

The Juniata Sentinel.
PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING.
By J. S. SCHOENBERGER.
MIFFLINTOWN, PA.

Juniata Sentinel.

[THE CONSTITUTION—THE UNION—AND THE ENFORCEMENT OF THE LAWS.]
VOLUME XXV, NO. 96 MIFFLINTOWN, JUNIATA COUNTY, PENN'A., JUNE 23, 1871. EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR. WHOLE NUMBER 1207

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

One square	$ 2.50	1 year	$ 25.00
Two squares	5.00	1 year	50.00
Three squares	7.50	1 year	75.00
One-fourth col.	10.00	1 year	100.00
Half column	15.00	1 year	150.00
One column	20.00	1 year	200.00

Business Cards.
LOUIS E. ATKINSON,
Attorney at Law,
Mifflintown, Pa.

ROBERT MCMEEN,
Attorney at Law,
Mifflintown, Pa.

ALEX. K. MCCLURE,
Attorney at Law,
144 South Sixth Street,
Philadelphia.

DR. P. C. RUNDIO,
Druggist,
Patterson, Penn'a.

THOMAS A. ELDER, M. D.,
Mifflintown, Pa.

D. C. SMITH, M. D.,
Homeopathic Physician & Surgeon

Dr. R. A. Simpson

G. W. McPherran,
Attorney at Law,

JAMES M. SELLERS,
Central Claim Agency,

LEBANON MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY,
of Jonestown, Pa.

J. Wilson Allen,
Agent for Janitor, Stationery, Franklin, Fulton and Bedford counties.

New Drug Store
IN PERRYVILLE.

DR. J. J. APPLEBAUGH has established Drug and Prescription Store in the above-named place, and keeps a general assortment of

DRUGS AND MEDICINES.
Also all other articles usually kept in establishments of this kind.

BANKS & HAMLIN,
Main Street, Mifflintown, Pa.

LARGE VARIETY OF PATENT MEDICINES,
selected with great care, and warranted from high authority.

New Tin and Stove Establishment,
Perryville, Juniata County, Pa.

Medical.
The Great Medical Discovery!
Dr. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS,
Hundreds of Thousands

WHAT ARE THEY?
FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, such as Painful Menstruation, Headache, Indigestion, etc.

They are not a mere Fancy Drink, but a powerful and healthy medicine.

FOR PALE AND WEAK,
For Pale and Weak, Loss of Appetite, Indigestion, etc.

FOR PALE AND WEAK,
For Pale and Weak, Loss of Appetite, Indigestion, etc.

FOR PALE AND WEAK,
For Pale and Weak, Loss of Appetite, Indigestion, etc.

Foot's Corner.
DARBY AND JOAN.

When Darby saw the setting sun,
He swung his scythe and home he ran,
Set down, drank off his quart, and said,
'My work is done, I'll go to bed.'

At the sound of the voice many started—it was so unearthly, sweet and mournful.

It was now the stranger's turn. He rose before the bar, not behind it, and so near the wondering jury that he might touch the foreman with his long bony finger.

On the night preceding the finding of the first package Patrick Flood, a Brooklyn hackman, drove three soldiers to No. 97 Mercer street, in this city, and entered with them to drink.

Select Story.
The Volunteer Counsel.

John Taylor was licensed when a youth of twenty-one, to practice at the bar—He was poor, but well educated, and possessed extraordinary genius.

On the 9th of April, 1840, the court house in Clarksville, Texas, was crowded to overflowing. An exciting case was to be tried. George Hopkins, a wealthy planter, had offered a gross insult to Mary Ellison, the young and beautiful wife of his overseer.

The interest became deeper, when it was known that Ashley and Pike, of Arkansas, and S. S. Prentiss, of Miss., by enormous fees, had been retained to defend Hopkins.

A HORRIBLE MYSTERY SOLVED.
The Story of the Stolen Carriage and Team of 1864, and the Mutilated Body in the River.

In October, 1864, five different packages, containing the mutilated remains of a human body were found floating in the East river and the bay at different times.

These discoveries created a great deal of excitement at the time, not only because of the horrible nature of the murder, but also on account of the story of the carriage stolen on Mercer street, on the night of the murder, and of the certainty in the public mind that the thieves were the murderers, and the mystery which subsequently surrounded the case.

On the night preceding the finding of the first package Patrick Flood, a Brooklyn hackman, drove three soldiers to No. 97 Mercer street, in this city, and entered with them to drink.

After seven years this horrible mystery has been apparently solved thus: According to a letter recently received by a friend of the murdered man, in March last three men quarrelled at Sydney, in Australia. A fight ensued, in which one man was fatally stabbed, the second shot and dangerously wounded, and the third terribly beaten.

From his story it appears that he, with his two companions and Smith, on the night of the 21 of October, were engaged in a debate, they having made a large sum of money by "booby-jumping." Smith had $300 in his possession and his villainous companions, resolving to get this at all hazards, induced him to leave the saloon where they were drinking, in Prince street, and enter a large carpenter's shop or carriage factory in Prince street, where Smith lay down on a bench and soon fell into a drunken sleep.

One of the men then shot him through the head, after which they cut up the body with the tools in the place, and tied up the fragments in the manner described above. Two of the men then went out to look for a wagon, leaving it supposed, the third to clear away the traces of their crime. Then followed the theft of Flood's carriage, in which the guilty parcels were driven to a lonely wharf in Williamsburg, and then thrown into the river. The murderers immediately shipped for Australia, and have since remained in that country leading riotous and vicious lives, until their arrest in March.

The photograph of the murdered man has been shown to the widow of Joseph Smith, who is still living at Danbury, Ct., and has been partly identified by her, although the features were terribly distorted. Other persons, however, who knew Smith intimately, are convinced of his identity with the murdered man, and that this dark riddle has at last been solved.—N. Y. Evening Post.

Pleasant Information for Tipplers.
An exchange says: The black ants of Sweden are a formidable race of workers, much larger than any we have here. They make and havoc with the grain, and as they travel in processions, each with a wheat grain or some other dainty for winter store, they present a formidable array—a curious spectacle for the philosopher. The sting of these animals is very sharp and somewhat poisonous—

The best policy to observe is, when meeting a procession of these workers, to turn aside and give them the right of way, for they will grip their grain tightly, and give sting after sting, losing very little time for revenge, and then on to their well-ordered, well-stored homes—The Swedes have learned a way of utilizing these little animals, sting and all. They waylay them on those journeys, catch them by hand, in nets and sieves, any way to get them, and jumpy they go into the seething brandy distillery, and on them depend the peculiar flavor of Swedish brandy. It is so smooth, so oily, so pungent; has such a delicious flavor; in short, is everything enchanting; and then they have the loveliest little glasses, that hold a thoughtful, so thin, so fragile, and beautifully artistic, that they would almost tempt an ascetic to drink and catch the divine effluvia, but it only takes one drink to intoxicate, and then delirium tremens soon follows. We have seen a lady jump from the table and scream because a red ant ran across her plate, and she would sip this brandy from the little glass, and extol its flavor.

In Newark, cockroaches are used very extensively in the manufacture of delicious wines which are made there from cider, poor whisky, logwood and other abominations.—Ex.

THE MILK CURE.
Some years ago physicians had a habit of recommending every consumptive patient to take cod-liver oil. The incredible nastiness of the dose must have constituted its peculiar merit; for, as a matter of fact, any result accomplished by cod-liver oil would have been attained by the patient, had cream instead of oil been prescribed. Suddenly this idea seems to have dawned upon the medical faculty. As a consequence we now have the "milk cure" announced as a specific for consumption.

A German farmer attempted to stop some runaway horses attached to a mowing machine on his farm in Palestine, Ill., on Friday afternoon, stumbled and fell, and the machine completely severed his head and right arm from his body.

Famine in Persia.
A correspondent writing to a Turkish journal from Tabreez says: "The details which reach us here of the destitution and misery which the drought of last year has caused in the central and southern Provinces of Persia is fearfully heart-rending. That the people are dying of hunger, even in the streets of the capital, is a minor phase of the terrible calamity.

To add to the mixed character of the Ohio Democratic canvass, it is asserted that Judge Geddes, who is the Democratic candidate for Supreme Judge, is a protectionist. Everybody can be suited now between the platform and the candidates are a mixture of the old guard who accept nothing, those who believe that to the victors belong the spoils, and protectionists.

JAMES BURRAS, of Moore county, N. C., had a tenant, Sack Peoples, who would not work. Mr. B., took steps for his ejection, and the sheriff, accompanied by Mr. Burras, went the other day to serve a process on the negro. During the progress of the affair, the negro raised a shot gun to shoot Mr. Burras, who also raised his gun, when both fired simultaneously, and both fell dead in their tracks.

"Grammar class, stand up and recite. Timms, parse 'girls.'" "Girls' is a peculiar noun, of the lovely gender, lively person, and double number, kissing mood, in the immediate tense, and in the expectation case to matrimony, according to general rule."

SHORT ITEMS.
A gentleman caught cold by kissing a lady's snowy brow.

There are 800 pictures in the rogues' gallery of the Chicago police head quarters.

The whole number of rats run out of Red Bank, Clarion county, this year, reached 1,600.

An Illinois man is arranging a big hen farm near Geneva, in that State, on which he expects to keep eighteen thousand hens of the choicest breeds.

"I hope this hand is not counterfeit," said a lover, as he was saying with his sweetheart's finger. "The best way to find out is to ring it," was the neat reply.

The intermarriage of two families in Maine is remarkable. One consists of four sons and one daughter, has married all of a neighbor's children, four daughters and a son!

Archbishop Darby's last words to his executors are said to have been— "Do not profane the word liberty; it is to us it belongs, for we shall die for liberty and faith."

A citizen of Connecticut recently introduced to a newly married man congratulated him warmly, and said: "Ah, these Litchfield county girls make clever wives; I've had three of 'em."

Col. Wm. Shirk, the oldest freeman in Lebanon, was presented the other day with a handsome gold headed rosewood cane by the Hook and Ladder company of that place.

A shopkeeper having advertised his stock to be sold under prize cost, a neighbor observed that it was impossible for him to do so, as he had never paid anything for it himself!

A block of marble—the largest ever quarried in this country—has just arrived in New York from San Francisco. It weighs seventy tons, and it to form the basin of a new fountain at Central Park. It cost $10,000.

The mother of President Lincoln is buried near Gentryville, Ind., and a new railroad is projected near the spot, the surveyors and engineers clubbed together, recently, to erect a suitable monument over the remains.

A German farmer attempted to stop some runaway horses attached to a mowing machine on his farm in Palestine, Ill., on Friday afternoon, stumbled and fell, and the machine completely severed his head and right arm from his body.

Advices of the 7th from Australia, via Honolulu, reports a terrific hurricane in the vicinity of the Fiji islands in which the brig "Kentucky" from San Francisco went down with all on board. The captain of the Kentucky married just before he sailed and had his wife with him.

A colored man who found a pocket-book in Petersburg, Va., a few days ago, containing something over $100, returned it to its owner, the same afternoon. And a Richmond negro, who bought a pair of old trawlers of a lady for a dollar, found on taking them home, a $5 greenback in one of the pockets and took it to the lady at once.

A Constantinople despatch dated June 7, says that a fire broke out that morning simultaneously at four places, and at one time two hundred houses were in flames. Fortunately the wind was light, and there was prospect of getting the conflagration under control. The damage done already was very heavy. The fires are supposed to be the work of incendiaries.

A divorce fraud is before the Boston courts, in which it is alleged that Samuel C. Jaques, who recently obtained a divorce from his wife on the charge of adultery, achieved his object by inducing a woman to perjure herself, and allow herself to be served with the legal papers, while Mrs. Jaques was kept in ignorance of the whole matter. George H. Holden is under arrest as a party to the fraud, but Mr. Jaques has absconded.

Brigham Young celebrated his seventy-ninth birthday on the 24 inst. by a royal repast, at which were eighty-seven men, women and children, all near relatives or connections of his family. His private secretary read an address, which closed with the wish: "May you live till the rulers of every nation on earth shall acknowledge the wisdom of God in your administration, seek unto you for counsel, and recognize you, as you truly are, the friend of God and man!"

A shock of earthquake was felt shortly before ten o'clock on Tuesday morning last, June 8, in Quebec, and throughout the neighboring country. The "Mercury" of that city, says that it was felt much more severely in Stoneham and thereabouts, and the farmers of that place were considerably alarmed. In the city the vibration was slight, although the rumbling noise attracted the attention of many persons. In the Upper Town the sound was supposed to proceed from heavy carriages running down the street. The course passed from east to west.