Soldiers of Pennsylvania remember that Heister Clymer voted against a joint resolution of our Legislature, asking Congress to increase the pay of the private soldiers and non-commissioned officers of the army. (See page 216 Legislative Record session 1864.) While you were battling for the Union he was extending his ingenuity in devising means to counteract the success of your arms.

UNION MASS MEETING.

We desire to inform our friends that we propose to hold a Union Mass Meeting at Millintown, shortly before the election. As soon as suitable speakers can be secured and the necessary arrangements made. Next week we will announce the time and who are to address the meeting. Hand-bills will be circulated throughout the county announcing the time of the meeting. The County Committee will meet this week and in our next weeks paper will announce a series of meetings at the different school houses throughout the county.

COMPENSATION FOR THEIR SLAVES.

One of the principal incentives which has actuated the Secessionists to enter into an alliance with the Copperheads and Johnsonites of the North is the desire to establish a party that will eventually, if successful, give them compensation for their slaves. Fellow citizens, are you ready to assist in the establishment of a party that will ask you, you, you, for 4,000,000 Slaves? If you do vote the Copperhead ticket!

COPPER-JOHNSON MEETING.

According to notice given through the three Democratic papers of our borough and by posters placed in the most conspicuous places throughout the county a Copper-Johnson meeting was held in the Court House yard on Tuesday evening of last week. Preliminary to the organization of the meeting, First Lieutenant R. P. McWilliams, commanding company F, 126th regiment P. V., Camp in the Field, appointed himself a committee of six to proceed on horseback to the depot in Patterson and escort a delegation of Johnson-Clymer men, expected from Lewistown over to Millin and show them his new house recently erected on one of the back streets. This, by far the grandest feat of the occasion, was accomplished by the Lieutenant with entire satisfaction to himself, and the delegation was escorted back to the court yard, when the organization of the meeting went on.

G. W. Strouse called the meeting to order, when down came the platform on which the motley crew were standing, and for a time confusion reigned supreme. But order was again partly restored, and Bill Allison stepped forward and read as well as his muddled brain would permit, a list of officers for the meeting. Little Edmund S. Doty headed the list as President. Poor Edmund, how we pitied him as now we can say with Nashy, "rooily Joner has swallowed the wail," Edmund is joined to his idols. How sweet he looked as he stood on that platform between Bill Davis and Bill Allison—a thora between two roses—the rich fragrance of their breath must have been refreshing. Like Nashy, we don't suppose he would have traded places with an angel, even up—Well, Mr. Doty made a speech. He claimed to be reconstructed—we thought he was after that scene on the platform—he affected tears at the event he just passed through and compared it to the scene in the 14th of August Convention when Massachusetts and South Carolina walked arm in arm. At this point Mr. Doty was overcome, his eyes rolled over and he retired.

The next speaker was ex Mayor Vanz. He spoke at great length but never once alluded to the Democratic party; in fact one would have thought he never heard of such an organization. He was followed by Edgar Cowan, an ardent upholder of "My Policy." He evidently remembered a speech he made in the same place some years since, the ghost of which haunted him and he became so troubled that he broke down after a short harangue and gave way to one Charley Shiner who commenced by informing the audience that he was from Union county—that he was and always had been a Republican, and as such supported President Johnson's policy—that he was the Collector of this district and he knew if he would not be for Johnson that Andy would be firmer than him and would not give him his daily "Bread and Butter." He too made a telling speech in all of which he forgot to say anything about the whole that had just been swallowed up—all but the tail. But Charley was overcome by his effort and retired to take a drink.

Loud calls were now made for Wallace, W. A. Wallace, the immaculate—the Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee. After continued calls that gentleman appeared upon the stand, and from his manner we judged his dander was up. He didn't like the idea of Jonah swallowing the whale. He appealed to the audience as a Democratic audience; he had come there as a Democrat and intended to go away as one; he had heard a number of speeches from men who had formerly been Democrats, and yet not one word was said in behalf of Heister Clymer; he ignored the existence of a Johnson party, and appealed to Democrats to stand by the old land marks. Mr. Wallace retired amidst the cheers of the audience, showing plainly that his remarks were appreciated and that Jonah had failed in his efforts to swallow the whale, as the tail end—the portion of which Mr. Wallace is evidently a part—was still sticking out.

GEN. GRANT'S VIEWS: The editor of the Lewistown Falls Journal, who had the recent familiar conversation with Gen. Grant at the studio of a Maine artist in Washington, and whose account of the interview was published far and wide, makes the following statement:

"We happen to know personally, through a gentleman who has been intimate with General Grant for the last few months, that his sympathies in the present political crisis are wholly with Congress, and that he is entirely opposed to the tyrannical and egotistical course of President Johnson. We know that such are the sentiments of the General; so that what comfort the Copperheads can extract from his presence at the White House on Saturday, at the reception of the Padlock Committee, they are entirely welcome to."

DO NOT BE DECEIVED.

If the Democrats succeed in electing George Reynolds Prothonotary and David Diven Commissioner at the coming election, they will take it as an endorsement of their uncalculated and extravagant expenditure of the peoples' money in decorating the Court House, and proceed at once to erect a new building behind the grand portico they are putting up this summer. This we know is the object they have in view. A few days ago a gentleman was remonstrating with Geo. Reynolds for receiving three hundred dollars of the peoples' money for smearing a coat of lime water and sandian red over the Court House, when the price paid should have given its good substantial coat of oil paint that would have lasted for years. But George Reynolds replied by saying, "What the devil's the difference what kind of paint is used, we are going to build a new Court House in a year or two." So that the people can see for themselves that the County Commissioners are not satisfied with expending thousands of dollars in making improvements that could have been done without at the present time, but that they contemplate increasing your burdens by building a new Court House next summer. Be warned in time. If you are in favor of building a new Court House and increasing your taxes, vote for Reynolds and Diven. If you think the old county buildings are good enough and are in favor of decreasing your taxes, vote for Thompson and Wiser.

THE DUMB ASS SPEAKING.

In last week's Register we had a long article over the signature of J. T. L. Sahn. As few of our readers ever heard of this individual who professes his euphonious name with half the alphabet, we will inform them. He is a half-witted fellow that loafs around "Squire Huzzard's" office and attempts to make people believe he is a lawyer. Although he has an idiotic look, peculiar to insane persons, and sometimes rants and rages like a chained tiger, he is not dangerous, but is permitted to run at large, and contributes no little to the sport of the boys. In last week's Register he re-published one of A. J. Greer's editorials from a book number of the True Democrat (changing names and words so as to make it apply to us) over his own signature, and fondly imagines that he is a smart fellow and that he has accomplished much. In fact he carried a copy of the Register up to Basty Paine's store to get Basty's opinion of his reply to the SENTINEL. Basty looked grave and to please the poor simple fool, told him that he was a badly fellow, that that article convinced him (Basty) that he (Sahn) was a smart fellow and that if he improved a little more he would make a store keeper.

SHAME UPON HIM.

Andrew Johnson bitterly complains that the Republican officials in the various cities do not pay proper respect to him when he visits them. Yet he says in his speech at New York:

"I will repeat, and I thank God that I have the power to repeat it, what I have said elsewhere before, that the August Convention which met in Philadelphia in the midst of enemies and those who are opposed to the restoration of the Union of States, was to us a cheering indication that we should come out right in the end. * * * The rebellion has been completely crushed in the South. I intend now to fight the enemies of the Union in the North. God being willing, and with your good help, I intend to fight out the battle with Northern traitors."

To this the Tribune says: We will not here repeat these atrocious calumnies—No fit reply would be compatible with the respect due to the office which, through a great crime, has descended to Andrew Johnson. We simply ask every thoughtful citizen to judge how such language falling habitually from the mouth of the President can be reconciled with the demand that the Republican functionaries should honor and feast him as the ruler and chief of the American People.

Soldiers' National Convention.

The following call, signed by a large number of soldiers and sailors, has been promulgated:

"We invite all soldiers and sailors who have served in the Union army and navy during the late war for the suppression of the rebellion, and who believe that treason should be made odious and traitors punished; who are opposed to the restoration of rebels to power, and offering premiums for treason and treachery, and in favor of the proposed Constitutional amendments, and of continuing Congress as the law making power of the Government, to meet at Pittsburgh, Pa., on Tuesday, September 25th, 1866. We made our agreement in the field."

In accordance with the above call the soldiers of Juniaata county are requested to meet in the Court House in Millintown, on Saturday, September 15th, at 1 o'clock, for the purpose of electing Delegates to present them in that Convention.

GEN. GRANT'S TWO SPEECHES.

Many persons are surprised that Gen. Grant should consent to accompany the President on his electioneering tour, and apparently lead his countenance to his official chief while enacting the part of a low partizan; but it ought to be borne in mind that men in the position occupied by himself and Admiral Farragut, if required to accompany their constitutional Commander in Chief on the ostensible mission on which he and his party set out, could not well refuse. If, however, they wish to know what Grant really thinks and feels about the loquacity and folly of his official superior, they have it in the neat, round shot which he sent into the President's locker, immediately after the latter had concluded his long harangue at Delmonico's, in New York. Being called upon for a speech, the General said:

"Gentlemen—All I can say is, if the President and his Cabinet had kept their resolution, made in secret session, to leave the Admiral and myself to do all the talking, we would have left you off to go to an early bed." (Applause and laughter.)

The rebuke was only the more keen, because so modest, so playful, and so perfectly free from anything that could be construed into disrespect or offence.—Those fellows who buzz around the President, and belittle themselves that they may propitiate and please him, will have to be wide awake if they get him to endorse "My Policy," although he is with the party.

As the "noise and fun grew fast and furious" at Delmonico's, Gen. Grant was again called upon for a speech, to which he playfully responded:

"Gentlemen—I am so exhausted by the eloquence drawn from me this evening by your Mayor, that it is impossible for me to address you any further."

The rebels, under the lead of General Lee, could not manage Grant, neither can they under the lead of their present Commander-in-Chief.

THE FIRST GUN.

The election in the State of Vermont on the 4th of September, resulted in a grand victory for the Republicans. The Republican candidate for Governor is elected by an increased majority of more than 5000 over that of last year. The Senate stands Republican unanimous.—The House of Representatives Republican 79, Democrats 2 with one of the latter contested. So much for "my policy."

At the municipal election which took place in Wilmington (Del.) on Tuesday last, the Republicans achieved a signal triumph, having carried every ward and elected every candidate. The victory is the more glorious as the Republicans went into the contest without organization or concert of action, while their opponents were completely marshaled and brought out their entire strength. The whole number of votes cast for Mayor was 2,369 (against 1,415 in 1865) of whom the Republicans polled 1,322, and the Democrats 1,047. Republican majority, 281. The Union men hope, that with a more thorough organization, they will give such a majority at the State election, in November, as will secure the election of the Republican State ticket.

A Net for the Copperheads to Catch.

The Copperjohnsons and their allies, the pliant disciples of Jeff. Davis are just now making a great outcry about the admission of Fred. Douglass into the loyal procession which came off in Philadelphia on Monday last. I understand that at the Copperhead Convention, in this city, on Tuesday, a noted political demagogue made an appeal on the subject so full of pathos that the very walls of the old Exchange shed tears of sympathy and the eyes of his audience effused a liquid like that which bedimmed the sight of our distinguished President rebel convention were laid before him.

But seriously speaking, Mr. Editor, are not these hungry political mountebanks aware that the same Fred. Douglass is a qualified voter in the State of New York, made such by this so-called Democratic party? Now, I would like to ask them what is wrong in admitting a man into a procession whom they have clothed with the right of the elective franchise?—When the Constitution of New York State was amended, the Democrats were in power in that State, and Martin Van Buren, their acknowledged leader at that time, made so powerful an appeal to that Convention that they granted the right of suffrage to the blacks. Let the Cops smoke that in their pipes awhile.
