"JUNIATA ENCAMPMENT," No. 19, I. O. O. F. meets on the first and third Tuesdays of each month, in the Odd Fellows' Hall, Thompston, Junata Co., Pa.

"WALKER" comes too late for this week's issue. The organ that never stops is the gossip's tongue.

A NEW CONTRIBUTOR.—It is said that Senator Cameron will soon contribute an article to Bonner's Ledger.

A COLONY.—Perry county people are organizing a colony to go to Kansas and settle in that State.

FAILED.—Several jail birds tried to get out of the Hollidaysburg jail the other night, but failed.

COUNTERFEIT five dollar notes on the Farmers' Bank of Reading, it is said by the city papers are afloat.

The Soldiers' Monument will be dedicated November 17th next. The names of persons on the several Committees will appear next week.

A RUN-AWAY horse in Clearfield took a strange freak the other day, and bolted through the door of a dry goods store, jumping over the head of an astonished clerk, and emerging in the back yard of the store.

A LAWYER at Terre-Haute lately went to an editor's office to come him.—The doctors have dug three bullets out of his frame, and say there is another one that they can't find which will probably kill him.—E.

THANKSGIVING DAY.—President Grant has set apart the 24th day of November next to "return thanks for the bounty of God during the year about to close, and to supplicate for its continuance hereafter."

CHALLENGE.—Will Thomas Arbetkale Esq., of Tuscarora, meet me at Perryville, on Friday, 28th inst., and trot horses? I challenge him to do so. No stakes. Only a friendly trot to test speed of our horses. ISAAC SEIBER.

STOLEN.—One night last week a thief entered Mr. Stimling's stable and stole from it several bushels of chop. The thief's tracks in the mud indicated a big-footed fellow. Mr. Stimling ought to send the measure of the track to the shoemakers.

We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Col. John J. Patterson, in another column, for the sale of Real Estate. See also his advertisement in to-day's paper, for the sale of his Personal Property at public outcry on Tuesday, November 1, 1870.

LADIES' and Children's Fancy Furs, at John Farver's Popular Fur Emporium, 718 Arch Street, Philadelphia. He has catalogued, remodeled and much improved his store for the convenience of customers. Read his adv. and give him a call.

AN HONEST MAN.—A horse and cattle dealer, known to most of the people of this county, the other day told the SENTINEL Local that a man called on him not long since and gave him 25 cents, stating that he had sold him (the dealer) a horse about fifteen years ago, and received that amount of money more than was due him.

A LEARNED mathematician of Lewisburg—probably a professor in the University—has discovered that in forty years a snuff-taker devotes twenty-four months to blowing his nose; and to condense the blast into one solid report, it would make a louder screech than the strongest whistle on a Williamsport saw-mill.—E.

If you desire a sweet breath that will not be offensive to those with whom you associate, use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy and cure your Catarrh. At the late bank robbery of the First National Bank of Northumberland, the following five-twenty coupon bonds were lost, for which a reward of $500 is offered:—One issued under the act of March 3d, 1865, number 37,738; coupon bond of 1867, number 25,665; coupon bond of 1868, number 25,670; coupon bond of 1868, interest due July and January. The denomination of the bonds is $1000 each.—E.

"A WONDER OF Medical Science," may well be applied to Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. It is nearly half a century since this remarkable remedy was introduced to the public, and yet the immediate and enviable reputation which it gained its wonderful cures of coughs, colds, whooping cough, sore throat, influenza, consumption, and all bronchial complaints, is to this day fully sustained.

GAME.—Morrison's bear pen beyond Bixler's gap was literally torn to pieces last week by it is supposed two or three bears, probably cubs and the old one. The logs were torn and gashed inside and out with their teeth until an opening for escape was made. Two other pens between Bixler's and Black Log watering stations, we heard were also torn in the same way.—Lewisburg Gazette.

LIVELY.—The fine little hairless-tailed horse, owned by the Bergs Brothers, the other day was hitched to a cart. Not liking the vehicle, he thumped his stump of a tail around his flank as far as it reached and started in such a lively manner that he broke from the cart and left the men that were standing about it in amazement to realize that his horshiplip would not work in such a thing as a cart.

ATTENTION.—It is not generally known that for a small outlay of cash, soldiers are entitled to homesteads in reserved sections of public lands along Western railroads. A law was passed last July to allow every soldier or seaman, who served ninety days in the Union army, to enter a quarter section of land within specified sections, on either side of the roads, within a limit of ten miles. Fifteen or twenty dollars will secure the land.

Public Sale.—I. D. Wallis, Adm'r. of the estate of Zechariah Webster, dec'd., will sell at public sale, at the late residence of the dec'd. on the farm of Mr. John G. Thompson, in Walker township on THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1870, Five head of Work Horses, 3 Colts, 4 Milch Cows, 8 head of Young Cattle, 8 Sheep, and 6 Hogs, together with a large lot of farming implements. Sale to commence at 9 o'clock, A. M. of said day.

HORSE KILLED.—On Thursday night last, as Henry Bricker and another young man were driving into town in a buggy, near the station, they saw the Philadelphia Express approaching as they were on the track. Both the men in their fright jumped out of the buggy, and the horse turned to the right and was going along the track when the locomotive struck it and mangled it in such a frightful manner that it had to be shot to end his misery. The buggy was shattered to pieces.—Huntingdon Globe.

A STAMPEDE.—On Wednesday evening, about half-past nine o'clock, some thirty or forty head of young cattle were unloaded at Downingtown, and while being across the railroad they became frightened at the whooping of some of the loungers who are continually hanging around the depot, and started down the track at a fearful rate. Efforts were made to stop them, but before it could be done the Cincinnati Express train going west, came along, throwing the cattle in all directions, injuring some ten or fifteen of them. Six or seven of them died during the night.—Journal.

A CLOSE OBSERVER.—We have on our exchange list an Illinois paper, published at Pekin. It is called the Tusculum County Republican. It is a large paper—36 columns—and is ably conducted. The editor of this fine big paper on the evening of the 11th inst. attended the wedding of a wealthy and fashionable couple of the city of Pekin, and in the Republican of the 14th he devotes a column and one-third to a description of the wedding ceremony and festivities, and particularly describes the dresses of sixty-nine ladies, giving the name and color of the goods that each of the sixty-nine wore, also the color and quality of the trimming, &c., &c.

WEATHER WARNINGS.—The British Board of Trade has published, for the benefit of seafaring men, the following remarks on the appearance of the sky: A rosy sunset presages fair weather, and a bright yellowish sky in the evening indicates wind, and a pale yellow wet weather. A neutral gray is a favorable sign in the evening, and an unfavorable sign in the morning. If the forms of the clouds are soft, undefined and feathery the weather will be fine; but if the edges are hard, sharp and well-defined, it will be foul. Any deep, unusual lines bounding the clouds betoken wind or rain, while quiet and delicate tints bespeak fair weather.

WHAT IS IT?—We received a strange paper last week, called the Blade, the outside printed in New York, and dated at Tyrone, and the inside entirely blank! We don't know whether to place it in the animal, vegetable or mineral kingdoms.—Hollidaysburg Register.

THE REASON WHY.—The immediate cause of premature fading or blanching of the hair is an obstruction of the oil vessels which afford the coloring matter.—The remote cause may be general ill health, trouble of mind, etc. Hence, in order to restore its natural color and beauty the oil vessels must be restored to their normal condition. It is on this principle that NATURE'S HAIR RESTORATIVE is compounded, and it has proved a complete success, wherever or faithfully applied. It is not a poisonous dye, consequently the effect is gradual, and in severe cases two or three bottles are necessary to produce the desired result. For Sale at Kepner's Drug Store.

THE editor of the Hollidaysburg Register has been frequently questioned as to the legal mode of disposing of stray animals such as horses, cattle, sheep, hogs etc. and answers as follows:—The law on this subject is in substance as follows: Whenever a stray beast is found trespassing on the premises of any one, it is the duty of the party to give notice to the owner thereof under the penalty of $5, if he can be found, and within four days deliver to the town clerk a full description of the kind, marks, color, or any other natural or artificial marks of such stray or strays, together with the fees, which are for a horse, 50 cents; cattle, 25 cents, and each sheep, 6 cents. If the owner does not appear within ten days after such stray shall be taken up, and settle up all damages and costs, it shall be the duty of the party taking up the same to cause the said stray or strays to be advertised for 3 weeks in at least one newspaper. (At a cost of $2-00.) And if the owner shall not have appeared within sixty days after such advertisement, and settle all reasonable costs and damages, the person taking up the said stray shall make application to a justice of the peace, in said township, who is required to issue his warrant to the constable, whose duty it shall be to sell the same at public sale, first giving ten days' notice of such sale by at least three printed or written handbills. And after he shall have sold the same, he shall make return of the proceeds to the said justice, who shall, after paying all reasonable damages and costs of keeping as aforesaid, pay over the surplus, if any there be, to the county treasurer; but if the owner shall appear within one year after such sale, and prove his property in such stray, the said justice shall certify the same to the said treasurer, who shall pay the owner the whole amount of such surplus, but if the owner shall not apply within the time aforesaid he may be applied to county purposes.

SUICIDE.—A correspondent of the Lewisburg Gazette furnishes that paper with the following account of the suicide of Joseph Kearns of Derry township, Millin county: As there are many conflicting rumors and reports in regard to the sad death of Mr. Joseph Kearns, that has produced such a panic in our neighborhood, I thought it best to write you a few facts in the case: Mr. Kearns was a highly respected citizen, correct in life and strictly honest in business, and the entire community had the utmost confidence in and respect for him as a christian man. He was afflicted for years with dyspepsia, and for about five or six weeks before his death, his health failed, and his brain sympathizing, he imagined that he finally would lose his mind. He was very kind to his family, and especially his companion, and loved them dearly.—For twenty-four hours before his death, his friends feared he might do himself an injury. About 2 o'clock on the day he died, he asked Mrs. K. to walk with him to Mr. Townsend's, about a mile distant. As they walked together, about midway, he took her hand affectionately, but claspng it too tightly, she said, "Joseph, you hurt me." He did not speak, but tightened his grasp. She looked in his face and his countenance alarmed her. She said, "Oh, let us go home; I'm so sick." He insisted going on. He then placed his arm on her shoulders and around her, and took her other hand in his, and kissing her, said beseechingly, "Come with me a little way—just to the woods—don't leave me," and tightening his grasp and using a little more than ordinary force with the arm around her, but no violence, and all the time his countenance becoming more alarming, until she exclaimed, "Oh, I must go home—I'm so sick," flinging herself out of his arms. When from him a few paces, she turned to see if he was coming with her, but to her horror saw him take a razor out of his pocket, and with open blade which gleamed in the sun, cross the fence and go up the hill out of her sight. At this time I was leaving my house, riding, and heard her cries for help. I was where they parted in a few minutes, but he was out of sight, and perhaps fifteen or twenty minutes elapsed before he was found, he having run about fifty rods to the next fence, where he committed the fatal deed. There was no great trouble or embarrassing circumstances that drove him to this—all was imaginary in his case.

NEARLY ALL.—Our pile of this paper is running down. It will be exhausted by and by, and when it is done we'll have no more of the kind.

WHY THE DISTINCTION?—When a rakish youth goes astray friends gather around him to restore him to the paths of virtue. Gentleness and kindness are furnished to win him back to innocence and peace. No one would ever suspect that he had committed any wrong. But when a poor confiding girl is betrayed she receives the brand of society and is driven from the ways of virtue. The betrayer is honored, respected, esteemed, but there is no peace for her this side of the grave. Society has no loving, helping hand for her—no smiles of peace—no voice of forgiveness.—E

YESTERDAY afternoon we were shown a cancer which had been extracted from the lower lip of Mr. James Robinson, of Patterson, on Saturday last, by Dr. R. A. Simpson, of Liverpool. The cancer had been placed in alcohol, and appeared about three-fourths of an inch long, half an inch wide and about one-eighth of an inch in thickness.
