A union of lakes, and a union of lands,
A union no power shall sever;
A union of hearts, and a union of hands,
And the American Union forever!

MIFFLINTOWN,
Wednesday Morning, May 1, 1867.

H. H. WILSON, Editor and Publisher

THE JUNIATA SENTINEL.
The Largest Circulation of any paper published in this County. It is therefore the best advertising medium. It is a Paper, truly loyal, ably conducted, a first class Localist, and well worthy of the patronage of every loyal citizen in the County.

OWING to the large increase in our subscription list during court week, we are compelled to issue half sheets in order to furnish each of our subscribers with the SENTINEL.

GOVERNMENT BONDS.

Holders of Seven and Three-tenth notes, dated August 15, 1863, can now exchange them for six per cent. Five-tenth bonds issued under the act of 1865. If at the time of the exchange the accrued interest on notes shall exceed the interest on the bonds, the difference will be paid by the Internal Revenue department. If, on the contrary, the accrued interest on the bonds exceeds that upon the notes, the difference may be paid in currency by the person proposing to make the exchange, and should accompany the notes. Up to the first day of May the express charges on the notes forwarded for conversion, and on the bonds returned in exchange for them, will be paid by the Government.

Notes payable to blank forwarded for conversion, must be endorsed "Pay Secretary of the Treasury for redemption," over the signature of the party forwarding them. When, in the notes transmitted for conversion, the name of the holder has been inserted as payee, they must be endorsed by him in the following manner, to wit: "Pay the Secretary of the Treasury for redemption." When the notes are held by other parties than the original payee they must bear his endorsement and also be endorsed by the holders in the manner above stated. In all cases, evidence of the identity of person presenting or forwarding notes in which the name of the payee shall have been inserted and of the genuineness of his endorsement will be required. When notes transmitted are endorsed by an attorney, administrator, executor, or other agent, they must be accompanied by the original or duly certified copy of the authority under which he acts. All letters should state the kind—registered or coupon—and the denomination of the bonds desired in exchange. When registered bonds are ordered, the parties ordering should state at which of the following places they wish the interest to be paid, to wit: New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore, New Orleans, Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati or Charleston.

Parties desiring to avail themselves of the offer of the department to pay express charges upon Seven-thirties forwarded for conversion will forfeit this privilege unless they transmit such notes in packages distinct from all other securities, upon which the department does not pay expenses of transmission.

MAXIMILLIAN.

The United States Senate acted wisely in refusing to interfere in behalf of Maximilian. From the first the Austrian Prince was nothing more or less than a tool in the hands of Napoleon III, and his assumption of power in Mexico could never be regarded as other than a usurpation on the part of an invader. Now that Maximilian has failed, neither he or the Emperor of Austria has any claim on the Government of the United States for aid and comfort. The Mexican people should be left alone to deal with Maximilian and his ragged army, all of whom deserve to be treated as robbers and murderers. The whole course of French interference in Mexico has been to insult the people of United States. Maximilian went to Mexico when he felt sure the American people were in no condition to call him to account for his conduct. He deserves no sympathy from our Government, and all the harm we wish him is that he may be made to feel the penalties of the Mexican laws he has violated.

The iron ore mines belonging to G. Roodey, along the Juniata river, near Mt. Union, are said to contain both gold and silver. An assay proves the ore to contain $12,80 of gold and eighty cents of silver to the ton of iron.

THE LEGISLATURE.

That copperhead papers should originate all kinds of charges against Republican legislatures is not a matter of surprise, as it is a part of their vocation, says the Lewistown Gazette, but that Republican editors should persist in ridiculous assumptions because, forsooth, they could not accomplish all they wanted, is going a little too far and saying too much. We have never known a legislature that pleased everybody in its acts, and we cannot find one tenth as much fault either in the present or preceding assembly as some of our cotemporaries. On the contrary a large number of wise and judicious laws have been passed,—the tax-payers relieved from heavy burdens of State taxation—and most liberal provisions made for soldiers' orphan children. Less monopolies have also been created than in former years; temperance obtained a boon it had in vain sought from former legislatures by giving discretionary power to judges over licenses, and a disposition was manifested in many other things to prefer right to wrong. All the stories got up about increasing their pay, about bribery, and many other charges at which disappointed politicians and copperheads snap like hungry dogs at a bone, even if it is putrid, are either totally false or prevented to suit the appetites of those who would worship Jeff Davis as readily as Hiester Clymer or Andrew Johnson to secure an office.

LOUISIANA.

The New Orleans Republican of the 13th ultimo has the following:
General Sheridan has issued an order appointing a military commission for the trial of Mr. Walker and such other persons as may be properly brought before it. The necessity for this order arises from the fact that the said Walker, who killed a man some time since in one of the country parishes was never brought to trial for the act, but simply subjected to a mock examination and immediately released. It is rumored that certain well-known persons who were prominent, either as principals or accessories, in the bloody scenes of the 30th of July last, may have an opportunity to defend themselves before this tribunal.

ABOUT VOTING WITH THE NEGRO.

The New Orleans Pecune has the following:
We have urged our people to no longer indulge in any false squeamishes about accepting the negro as with themselves a voter, and to indulge in no hesitations as to his competency and qualifications. Whether we vote or not, he will; and those who refuse, from the most false of all species of pride, to vote also, will deserve, if they do not have it visited upon them, the execration of all those who, being ostracized by Congress, are dependent upon the resolute promptness of their fellow-citizens for salvation from further deprivation of their natural rights. The man who would refuse to plough his land with a mule because he preferred a horse and could not get one, or to permit a carpenter to mend his broken table when there was no cabinet-maker near, or to walk the same street which a black man uses, may well commit such folly. Such a man ought, perhaps, to have no vote, for he has no discretion. But a man who is indifferent whether black man or a white one has dug the ground which grows the vegetables, or a white or black cook prepared his meal, ought to have no weakness of the stomach, because when he puts in his vote, a black man's ballot has gone in before his, or another one puts in one just after.

It is ridiculous for any one to pretend that he is lowered or disgraced by going to the polls with a negro, when he crowds in at the general delivery with him to get a letter at the post-office. Is it because the negro is exercising political influence and control by his vote? You will surrender this altogether to him and to those who remain at the South only to despoil you, and to work him as a means to enrich themselves, if you do not vote. You must either give up this control of all your affairs to the negro and the Radical, or exercise jointly with him the duty of suffrage. There is no time left your reflective judgment. It is now or never.—If you do not step up now to the polls and secure a share in the government of the State, it can be so organized that you never will be allowed.

There is a use for the Russian Possessions recently purchased by Secretary Seward, as appears by this suggestion of the Chicago Post:

What to do with the Mormons was evidently in the mind's eye of the Prime Minister when he bought Russian America. He knew that they would have to leave Utah before long, and so he provided a new territory where the much-married could go "sealing" to their heart's content.

If the icicles of Russian America can be made servicable in cooling the passions of the polygamists of Utah, Mr. Seward has not cast away the people's millions for naught.

The Reading Daily Dispatch deplores the fact that Berks is the only county in the State where neither arrangements have been made or a proposition discussed for the erection of a monument to the memory of Union soldiers. It is not strange that Berks county should refuse to honor dead soldiers when she gave a large majority against intrusting live soldiers with the elective franchise.

SOLDIERS LEFT-HAND WRITING.

To the Left-Armed Corps of the Union

The Editor of the Soldiers Friend, in compliance with urgent requests from members of the Left Armed Corps, here by announces that he will distribute a second series of prizes amounting to FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS in premiums for the ten best specimens of Left-Hand Penmanship, by soldiers and Sailors of the Union who lost their Right Arm by disability or amputation in the late war for the Union.

There will be ten equal prizes of Fifty Dollars each, the award of the Prizes, to be made by distinguished officers of the Army and Navy, who will furnish an autograph Letter to the successful competitors.

The Premiums will bear the name of the officer making the award, and will be known as follows:—

The Grant Premium; the Farragut Premium; the Sherman Premium; the Sheridan Premium; the Howard Premium; the Meade Premium; the Hancock Premium; the Hooker Premium; the Geary Premium; the Logan Premium.

The Manuscripts will all be sent to the Editor of the Soldiers Friend, to be registered, numbered, and prepared for inspection, and when so prepared the awards will be made.

DIRECTIONS:

The writers must furnish a sketch of their military history, from the date of their enlistment to their discharge, including company, regiment, rank, a list of battles, date and place where wounded, etc.

Original essays, poems, tales, incidents and anecdotes of the war may be added, and are earnestly desired.

The paper must be wide-ruled white letter paper, about eight by ten inches to the page, and leaving an inch margin at the top, bottom and sides.

The sheets must not be gummed or fastened together, but correctly numbered at the top.

Write on only one side of the paper. Write in black ink. Pencil writing will not be admitted on the catalogue.

No one is entitled to compete who can use his right arm, or who has learned to write with his left hand previous to the date of his wound. Those only are entitled who have learned to write since the date of their disability in the service.

A proper affidavit must be made to the facts, to prevent imposition and injustice. Photographs are requested in every case where it is practicable to furnish one.

Writers are SPECIALLY CAUTIONED against sending manuscripts or correspondence to the Headquarters of any of the officers who are to award the prizes, as it will not serve their purposes in the least, and will only make unnecessary expense and delay. All manuscripts must be sent to the office of the Soldier's Friend, to be registered and classified.

None of those who drew prizes on the first competition will be entitled to compete for the present prizes. But they are invited to contribute new specimens to the collection.

Manuscripts should be sent wrapped around a wooden roller, or in a paste board or card cylinder, to preserve them in the best order. They should be rolled lengthwise, and not across the page.

The lists will remain open to competition till the first day of July next.

The manuscripts are to be collected in permanent form for preservation, and to remain in the possession of the editor of the Soldier's Friend for publication.

Circulars and full directions will be sent on application. Address

The New Haven Courier says that Captain Wm. W. Clark of New Haven, an old, successful and intelligent whaler, who has spent years on the coast of Russian America, declares that the country is worth ten times what we paid for it—its fisheries are apparently inexhaustible its harbors frequent and safe, its climate comparatively mild, and its lands rich in valuable ores.
