MIFFLINTOWN, Wednesday Morning, October 5, 1870.

B. F. SCHWEIER, EDITOR & PROPRIETOR.

REPUBLICAN DISTRICT TICKET.

CONGRESS, Hon. JOHN B. PACKER, OF NORTHUMBERLAND, STATE SENATE, W. P. WILSON, of Centre county, D. W. WOODS, of Mifflin county, ASSEMBLY.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY TICKET.

SHERIFF, WILLIAM GIVEN, of Fermanagh, REGISTER AND RECORDER, E. W. H. KREIDER, of Mifflintown, COUNTY COMMISSIONER, JAS. J. CALVERTSON, Spruce Hill, JURY COMMISSIONER, JOSEPH ROTHROCK, of Fermanagh, COUNTY ATTORNEY, G. S. METTERLING, of Monroe.

Republican County Committee.

J. M. SHANN, Chairman, P. O. address, Mifflintown... Mifflintown - J. M. Welmer, Capt McClellan...

Read.

In view of the fact that the friends of Crawford and Petriken are trying to create the impression that the Republican party in this district is demoralized...

Every member gained by the Democracy in our State or National Legislature will be an encouragement to that party to pursue their disastrous measures...

Let personal feelings everywhere be sacrificed on the altar of the country's welfare: let us be united, for 'in unity there is strength...'

Pennsylvania must maintain her Republican strength in Congress or her dearest interests will be ruthlessly sacrificed.

The next Legislature is charged with the duty of apportioning purposes, giving it an importance which only occurs once in seventy years...

Mr. McAtter is down on the stool doing cruel penance for the political sins that he committed last winter at Harrisburg.

The Senatorial Situation. We have repeatedly said that the attention of the State has been directed to this Senatorial District. The first inquiry that is put to us when out of the district is: 'How does the double district stand now?'

The Senatorial district composed of the counties of Blair, Centre, Juniata, Mifflin, and Perry, has had a divided representation the last three years.

The New York Free-Traders are sending into all doubtful Congressional districts to defeat the election of friends of Protection.

The above we clip from the Lancaster Inquirer. It clearly tells how the free-traders are working to get their men into Congress. Let the Republicans of this district and county see to it that they do not go wrong on this important question.

The startling report that 100,000 Prussians had been blown up by the French at Paris, is not true; neither is it true...

For the part that Mr. Rohrer and Mr. McAtter took in the passage of the 'Jersey Shore, Pine Creek and Buffalo Railroad Bill' see House Journal between pages 775 and 799.

The Louisville Courier-Journal says that the negro question is not a test of Democracy, and that the effort to organize a white man's party has failed.

Do not forget that the Senate is nearly Democratic, and that if we are false in this trying time and lose the Senate, the effect will be severely felt in the councils of the National Government.

The coming apportionment of the State is of great importance. Don't forget it, Republicans, that the apportionment includes the Congressional, Senatorial and Legislative districts, and as made must stand for years.

Down, down it goes!—The national debt—nine millions more during the month of September. $9,000,000. Our Democratic brethren forgot to mention the fact.

Col. T. F. McCoy. The following article, relative to Col. McCoy's public service during the rebellion, we have taken from the Lewistown Gazette and republish in the Sentinel.

His conduct there was such as won him the highest regard, and I did not fail to do him justice in the battle nearly one-third of its number in killed and wounded.

How this gallant veteran Regiment sustained itself in its long and trying service, and how faithfully and well its Colonel served and sustained his former military reputation, as well as his character as a man and citizen, is known only to those who were in position to see and know the truth by honest inquiry.

Brevet Major Gen. Root, who was his Brigade commander in the bloody battle of Fredericksburg, speaks in the highest terms of Col. McCoy's conduct in that battle, in which he, at the head of his Regiment, participated in a successful charge upon the enemy's line.

Brevet Major Gen. John C. Robinson, one of the distinguished and faithful officers of the Army of the Potomac, and late commander of the 5th Corps, in a history of the battle of the 'Five Forks,' speaks in very high terms of Col. McCoy.

Col. McCoy proved so acceptable a commander that his Regiment re-enlisted under him almost to a man.

Major General G. K. Warren, one of the most distinguished and talented officers in the Army of the Potomac, and late commander of the 5th Corps, in a history of the battle of the 'Five Forks,' speaks in very high terms of Col. McCoy.

The Phenological Journal for October—Now ready—contains twenty leading articles, with numerous illustrations, on Scientific, Social and Literary Subjects, and a large amount of rich Miscellaneous Matter, Poetry, Personal Incidents, etc.

In the first debate at Newark, Ohio, a few days ago, General Morgan, Democratic candidate for Congress, asserted that last year the national banks only paid $19,000 in taxes to the Government, but was silenced by General Garfield producing an official statement which showed that they had paid over $5,000,000.

Morrow, now an officer of high rank in the U. S. A., afterwards testified to the conduct of Col. McCoy in the engagement: 'His conduct there was such as won him the highest regard, and I did not fail to do him justice in the battle nearly one-third of its number in killed and wounded.'

In the last great campaign of the war, the battle of the 'Five Forks' was the first great success for the Union cause, in this the closing struggle of the Rebellion, and from which the final end of the Confederacy at Appomattox Court House very speedily resulted.

Col. McCoy, for the manner in which he conducted his Regiment in this engagement, received the thanks of Brevet Major Gen. Henry Baxter, on the field, and subsequently, through his recommendation and that of Major Gen. Warren and Major Gen. Mead, he was Brevetted a Brigadier General of Volunteers for 'gallant and meritorious conduct in the war.'

EVERY SATURDAY for Oct. 5 is peculiarly rich in both Pictorial and Literary attractions. It contains, from advance sheets, a spirited Ode on the Proclamation of the French Republic, by A. C. Swinburn; an excellent story called 'The Dominic's Sons'; able Editorial Articles on the European War, and other choice miscellaneous reading.

Its Pictorial Contents include fine portraits of Gen. Von Steinmetz, Gen. Trochu, and M. Thiers; some superb War Pictures—a Charge of French Cuirassiers, French Turcos, German Landwehr, Franc-Tireurs, Singing the Marseillaise, and a very striking two-page picture representing The Crisis—Bringing up the Guns. A two-page Supplement accompanies this number of Every Saturday containing a remarkably good original Map of Paris, which indicates a hundred and fifty of the most interesting features of the city—the principal Avenues, Churches, Palaces, Railway Stations, Bridges, etc.

A GREAT FLOOD.

Richmond, Sept. 30.—The highest freshet ever known here is prevailing. At Lynchburg the passenger bridge across the James river, a quarter of a mile long, was washed away last night.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 30.—Superintendent Kates, of the Western Union line telegraphs this morning that a number of buildings at Lynchburg have been swept away, and both gas and water works are submerged.

Richmond, Sept. 30.—The flood reached here at 12.30 in a wave five feet high, and in twenty minutes the river rose six feet. There is great excitement in the lower part of the city removing goods from places accessible to the water.

A MODERN WEDDING.—Every possible thing was done to reflect lust on the occasion. There were eight bridesmaids, and every one of them fair as the moon; and eight groomsmen, with white-satin ribbons and white rosbuds in their button-holes; and there was a bishop, assisted by a priest, to give the solemn benedictions of the church; and there was a marriage-bell of tube-roses and lillien, of enormous size, swinging over the heads of the pair at the altar; and there were voluntaries on the organ, and chantings, and what not, all solemn and impressive as possible.

During the whole agitating scene, Lillie kept up her presence of mind, and was perfectly aware of what she was about; so that a very fresh, original, and crisp style of trimming, that had been invented in Paris specially for her wedding toilet, received no detriment from the least unobscured movement. We much regret that it is contrary to our literary principles to write half, or one third, in French; because the wedding-dress, by far the most important object on this occasion, and certainly one that engrossed the thoughts of the bride, was one entirely indescribable in English.

Then there was the wedding banquet, where everybody ate quantities of the most fashionable, indigestible horrors with praise-worthy courage and enthusiasm; for what is to become of 'pate de foie gras' if we don't eat it? What is to become of us if we do, is entirely a secondary question.

On the whole, there was not one jot or tittle of the most exorbitant requirements of fashion that was not fulfilled on this occasion. The house was a crush of wilting flowers, and smelt of tuberoses enough to give one a vertigo for a month. A band of music brayed and clashed every minute of the time; and a jam of people, in elegant dresses, shrieked to each other above the din, and several of Lillie's former admirers got tipsy in the upper-room. In short nothing could be finer; and it was agreed, on all hands, that it was "stunning." Accounts of it and of all the bride's dresses, presents, and even wardrobe, went in the daily papers; and thus was the charming Lillie Ellis made to Mrs. John Seymour.

THE Rinderpest is destroying the cattle in Belgium at a fearful rate. With a view of preventing the spread of the disease the government has forbidden the holding of fairs and cattle markets.

ANOTHER REMARKABLE ESCAPE.

A Child Falls from a Third-Story Window. About 11 o'clock this morning, as the son of Dr. J. A. Miller, at No. 315 Chestnut street, was in third story of the house, he fell from the window directly over the porch, striking one of the steps, and bounding therefrom into the gutter.

AMERICAN SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKER. The September number of this journal, published by J. W. McIntyre, has the following with other articles, besides selections, Editorial, and Lessons for each Sabbath, with exposition for the use of Sabbath School Teachers:

Specimen copies of Magazine and Lesson Papers are offered without charge, on receipt of postage.

CHOLERA rages with violence in most of the ports of the Black sea. Last year it was virulent in India, now it has come thus far, and next year, if precedents amount to anything, Western Europe and our own country will suffer. This, at least, has heretofore been the history of the progress of the disease.

THE Chicago Tribune says that Horace Wickersham, Jr., has invented a machine which has supplied its own power, and has been in perpetual motion for seven months, and which is never expected to stop. Perpetual motion at last, if true.
