and civilization, unequal in the annals of barbarism.

MY COURTSHIP.

When I was sixteen, I fell in love.—There is nothing remarkable in that, for most all young men at that age do the same thing. But what I am going to tell you is, how my courtship terminated.

It was at a party I saw Sallie B—, who was one of the sweetest girls in Ticktown; and I tell you she looked sweet in her white muslin ball-dress, with her hair falling loosely over her shoulders.

I got an introduction, danced with her once, twice, thrice, and I was just the happiest man in all Ticktown. Well, at last the party broke up; but I had an invitation to call on Miss B—.

At the end of a month I was completely gone. At last I resolved to "pop the question," and fixed on my next visit for the time, studied "Courtship Made Easy," thoroughly, and concluded I was ready for the task.

The time arrived. Here I was, sitting by the side of my beloved, with my arm around her waist! I took her hand in mine, and screwed up courage to say, "Dear Sallie, do you love me?"

"You're as bad as Sam Simmons!" An old farmer, now dead, who bore the cognomen of "Old Tom Fawlet," was quite a fun-loving, jolly fellow in his day.

"Is there good bottom to this slough?" "Yes," replied Tom; and the traveler drove in, stuck, and had to be pulled out, horses, carriage and self.