PLAIN FACTS FOR TAX-PAYERS.

It should be borne in mind by every tax-payer of the Nation that the enormous burden of debt under which this country is staggering, was fixed upon it by a rebellion inaugurated, fostered and strengthened by the Democratic party.

It should be borne in mind that this debt was enormously increased by the aid and comfort given to the rebellion while in progress, by the Democratic party, whereby the rebels were encouraged to prolong the struggle against the Union armies, after all other reasonable hope of success had been extinguished.

It should be borne in mind that the debt of the Nation was still further increased by the efforts of the Democratic party to cripple and destroy the public credit, in the midst of the struggle for national existence, and that the national bonds were thereby forced to heavy discount in contracting loans with which to carry on the war, and the national currency was thus largely reduced below its true value in gold, thereby adding enormously to the cost of all material purchased for the use of the Government.

It should be borne in mind by every taxpayer of the Nation, that the Democratic party stands pledged to secure compensation to the slave holding rebels for every slave set free by the Emancipation Proclamation and Constitutional Amendment, thus adding an immense and unjust burden to the already onerous taxation under which the country groans.

It should be borne in mind, that all the Democratic members in the House of the Fortieth Congress, have placed themselves upon record by their votes, in favor of the monstrous proposition that the National government is liable, under the Reconstruction laws, for every dollar of the State debts of all the States in rebellion.

It should be borne in mind by every taxpayer, that the Democratic party, through its orators and writers for the press, is committed to the unheard of proposition that the Confederate war debt, contracted in the iniquitous struggle to overthrow the National Government, is justly chargeable against the Government, and that this party only waits the success of its insidious attempts to regain power, to fasten this debt upon the people of the United States.

It should be borne in mind by every taxpayer, that the Democratic party has made persistent and strenuous efforts to injure both public and private credit, and bring on a financial crisis, such as will make it impossible for the Nation to meet its obligations promptly, thus carrying wide-spread ruin throughout the country, and reducing to beggary thousands of widows and orphans and other worthy persons whose little all is invested in government bonds, for the redemption of which the faith of the Nation is pledged.

It should be borne in mind by every taxpayer that the Democratic party persistently opposes every effort made to lighten the public burden, by levying duties upon foreign imports, thus requiring foreign capitalists and traders who have the benefits of our markets to bear a small share of our burden in return, and at the same time protect our home manufacturers from the deadly competition of foreign capitalists who grow fat upon the proceeds of pauper labor.

And finally, it should be borne in mind by every tax-payer, and every patriot who has the good of the country at heart, that the speakers of the Democratic party openly avow that their hope for the success of that party lies only in financial disaster to the country, whether caused by failure of crops, by the discrediting of the national currency, by preventing the Nation from meeting its obligations, or however resulting.

We earnestly hope that every Union paper of Pennsylvania will keep these facts before the people continually, until after the next election shall have rebuked the iniquity of the Democratic party by the largest Republican majority ever given in the State.—Miners' Journal.

THE TRIAL OF DAVIS.—How the Farce Will be Played.—A letter from Richmond says that Davis will appear for trial at the November term of the United States District Court at Richmond, and the case will probably be finally disposed of in this way: The counsel for the defense will declare themselves ready for trial. The Court will signify its assent in the same manner. The government will ask for time under the pretense of being unprepared—a shift to get out of the trial. The Court will then say that it will be in session for a considerable period, which will afford the government ample time to prepare, and if its representatives fail to prosecute the prisoner before the term or the court expires, it will in that case probably declare the prisoner discharged in the absence of the prosecutor.

An absent minded professor, in going out of the gateway of his college, ran against a cow. In the confusion of the moment he raised his hat, and exclaimed: "I beg your pardon, madam." Soon after he stumbled against a lady in the street; in sudden recollection of his former mishap, he called out: "Is that you again, brate?"

PHILADELPHIA MARKETS.

We are somewhat astonished to notice that the Quaker city of Philadelphia puts forth a claim to being, not only the greatest manufacturing city on this continent, but with the exception of London, the greatest in the world. We are all familiar with its advantages as a quiet and pleasant place of residence; but that it should claim to be a great industrial centre, will be news to many. As the matter is one, however, in which our merchants are directly interested, and the consumers of goods indirectly, we will give a brief synopsis of its claims.

In 1860, according to the Census returns, there were in Philadelphia, 6,298 manufacturing establishments having a capital of $75,318,885, which employed 98,000 hands, and produced an annual value of $136,000,000. Recently, Mr. Edwin T. Freedley, a well known author, has prepared a volume of 700 pages, on the Manufactures of Philadelphia, and demonstrated that, in 1866, the factories produced over two hundred millions of dollars of staple goods. This is an astounding exhibit; no other city on the American continent approximates this amount. In 1855, the State of Massachusetts, including Boston, Lowell, and all her famous manufacturing towns, did not produce more than two hundred and forty millions. In 1860, New York had only seven small Cotton Goods Manufactories, and no Woolen Mills; Philadelphia is now the commercial centre of two hundred and sixty Woolen Factories, and besides, several thousand hand looms, of which the annual product is equal to that of seventy additional mills of average size. The class of Dry Goods manufactured in Philadelphia is of these low priced staple goods, which are especially adapted to the wants of the people in the Middle, Western and Southern States. Millions of yards of Pantaloons, Cottonades, Checks and Stripes, Tickings, Osageurs, Kentucky Jeans, and Narrow Textile Fabrics, are made there every year. Of Carpets, the product amounts to nearly ten millions of dollars; of Ready Made Clothing, to eighteen millions; of Refined Sugar, over twenty millions; of Boots and Shoes, over five millions; of Stoves, nearly three millions. Philadelphia claims to have the largest Military Goods Manufactory, the largest Chemical factories, the largest Cordage factory, the largest Book-binding house, and the largest Locomotive Works and Machine Shops in the United States. It is quite evident, that her proximity to the Coal Mines and Iron Beds, her low rents and facilities afforded mechanics for comfortable and economical living, have given Philadelphia a start in manufacturing, which nothing but her want of enterprise can retard. It is moreover evident that with the progress already made in manufacturing, the Philadelphia market is worthy the attention of those who wish to purchase goods at first hand.

THE FAITHFUL DOG. The Humboldt (Neb.) Register of July 20 recites the annexed incident: Some time since we published an account of the murder of an Italian called Toney, between Paradise Valley and Beachey's new stage road. At that time he had with him a large Newfoundland dog as his only companion. Toney was doubtless shot from ambush while passing through a ravine, and so disabled by the first fire that he could make no resistance. Judging from the scars and wounds received by the dog, he must have fought bravely in defense of his master's body, but failed to save it from mutilation by the savage murderers. The mutilated body of the unfortunate man laid some ten days where he was killed before it was discovered, and all this time this faithful sentinel and guard stood watch over the dead body of its master, without food or water, and would probably have perished rather than abandon him, and when found by a party of white men, seemed still loath to surrender his charge into their hands, until convinced that they were friends, and intended no harm to his poor dead master. The body was moved to Paradise Valley and buried, the dog following close by the corpse until it was placed in the ground and covered away from sight, when his moans became touchingly painful to hear.

A lady correspondent of the Milwaukee Sentinel, who, writing under a nom de plume, had attracted considerable attention, received a note from a gentleman admirer, recently, who said that a lady who could put such beautiful thoughts on paper must be equally gifted in the person, etc., etc., and to meet her by moonlight alone, to which she wrote an assent. She came to the rendezvous veiled, they walked, he talked, he made love; finally gained consent to take a little kiss, and the veil was raised for that purpose, and the stricken gentleman gazed upon the comely features of his own wife.

Says Fanny Fern: "I am fifty-five, and I feel half the time as if I was just made." So do a great many of our ladies, and they keep the milliner shops going too.

Beer fills many a bottle, and the bottle fills many a bier. Very true.
