

MIFFLINTOWN, Wednesday Morning, September 21, 1870.

B. F. SCHWEIER, EDITOR & PROPRIETOR.

REPUBLICAN DISTRICT TICKET.

HON. JOHN B. PACKER.

STATE SENATE.

W. P. WILSON, of Centre county.

D. W. WOODS, of Mifflin county.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY TICKET.

WILLIAM GIVEN, of Fermanagh.

E. W. H. KREIDER, of Mifflintown.

JAS. J. CULBERTSON, Spruce Hill.

JOSEPH ROTHROCK, of Fermanagh.

G. S. METTERLING, of Monroe.

Wilson and Woods.

To this Senatorial District more attention is now directed than has ever before been extended to it, and more, perhaps, than will be given it within many years to come.

The State Senate is so nearly Democratic that with the loss of a few Republican Senators it will become entirely Democratic.

While reading this glowing description, we could but contrast the scene at Long Branch with the modest picture given of a certain royal personage who at this moment attracts the attention of the whole world.

Republicans, Attention! The following has just been issued: ROOMS OF THE UNION CONGRESSIONAL REPUBLICAN EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE, WASHINGTON.

How They Electiveer. Dr. Crawford and his friends say to their fellow Democrats, "Don't, don't, for anything, cut the Senatorial or Legislative ticket."

NEW YORK POLITICS. The Republican State Nomination. SARATOGA, Sept. 8.—The following is the ticket as nominated by the convention: For Governor, Stewart L. Woodford.

PROTECTION will give the laborer bread; free trade will give him a stone.—Pres.

The Democrats Propose to pay Rebel Claims.

Down in Maine one month ago, Speaker Blaine, of the Lower House of Congress expressed himself as follows: One of the most insidious and dangerous and probable modes of destroying the National credit under Democratic rule would be the payment or attempted payment from the National Treasury of all Southern claimants for losses inflicted by the war.

"But, sir, this is not all, nor half. I have been speaking of only so much of our debt as we have given our notes for. Besides this we owe, at the very lowest calculation, $3,000,000,000; not to the bloated bond holder, of whom we have heard so much, but to a class of our people to whom of all others we are under the most sacred obligation to pay.

If the Union army had the right to make war for the maintenance of Government, it had the right to "forage on the enemy;" but the Democratic proposition now is, that every rebel in the South shall be paid for what he lost during the war, and we have a leading Democratic authority for saying that the amount required will be three thousand millions of dollars.

Real Rank and Snobbery. A friend who has been spending a few days at Long Branch, writes in astonishment (not admiration) at the display at that watering-place. The turnouts are mighty to behold.

The "Old and New."

If we were allowed the privilege of selecting what in our opinion were pre-eminently the four best literary monthlies of this country, we could do to with-out a moment's hesitancy. The Old and New would be one of the four.

"Bryant's Translation of the Iliad" is an appreciative criticism of that great work, the best translation of the world's best epic. It is illustrated with choice extracts; comparing Bryant's rendition with Deily's and Pope's.

"The Quakers in New England," is a continuation of the defence of Quakerism in this country, commenced in a previous number, and is doubtless from the pen of one who has been intimately connected with, if not a member of that quaint, but kindly disposed religious society.

"The Church of the Latter Day Saints" relates the circumstances attending the pretended finding of the Book of Mormon by Jo Smith, the first apostle of the Latter Day Saints, epitomizes its contents and carries forward the history of the sufferings and persecutions of this sect to their migration to Utah.

"The National Church" lays down the proposition that while no particular denomination controls this government, yet certain fundamental principles of theology have asserted themselves in the American Constitution, and proceeds to prove that the American principle of the freedom of each human being to choose his own destiny is at the bottom of the American administration of government.

This is as far as we have had time to peruse this admirable periodical. There are still other articles of interest. Among them we have noticed in particular "Adriodacks in August" favorably noticed. "The Examiner" the book noticing department—is always good.

Those wishing to subscribe will address Geo. A. Coolidge, office of "Old and New," 143 Washington St., Boston.

BOTH Rohrer and McAttee voted for the nine million-and-a-half bill. $9,500,000.

VICE PRESIDENT COLFAX, it is rumored, will retire from public life at the expiration of his term of office.

ANOTHER cable project between England and America is reported.

THE WAR IN FRANCE.

PARIS CUT OFF. LONDON, Sept. 15.—Telegraphic communication is now broken, and the French have surrounded the walls of Paris with deep canals of water. The Prussian cavalry were within sight of the capital last evening.

PARIS READY TO SACRIFICE EVERYTHING. PARIS, Sept. 15.—Trochu, in his order of to-day to the Gardes Nationales, says the result of the review is very gratifying. He feels assured that the defence of the city will be admirably sustained.

TROCHU has published a proclamation to the troops. Neuilly is full of supplies and food. The gates of Paris will be closed to-morrow. There are now over 6,000,000 pounds of powder in the city.

THIERS'S MISSION A FAILURE. That M. Thiers's mission to England is a failure, seems to be certain. Prussia will only treat with the old Senate and Corps Legislatif and the Emperor, and this means war to the death, for the Provisional Government will sooner than abdicate, make Paris a heap of ruins.

PARIS BESIEGED. LONDON, Sept. 16.—The city has been declared in a siege. Non-combatants are to be expelled. It is reported that the American ship Queen has arrived at Toulon with five hundred American volunteers and 7,000 rifles.

PARIS, Sept. 19.—The Prussians are at Crotel, Clamart, Charenton, and St. Ouen, almost within cannon shot of the walls of Paris.

THE SIEGE OF STRASBURG. LONDON, Sept. 16.—In his last despatches Gen. Ulrich, commandant at Strasburg, admits that the situation is desperate.

THE DIPLOMATIC CORPS LEAVES PARIS IN HASTE. TOURS, Sept. 18.—The diplomatic corps arrived here to-day. A great number of volunteers left town to-day, going northward. It is reported that the French corps of 80,000 men under General Ducrot occupies the woods of Clamart and Meudon.

TOURS, Sept. 18.—Evening.—The foreign ministers left Paris, yesterday, in haste, having been informed that a serious attack was to be made. There was hard fighting yesterday and to-day around Paris.

ALBANY, Sept. 18.—An incendiary fire broke out on the lumber yard of Smith Craig, on Green Island, opposite Troy, to-day. The fire is still burning, and over thirty piles of lumber belonging to this firm, and twenty to White & Co., were burned.

IMPORTANT NEWSPAPER CHANGE.

The Hearth and Home a finely illustrated family journal of a high character, hitherto issued by Messrs. Pettengill, Bates & Co., has been purchased by Messrs. Orange Judd & Co., of 235 Broadway, New York, the well-known publishers of the American Agriculturist.

FANNY FERN tells the following story of her first meeting with Horace Greeley. He had agreed to take tea at her house, and Mr. Parton gave her special injunction to have some stale bread on the table, as Mr. Greeley, he said, never touched hot biscuit.

ANOTHER WONDER. Niagara Eclipsed by a South American Cataract. LONDON, Sept. 15.—Advices have been received here describing a cataract recently discovered in British Guiana, in South America, which dwarfs Niagara.

ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE NAPOLEON. BERLIN, Sept. 17.—Considerable excitement was occasioned at Wilhelmshofe recently by an attempt to assassinate the French Emperor by a German apprentice. He was arrested before he could accomplish his purpose.

AN EXTRAORDINARY ALLIANCE. LONDON, Sept. 17.—There is great excitement in diplomatic circles here to-night over the report that an alliance between Austria, Italy and Russia has been completed, the object of which is to be the division of the Turkish Empire, the annexation of Prussian Poland by Russia, the annexation of Prussian Silesia by Austria and the surrender of the Italian Tyrol to Italy.

FIGHTING NEAR PARIS. PARIS, Sept. 17.—A two hours fight took place between the French and Prussians ten miles from Paris. The French were beaten, but inflicted much damage.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN ALBANY. ALBANY, Sept. 18.—An incendiary fire broke out on the lumber yard of Smith Craig, on Green Island, opposite Troy, to-day. The fire is still burning, and over thirty piles of lumber belonging to this firm, and twenty to White & Co., were burned.
