MONEY FOUND.—A gentleman from Patterson found money on Bridge street, in this borough last Monday. Information in regard to it can be had by calling at this office.

THE 26th day of this month has been appointed as the day for the Republican Senatorial Conference of this the 21st District, to meet at Tyrone and nominate two candidates for State Senate.

AT a Republican caucus meeting, held at Reading a few days ago, resolutions were adopted commending the National and State administrations, endorsing Senators Cameron and Scott, and in favor of the tariff on imports.

REPUBLICAN read and ponder. The New York World celebrates the North Carolina election by advising the Democrats to quit their assaults upon the colored people, to cease clamoring over dead issues, and to silence the cry for a white man's party.

READ! READ!—I would hereby inform the public that I have a good article of Allegheny Blacksmith Coal, and a large stock of good Yellow Pine Worked Flooring for sale at my lumber yard in Patterson. GEO. GOSHEN.

HAVE YOU A COUGH, Cold Pain in the Chest or Bronchitis? In fact have you the premonitory symptoms of the "insidious archer," Consumption? If so, know that relief is within your reach in the shape of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, which in many cases where hope had fled, has snatched the victim from the yawning grave.

PRIMARY ELECTION.—The Republican Primary Election will be held on Saturday next. The whole ticket may be found in the announcement column, and by consulting the first column on the editorial page the system under which we elect candidates and judges may be found. We also publish the ticket in full, separate from the announcements. Turn out, Republicans!

Attention! Soldiers of Company A, 49th Regt., Pa. Vol., formerly Co. I.—The surviving members of the above Company are requested to meet at the "Tuscarora House," kept by Mr. McManigal, in Perryville, Juniata Co., Pa., on the 19th day of September, 1870, at one o'clock. All those who are willing to meet as above requested, will signify their intention of doing so by notifying me by mail at Port Royal, Pa., on or before the 10th of the same month, as that much time will be required to prepare for our comfort. It is hoped that all will respond cheerfully and promptly to the above call. We meet to enjoy a day together socially. Nothing of a political nature will be mentioned. We hope this notice will reach all, either through the papers or those who read it. JOHN M. THOMPSON, Late Captain of the Company.

PRESIDENT GRANT was asked the other day by some western friends if he remembered a certain lady in St. Louis. "Oh yes, I remember her well," replied the President. "The last time I saw her I delivered her a load of wood."

A DREAM.—The editor of the Bellefonte Republican recently had a remarkable dream. Here it is:

I had a dream the other night, When everything was still, I dreamed that each subscriber Came up and paid his bill; Each wore a look of honesty, And smiles were round each eye, As they handed over the stamps, They yelled, "how is that for high."

PIMPLES on the Face, Eruptions, Blotches, Scrofulous diseases, and all sorts arising from impure blood, are cured by Dr. Pierce's Alternative Extract or Golden Medical Discovery. For Bronchitis, Laryngitis equals it.

Sold by druggists, or send three and a quarter dollars to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and get three bottles free of Express charges.

HARMONY.—The Patriot, of Harrisburg, stated last week that great harmony exists in the rank of the Democracy of this county. Away up among the mountains rolled the echo from the Altoona Sun, "Great harmony in the ranks of Juniata!" It is evident that the above-named journals had not, previous to writing, received a copy of the Independent, a Democratic paper of this place.

AMUSEMENT.—Tonsorial Professor John Robinson and three other men of color passed through the streets on Monday evening in a wagon drawn by one horse. One of the party drove. The Professor was costumed in a style, the descriptive technicalities of which our local is not acquainted with, and, therefore, does not attempt a description. He sat grave and dignified like a Sacerdote in hand, tingling away in proper time to the music made by the other two of the party on a guitar and an accordion. The party stopped several times during the round of the town on every occasion of which the Professor delivered a speech. The amusement closed in Patterson by the Professor sending up a balloon.

DETAILS OF THE SCRANTON ROBBERY.—The Scranton Republican of August 2d, says: One of the boldest, most adroitly planned and successfully managed burglaries occurred in this city yesterday afternoon at the Merchants' and Mechanics' Bank (John Handley & Co.) The street on which the bank is located—Lackawanna avenue—aside from being the main thoroughfare of our city, was crowded at the time with persons looking at the miners' procession, which was just passing the bank. The cashier was alone in the banking office. Mr. Handley, as well as the errand boy, having stepped out but a short time before. The construction of the building is admirably adapted to a scheme of the kind. The vault stands in the centre of the room, on one side, and in the rear of which is an entrance way leading both around the vault into the space behind the counter, and also back to the private office of Mr. Handley. Aside from this public entrance to the rear of the building, there is also a long hall opening into the street, and communicating with a wide hall leading into Mr. Handley's office, and also into the back part of the bank. All of these hallways and doors were open yesterday morning, affording interlopers unobscured range of the building.

It seems that a gentlemanly-appearing person entered the front door of the banking office about ten o'clock and engaged the close attention of Cashier Fuller in a financial discussion of the relative merits of the several interest-bearing securities. Simultaneously with the entrance of this man a boy, apparently about sixteen or seventeen years of age, wearing slippers, entered the long hall way from the street, and quickly and quietly passed around into the banking office, and slipping unnoticed behind the cashier, gained access to the vault and took from the safe several packages of currency.

Both the doors to the vault and the safe were standing wide open. The young man, or little man, having quickly abstracted the greenbacks unnoticed and unobserved, packed them away in a satchel which he suspended by a strap carelessly from his shoulders, and then stepped out of the vault. At this moment the cashier turned around, espied the intruder, and sharply asked him what he was doing there. The response was coolly given that he was looking for Mr. Handley.

The cashier directed him back to Mr. Handley's private office, where he apparently went, but really took advantage of the little incident to make his escape. The thieves made haste across the avenue, and, hurrying up Wyoming avenue to Spruce street, ran down, Penn avenue, where a man awaited them in a buggy, and all three drove across to Hyde Park, after which all trace of them is lost. At a late hour last night nothing further had been heard of the robbers, and it is likely that there ever will be.

The amount lost by the bank was variously stated upon the street yesterday, and is not publicly known. We are informed by Mr. Handley that it is not as great as it might have been, as a considerable sum of currency and bonds were left untouched. The robbery will not in the least impair the strength of the bank or the confidence of our community in the institution.

AFRICAN WINER.—It is not generally known that Cape Colony produces the most delicious wine grown on the face of the earth. A cargo received as a remittance from our neighbors Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co. contains several varieties raised there, among which the Constantia commands the highest price of any wine in the world. Almost the entire crop of it is consumed in the palaces of Europe, this rare exception being sent to them in exchange for their medicines, which have long been the staple remedies of South Africa. [Boston Journal.]

Now is the Time.—To persons who are not subscribers of the SENTINEL but who will send us one dollar and fifty cents, we will mail to them the SENTINEL and a receipt in full for subscription to the SENTINEL to the 11th day of October, 1871. Will the friends of the paper work a little for it and the party. Friends, mention the fact to your neighbors that if they subscribe now, or within two weeks, one dollar and fifty cents will secure to them the SENTINEL to the eleventh day of October, eighteen hundred and seventy-one.

A DREADFUL DEATH.—On Sabbath morning last Jacob Fink, a resident of Licking Creek Valley, this county, and latterly employed as night watchman in the Narrows, somewhere between Black Log Station and the Lewistown dam, was found lying dead between the tracks. He was found by an employee who had been relieved and was returning home. This was about 6 o'clock in the morning. He says that when he first saw Mr. Fink his right hand lay across his face, but that when he returned with Mr. Fink's brother, who is also a railroad employee, and was in a watch-box half a mile below where the accident occurred, the hand was no longer on the face but lay naturally along the side. This has given rise to the belief that he was not quite dead when first discovered. It is believed that he was struck about 11 o'clock P. M. on Saturday night by the Through Freight west. The Through Freight both eastward and westward bound pass each other about this place, and it is supposed that the eastward train appeared first, and that he stepped over onto the other track, out of its way, only to be caught by the train going west. The belief that he was struck at this time is strengthened by the fact that a hand on the second Through Freight eastward said to other hands on the train that he thought he saw a man lying between the tracks in the Narrows. He was bruised on the left side, and his left ankle was crushed. From the latter would be profusely, and some suppose that he bled to death.

He was nominated two years ago against his own wishes, and was elected by nearly 3,000 majority. He has served with great credit to himself and benefit to the District. There is scarcely a man in Congress, of his experience, who commands more influence in that body than Mr. Packer. As an evidence of the great satisfaction he has given, it is only necessary to say that he has already been unanimously re-nominated in Snyder, Union and Northumberland counties. Juniata will do herself credit, and Mr. Packer justice, by giving him a unanimous vote. BEALE.

STATE SENATE. Mr. Editor.—It affords me pleasure to ask you to announce Col. J. K. ROBINSON as a candidate for the State Senate. His merits as a true American citizen and as a soldier rank high, and need not be enumerated.

ASSEMBLY. Mr. Editor.—Among the business men of Juniata county who have successfully passed through the business storms and crashes of twenty-five years, stands Noah Hertler. By skillful management he has passed through the past business troubles, unbroken financially, and with a character without a stain, and today he ranks among the solid men of our county. He is most favorably known throughout the length and breadth of the county, not only by the business men, but by the people. Need I add that such a man is a suitable and well qualified one to represent the people of the District in the Legislature. That fact is self-evident. I then, in the name of many citizens here and elsewhere, announce him a candidate for the Legislature. MIFFLIN.

ASSEMBLY. Mr. Editor.—Please make the announcement that John Patterson, Esq., of Lack township, will be a candidate for the Legislature at its approaching Primary Election, subject to Republican usages.
