OUR DISTRICT NOMINEES.

Col. JOHN K. ROBISON.

We rejoice to announce the nomination of Col. Robison for the Senate by the District Conference which met at Lewistown on last Friday. It has been many years since Juniata had a Senator, and we venture to say there was but few men in the county who felt any confidence in us getting the nominee this time. Although the Conference was attended by several hundred people and great interest manifested and the claims of five gentlemen were to be considered and the many conflicting interests to be harmonized, yet the result was acquiesced in by the rival candidates and their friends, and all parted in a good humor, determined to elect the ticket.

Col. Robison is a plain, practical farmer, a man of good sense and judgment, and will make an honest and faithful Senator, and just what the tax-payers want to guard their interests. We have had too many talking men in the Senate, and the people want good, honest, practical men, and such a man they have in Col. Robison. He left his farm and family at the call of his country and led the first company of cavalry in the field when the war broke out, and with the exception of a few months was in the service until after the surrender of Lee. Although he started out a Captain and after passing through nearly fifty battles and skirmishes and being wounded severely several times, he rose step by step until he returned home Colonel of his regiment. He was a gallant soldier, a true patriot, and will make a faithful Senator. A man who was willing and competent to lead a regiment in battle is competent for Senator, and the people will say so by an overwhelming majority. We feel confident the people of this county will reward him by giving him a majority over his rivals, Messrs. McIntyre and Shugart.

SAMUEL McVITTY, Esq.

This gentleman was also nominated by the Conference for Senator and is the colleague of Col. Robison. The Conference did very wisely, first, in selecting a soldier like Col. Robison, and then placing on the ticket with him a civilian like Mr. McVitty. This gentleman is now a resident of Huntingdon but formerly resided in Black Log, and carried on the tannery there. He is well known to many of our citizens and enjoys their confidence without regard to party. He is a tanner by trade, is a plain, quiet, practical man, of good sound common sense, of great intelligence in regard to public affairs, and is in every way well qualified to make a first-rate Senator. He knows what the people's interests are and will faithfully watch over them. He is admitted by all who know him to be a man of strict integrity and eminent purity of character, and against whom no one will dare to say a disrespectful word. He is not what is called a politician, but he has always been an active Republican and is sound on all the essential questions of the day. His nomination is a compliment to Huntingdon county, and they say they will repay us by giving the whole ticket 1200 majority. Without desiring in the least to detract from the merits and claims of the other aspirants, we think the ticket is a very strong one, and under the circumstances very proper to be settled. To the Centre and Perry Counties who favored Juniata and Huntingdon in making the ticket we return our thanks. As it stands now Blair and Perry have had the Senators for three years, Huntingdon and Juniata will now get them for three years and then Centre and Mifflin will be entitled to the candidates three years hence, and will get them. Every county will be served before the District is changed. This was the agreement made three years ago by the Conference when Messrs. Hall and Haines were nominated and has been adhered to by the late Conference.

HON. H. S. WHARTON.

This gentleman has been re-nominated for Assembly and is the colleague of ourself on the ticket. He served us faithfully in the House, last Session and has been rewarded by the Republicans of Huntingdon for his good deeds by re-nomination which has not been accorded to any man in that county for over ten years. During all this time they have failed to re-nominate their Assemblymen, but now the rule has been changed in favor of our clever friend Harry Wharton.

We rejoice at it as if we are to be elected we want so good a fellow as Harry for our colleague. He will carry Huntingdon by a largely increased majority. We are too modest to say much about ourself, but we promise to use every honorable means to secure our election and if successful to serve my constituents faithfully and if possible, justify your confidence and kindness in selecting and electing me to so important and honorable a position.

COPPERHEAD LEGION.

Our enemies persistently clamor about the magnitude of the national debt, says the North American, as a proof of Republican incapacity to govern, and therefore argue that we ought to sustain Copperhead candidates for office. But will they pay off the debt or repudiate it? If they propose to pay it off, in what way can they do so without increasing already enormous taxation? Yet these same Copperheads keep up the same clamor about the taxation as being a vast incubus.—How can they reduce both the debt and the taxes? They already have the whole national administration in their hands, including the President and Secretary of the Treasury. We can give them no power to reduce either debt or taxes. If they had a majority in both houses of Congress, they could not reduce expenses without embarrassing their own administration, unless they were to stop all payment of bounties and pensions to soldiers. Still they appeal to the soldiers as being their special friends, and represent the Republicans as their enemies. Would they pay seven and a half millions of dollars for Alaska and five millions for Samana, or would they repudiate these engagements, which are not Republican, but made by Seward and Johnson?

They magnify the burden of the debt and endeavor to render it odious to the people, at the same time that they pretend to accept the lessons of the civil war and the splendid results achieved by it. If the war and its results are to be considered thus as beyond question, why dispute the debt without which it could not have been carried on? If they do not desire to repudiate that debt, why seek to render it odious? If they so ardently wish to reduce the debt, why increase its load of interest by funding greenbacks bearing no interest in securities that pay six per cent. in gold? If as a matter of economy they are opposed to paying bounties to the soldiers, why go on paying out millions for more territory? If they are so well satisfied with the greenbacks, why reiterate the old State cries about an excessive and worthless currency? If they prefer a guaranteed bank currency, why seek to undermine the credit of the national banks? If they are in favor of a reduction of taxation, why oppose the abolition of the onerous taxes on domestic industry? They have constantly represented that there existed so great and pressing a need for revenue as to leave no room for a lowering of taxes, and yet they keep up a clamor at the same time against this very taxation as unjust.

They seek to make the Union soldiers regard them as their friends, while they continually depreciate their glorious deeds, and award more credit to rebel troops than to our own. They pretend to abhor the assassination of Abraham Lincoln while they lament the execution of his assassins, and strain every nerve to render odious all engaged in their conviction and execution. They lay claim to patriotism and adhesion to the Union side in the civil war, while they do not disguise that their sympathies were with the rebels, and regard Jefferson Davis and his associates as the greatest statesmen, and Lee, Beauregard, Johnson, etc., as the greatest of generals. They perpetually cry out for the Constitution, at the same time that they associate with rebels who sought to destroy it. They claim to be Democrats, yet oppose democratic principles. They assert their devotion to nationality, yet oppose everything national. Such a bundle of contradictions was probably never before seen in any political contest. The party is a thing of contradictions, impossibilities, contradictions. Its creed cannot stand the test of any great national struggle.

Shall a Guilty Man go Unpunished?

Three months ago, or just before Congress adjourned, the shrewdest and most sagacious men in the country were frankly of the opinion that the impeachment of the President would not be attempted at the coming session of Congress. It was believed that he was inclined to do his duty, even while sticking on points of mere political differences; then he had attempted no overt act, and it was thought he would never resort to such an effort.—But three months have worked a wonderful change in the public mind. The most casual observer of political affairs, those who have paid the least attention to the acts of the President, like those who have watched him closely, are satisfied he is a guilty man—that he has premeditated mischief, and is deliberately resolved to nullify the laws of Congress. There never was a criminal charged with the violation of law, who proceeded to the perpetration of his crime with an equal amount of deliberation to that which has marked the acts violative of law committed by Andrew Johnson. He is a guilty man before God and the country, and the fact must constantly be kept before the people. The highest duty of the Republican press is now confined to the labor of constantly keeping the people in mind of the horrible fact that a criminal is at the head of national affairs—that a desperate demagogue is invested with chief executive duty, and that the men whom we beat on the battle field, are now the favorite counselors of the President. Shall this guilty man be punished? Can the country afford to allow the reckless faithlessness of Andrew Johnson, his base assumption of power as President, his perjured neglect to enforce the law, his willful violation of law, and his open alliances with our enemies—can the country afford to allow these acts of a guilty man to go unpunished? We believe it cannot do so with safety.

HON. JOHN H. WRIGHT.

We congratulate our friend Wright upon his re-nomination for Assembly by the Republicans of Snyder county. He served them faithfully and well last session, and they rewarded him by a re-nomination, and we have no doubt by an election too. Mr. Wright was born and raised in this county, has many relations here and hosts of friends, and we all rejoice at his success among the sterling people of Snyder county. No young man ever left this county with a better character and whose success will be more gratifying to us than Wright. He left his office and profession in the hour of peril to the country and gallantly met the common enemy in the field, and now upon the return of peace he has cast his lot in the good little county of Snyder, and they already have called him to honors and position. We can assure them he will never betray their confidence but will ever be as true to them as he always has been to his friends in Juniata. We hope to record his re-election by an increased majority.

CALIFORNIA ELECTION.

There seems to be no doubt that the Copperheads of California were allowed to elect their candidates for Governor and other State offices, by the silly bickering and unreasonable differences which prevailed in the Republican ranks of that State. This result, barren as it is in every particular, for national effect has nevertheless excited the most ridiculous rejoicing among the snakes in this vicinity.—Another such a victory would certainly produce fits in every Copperhead in the country.

One of the principal points at issue in the campaign in Ohio is the tariff, the Democrats strongly favoring free trade and bitterly denouncing protection. The people of this State have a vital interest in this question, and they should remember in the coming elections the attitude assumed by the Democracy of other States and the free-trade principles secretly cherished by the Democratic leaders and candidates in Pennsylvania.

CAPT. H. H. WILSON.—The following appears in the Juniata Republican last week.

COMMITTEE MEETING.—The Republican Standing Committee met on Monday last, and placed the name of C. B. Horning, Esq., of Fermanagh township, in nomination for Jury Commissioner. He will make a faithful public officer. A member suggested the propriety of adopting regulations to govern the special election to be held on the question of the adoption of the Crawford County System, but the Chairman decided that they had nothing to do with it! Do the Committee intend to nullify the action of the Convention? Let the people demand its adoption, and its adoption now. Procrastination can do no good, but will assuredly lead to suspicions of a want of good faith.

I had hoped Mr. David Wilson would at least publish his first number without misrepresenting me. No such suggestion was made before the County Committee and Mr. Wilson either has been misled or willfully misrepresented me. I pronounce the charge false in every particular.—Since Mr. Wilson has taken this public ladder to attack me without a cause I take this public manner to answer him that I am ready and able to meet all such assaults come from what quarter they may. I do not wish to implicate you in these personal controversies and am alone responsible for my replies to such malignants and only ask space in your paper for my defence. If Mr. David Wilson is the high-toned gentleman he claims to be he will correct his statement, and if he fails to do so, he will then be guilty of a willful falsehood before the public.

Respectfully

JOHN J. PATTERSON.

NOTE.—The above article was written, and at the request of a number of Republicans handed to H. H. Wilson, Editor of the JUNIATA SENTINEL, for publication in that paper about three weeks prior to the time of holding the delegate election. He refused to publish it in the SENTINEL, giving as the reason for his refusal that he was a candidate. John J. Patterson was present at the time, and after reading the article positively declared that no such communication should be printed in the SENTINEL, and told Wilson not to publish it. My object in publishing it now is to let the people see that it contained nothing in conflict with the principles of the Republican party.

CAPT. H. H. WILSON.—The above appears in last week's Juniata Republican over the signature of J. Lyons.

Since Mr. Lyons has taken this public manner to willfully misrepresent me I take this public manner to charge that the above statement is a deliberate falsehood, that he knew when he wrote it; he knows and you know that I can prove it to be such.

Respectfully

JOHN J. PATTERSON.
