A number of our citizens desire to suggest that aid and immediate relief should be given by the people of the county. You are aware that the people of the town of Mifflin have done and are doing a full share of this work, and that this fire has brought as loss upon those who did not live in the burnt district. The common interest, if not the ordinary promptings of humanity, should induce the citizens of our county to assist these unfortunates, for the same or as great misfortunes may overtake any of us. I would, therefore, suggest that the citizens call meetings to collect money in their respective towns, moderate, and for prime lots, a steady detownships, or neighborhoods; that local mand prevails; sales of 2000 bushels at $1. tributions, and that collections be taken do.
