MIFFLINTOWN.
Wednesday Morning, October 20, 1867

H. H. WILSON, Editor and Publisher

FOR PRESIDENT,
GEN'L ULYSSES S. GRANT OF ILLINOIS.

CALL OF THE COUNTY COMMITTEE

The members of the County Committee are requested to meet at the SENTINEL office, on Monday, Dec. 2d at 1 o'clock P. M. (court week) to prescribe rules for conducting the election ordered by the Republican County Convention to be held on the second Tuesday of March next, to vote for or against the adoption of the Crawford County System. A full attendance is particularly desired as it is important every district should be represented.

The following gentlemen compose the committee.

- Mifflintown—J. J. Patterson, Solm'n. Books, Fermanagh—Daniel Seiber, Jacob Howr.
- Walker—John Metzger, E. Davis.
- Delaware—S. O. Evans, Geo. W. Smith.
- Monroe—Samuel Brown, A. G. Shellenberger.
- Susquehanna—E. Long, E. Crawford.
- Greenwood—T. Rumberger, H. F. Zeders.
- Fayette—M. Hoffman, E. Shellenberger.
- Patterson—S. H. Brown, F. F. Rohm.
- Mifflord—John Balsbach, John Earnest, Jr.
- Perryville—Capt. J. Thompson, W. B. Okeson.
- Turbutt—E. W. Berkeley, Isaac Heckman.
- Spruce Hill—W. J. Evans, Thomas Patton.
- Beale—R. Doyle, Wm. Young.
- Tuscarora—G. M. Smelter, James Murphy.
- Lack—James Wallace, Matthias Stump.
- Black Log—Jacob Guster, James McIntyre.
- J. J. PATTERSON, Chairman.

FALSE PRETENCES.

When Allison and Davis started the Republican it was to be the true organ of the people, or rather the party. They said the SENTINEL was the organ of a few. Well, all know the course Allison and Davis took. They sold out to Johnson and tried to defeat Geary and the whole ticket.

So when Allison and Davis sold out to Wilson, Sterrett, Lyons and the other sure-heads, they said they would bring the Republican back to the party and it would be the organ of the people, and charged again that the SENTINEL was the organ of only a few. Well, the result is before you again. Not one man connected with the Republican but voted—with nearly all their subscribers—against the ticket and helped to defeat and now glory in the overthrow of their party. The SENTINEL has never heeded their slanders. We have always stood by our party and devoted its columns to the defence of its principles and the success of its nominees. Because it can't be used by a set of disorganizers, they charge that it is not true to the party. But actions speak louder than words, and the verdict is in favor of our fidelity to the party and against their bold, base betrayal of it. They call it their organ and certainly they need one, for if ever a set of fellows needed forgiveness it is this scurvy crew. The idea that Davy Wilson and Bill Davis can palm themselves as Republicans is too absurd, and no one believes it but the miserable company they are in.

It was only in such a campaign as the late one that treason like theirs can be successful, but next year with Grant as our candidate and the people aroused and united these base traitors to their party will hide their heads and will scarcely be felt in counting up the small vote that will be mean enough to be cast against the great soldier.

Men like Wilson, Lyons, Sterrett & Co. are mean enough to vote against Grant while many a gallant Democrat who followed his banner in the fight will vote for his old commander.

THE CRAWFORD COUNTY SYSTEM

As will be seen in another column the Chairman of the County Committee has called a meeting of the Committee on Monday of the Court, to prescribe rules for taking the sense of the party on the adoption of the Crawford County System. This prompt action of the Chairman justifies his friends in denying the charge made by certain parties that it was not the intention to afford the people an opportunity to vote on that question. Some men who pretended to be Republicans and created a great disturbance at the Delegate Election, seemed more anxious to distract the party by raising false issues on the Crawford County System, than that they actually cared for its adoption. The County Convention ordered the County Committee to provide rules for a vote in March. Yet these disorganizers were not satisfied, and in order to defeat the ticket raised a hue and cry about the Crawford County System. The County Committee and every good man in the party was too busy fighting the common enemy and were working too faithfully to elect our ticket, beset as it was by enemies from without and traitors within the party, to turn attention to any side issues.

The election is now over, and although we are defeated by the treachery of these men, yet we are strong enough to succeed hereafter without them.

It is now the duty of the members of the party to seriously consider the question of changing the present system of making nominations. We are ready to receive and publish any communications on the subject on either side. There are objections to any system, but we hope the discussion will be in a friendly manner, having for its object the good of the party, and not the personal interest of a few disorganizers and office seekers. There is plenty of time for ample discussion, and we invite communications on the subject from the members of the party.

BILL REES' BENEFIT.

On Saturday evening last the "White Man's party" under the management of Bill Rees tendered Bill Rees a benefit. We shall endeavor to give our readers a correct account of the proceedings, describing all the principle actors in the play from Davy Heck down to the Little Corporal.

About five o'clock in the evening the streets and alleys around and about the Patterson House were cleared for action, and for about half an hour the few spectators who were present thought the play had fizzled, when lo! the Major General commanding, known as "Little John," appeared in the alley in the rear of the Patterson House. He was mounted on a magnificent fire war charger, a correct likeness of which we have had engraved at great expense and here present.

General Little John looked proud in deed as he rode his fire steed and gave the command in a stentorian voice: "White men, prepare for action!" When behold! the door of Bill Rees' back house flew open as if by magic and a stream of living beings poured forth, such as has not been witnessed since the days of Noah. First came Busy Plum who was specially desirous of showing his new hat, and filling the place of honor and profit as he had been hired for the occasion—bearing a torch, followed by the gay and festive "Buckeye Boy" who went 900 miles to vote for Vallandigham.

In the rear of whom was the "Sacred Cattle," led by Dave Dutchman and the man who runs "Der Guiper," better known as John Hollow-box. At this stage of the proceedings one of the cattle gored one of the "Knights," surnamed James, a little fellow who was over-anxious to get among his own kind. He is better known as a Railroad "boss" who tried to use his position to influence votes for Copperhead candidates.

This cut represents the Forage Master of the 16th playing "Good Samaritan" in the act of rubbing down the "Knight" that was gored, with cheap whisky. The little fellow in the rear in the above plate is a correct likeness of the chap that tends Dr. Crawford's office in the Doctor's absence, in the act of tasting the "cordial" used by the "Good Samaritan."

This is the in which Thomas U. Sulouff hauled the "stuff" that revived the spirits of Old Joe, Wyrick and the newly elected Senator. After the entire crowd had been revived by a pull of the "stuff," the procession moved, and we noticed about twenty individuals, the half of whom were boys, carrying torches, and among the other half we noticed "my son Thomas Jefferson," supported by Davy Heck and Cloyd Parker, Old Hutchison, Enoch the retired Jury Commissioner, Bill Rees' hostler, and Henry (Slimgut,) all bearing torches. In the rear of these Hogentogler carried a live

The rooster, it is said, behaved badly, but we cannot vouch for its truth, but Mr. Hogentogler can inform any person that wishes to know.

In the rear of the rooster we noticed Dave

What is it! He was looking through his spectacles at a banner on which was inscribed "I've hired out to keep this crooked orris, and I mean to keep it as long as Andy and Sore Heels will let me."

This is a correct representation of the "Beef Wagon" on which was borne along in triumph the "only Johnson man remaining in the county." Poor devil! we pitied him. He looked as if he had just come over from the bogs of Scotland.

Closely following in the rear of the beef wagon was a motley crew who had lately been kicked out of the Republican party. They were receiving the first reward of their treachery to a party they had disgraced. They were permitted to walk in the rear of the procession and were each provided with a dark lantern.

Among this small crowd we noticed Brigadier-General Jerrymyddler, a late importation from Perry, who carried in his hand, in addition to the dark lantern, a piece of the stick that had done him so much service when he was so very lame—just before the draft and a check for seventy-five dollars with which he was anxious to purchase some soldier's hundred dollar bounty claim. This fellow was noticed to keep very close to the gallant chap that marched his army on Washington to hurt the tyrant Lincoln from his throne. Another of the same kidney followed him he paddled his own canoe, he had followed the raging canal and carried a banner on which was inscribed, "I have filled every office in the gift of the people from tavern keeper down to supervisor on the canal. He was an honest looking old cuss, and we don't suppose he had ever cheated anybody. He was an old hunker at one time but had come over to the Republicans, but like a hog has returned to his wallow.

Sore heels, without his sword or epaulettes walking immediately in the rear of the two persons above named draped in mourning. He had lost his dog! He was lamenting because he would have to send to Scotland for another. "Our Georgie," a retired Johnson Revere Collector was trying to console Sore Heels and offered to take the place of the "lost dog" or any other thing.

The fellow from Perry was there and the Professor of high morality and Poor House notoriety from Perryville and the brave Lieutenant of the 49th from Lack was there. He brought up the rear, as usual, at a safe distance—He was afraid the torches might go off or that Hogentogler's rooster might crow. Dr. Sterrett, a standing candidate for any office in the gift of any party, came up about four miles in the rear. These dark lantern fellows in the rear, looked foreboding indeed. They were pointed out by old copperheads as the fellows who had betrayed the Republican party.

After parading some of the principal streets of Patterson they crossed the bridge and showed themselves to the citizens of Mifflin. Meeting with a very cool reception, only attracting the attention of a few small boys, they returned to Rees' porch, when and where a Bon-shell exploded, the report of which was, "Ladies and gentlemen, unaccustomed as I am to public speaking, and having a severe attack of the piles, I move that Hon. Lewis Burchfield act as President," and the "Little Corporal," after leaving his umbrella against the house, and placing his cap under the chair, bent very gracefully before the audience, and said "pale faces, ugh!" and swooned into the chair. [Hogentogler was seen wiping vigorously at his coat sleeve.

Naughty rooster.] The Corporal spoke, and silence reigned. Everything was quiet—not a man stirred, not a dog stirred, not a goose stirred, but Hogentogler's rooster stirred, and he was again seen doing some heavy rubbing, when Bill Rees appeared at the corner of the house, and in a clear voice exclaimed, "Yep!" when Amos jumped up and nominated one hundred and eleven Vice Presidents and thirty-nine Secretaries, none being present but Sam Yellet, Noer Yelder, Jim Kurowell, and old Yumphyre. Jake Bydler came forward with three quires of paper, and commenced taking notes. We were shown the paper after the meeting was over, and it was scribbled full of big niggers, little niggers, male niggers, female niggers, black niggers and yellow niggers; and he had written a petition to be presented to "Senature McIntire," stating that him and his friends were opposed to raising sheep in Juniata county, for they disliked the smell of wool. [Hogentogler again attracted the attention of the audience. Ugly bird.]

The principle speakers were Bill Rees and Bill Rees' hostler. Bill Rees entertained the audience in his usual eloquent style. His remarks melted "Squire Wyrick and a certain Railroad Ticket Agent" to tears. They embraced each other in their joy; and while Bill was "wetting up" Wyrick sang the following beautiful song, the Agent joining in the chorus:

"Nigger on a word pile,
Can't count eleven,
Put him in a feather bed
And send him to h—
ogentogler, keep your eye on the chicken
he don't rest w—ell."

Quiet was restored and Bill went on with his speech: "Fellow citizens, I am posed to be niggers. I got up this dem'stration for my own benefit. I'm 'posed to make niggers. Democrats, if you're got any greenbacks you don't want I'll take 'em. This is my benefit, and I'm 'posed to all kinds of niggers if you patronize me." Just then a big-footed Honglishman who had been acting as orderly for the gallant Lieutenant General little John, and who is well known about Patterson as John Rowe, rode up to the porch, dismounted and went up to Rees' bar and called for a five cent glass of hoke. This liberality on the part of Rowe knocked all the talk out of Rees and he was sent to the rear under the care of X. Y. Z. M. Todd, Sheriff Loudon and George Washington J—Cobbs the fellow that gave Bob McWilliams that tremendous vote in Perryville—all on account of that lynch-pin.

Remarks were made about nigger, cheap whisky and the Good Templars by a fellow that claimed to have been elected Senator in this district. Ezra D. Parker and Ezra D. Parker's hostler were called on for speeches, but neither could be found. It is supposed they were together somewhere "going in on Rees' benefit." No other business appearing the rooster that betrayed Hogentogler crew, and the fellows that attended Bill Rees' benefit left for their homes.

The benefit would have been a success had there been more torches and more men to carry them. As it was we are informed that Rees foots up his receipts and expenditures as follows:

EXPENDITURES.
Candles.....	11cts
Four drinks of whisky, at Micky's.....	40 "
One Rooster stolen by some thieving Democrat.....	20 "
Total.....	71cts

RECEIPTS.
John Rowe—hoke.....	5cts
E. D. Parker, switzer kase.....	11 "
A. G. Bonshell, tripe.....	7 "
Fellow that blowed turn drum, cakes.....	3 "
Jerrymyddler, pea nuts.....	5 "
Total.....	31cts

Bill Rees has concluded that benefits don't pay and that he is not so much opposed to nigger as he is to Democratic liberality. Poor Bill, all that speech and all that vast expenditure of money for naught.

The appearance of Bill Rees after footing up the Receipts and Expenditures and striking a balance. Since the above was in type, Bill has sufficiently recovered to attend to his numerous customers at the Patterson House.

JERRY LYONS.

In last week's Republican somebody says that Jerry Lyons is ready to account for two hundred dollars he received when chairman of the County Committee. Is that all! We said several hundred dollars. He offers Bill Davis as proof that he made a statement to the committee of what he done with the money. Bill Davis indeed! There is not one member of the Republican party that would believe him on oath. You will have to get a better witness on the stand than Bill Davis.
