It must be seen by any careful observer that very many of our gelding houses are lame from corns in the feet; and so badly affected in that way as to render them almost entireley worthless This is caused not so much from hard usage, as from want of strength and firmness in the hoof. It is well known, at least among the medical men, that emasculation seriously interferes with the proper developement of the bones, horns, hoofs, tails or claws, etc., of animalsthat is to say, the shell of the born or haof; and where early emasculation is resorted to, the shell of the horn or hoof must of necessity be thin and week, and of a soft spongy texture, in consequences of the natural supply of sustenance being cut off before the animal is well advanced in his development.

Take, for instance, two male calves of the same breed; castrate the one at the age of two months, and the other at the age of, say two years, and see what a difference there will be in their horns when they are full grown The horns of the one castrated at the age of two years will be two or three times as heavy and strong-especially the shell-as that of the one castrated at the age of two tnoaths. This rule holds good with regard to the hoofs, nails or claws of all unimals Therefore if a colt be emascu lated when very young or before he has attained the form of a stud, he will have when fully grown, but a thin light shell on the hoof, and that of a soft, spongy texture; and corns on the feet, after a little use on the hard roads and pavements will be a natural consequence -Of course this rule would vary somewhat in different animals, as there is a great difference in the ages at which they

Nor is that all; for horses, when early emasculated, are rendered light and weak in the fore parts, as compared with that of a horse of the same breed, which has been emasculated, say at the age of four years, the two being full grown when compared, say seven years old — HAVING opened out a GROCERY AND PROVISION STORE in the old stand on Main street, difflintown, I would respectfully ask the attention of the public to the fore hams and shoulders, and therefore unable to stand the hardships that he SUGAR, COFFEE, TEA. might otherwise be able to do, the discases of the foot may to some degree be communicated to the fore limbs and DRIED AND CANNED FRUIT shoulders through the nerves.

A thorough bred American colt should not be eastrated younger than in Confectioneries, Nuts, &c., the fall, say October, after he is three years old. This gives him the advantage of the fall season in which the blood is most active in this particular, and it is nearly as well for him as though the operation was performed early in the spring, of the fourth year of his age; but it will still be better if it was allowed to run to the age of four or five years before being castrated. With Spanish horses, that develope very young, it is not necessary that they should run to so THE undersigned, having purchased great an age.

thing of the quality of a horse, and on WEDNESDAY, loaded with where he gave great promise, he could be kept for his blood; and we would have less geldings and more stallions, of the quality of Dexter, Topgallant, Rattler, Duchman, etc. This must of itself be a very important decideratum. But I have extended this article to a greater length than I had intended. I had only hoped by introducing the subject to elicit from some able correspondent an article that would do the subject better justice. given and satisfaction guaranteed.

USE THE BEST.

Nine years before the public, and no preparation for the hair has ever been produced equal to Hall's "Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer," and every honest dealer will say it gives the best satisfaction. It restores GRAY HAIR to its original color, eradicating and preventing dandruff, curing BALDNESS and promoting the growth of the hair. The gray and brashy hair by a few applications is changed to black and silky locks, and wayward hair will assume any shape the wearer desires. It is the cheapest HAIR DRESS-ING in the world, and its effects last longer, as it excites the glands to and none need be without Nature's ornament, a good head of hair. It is the first real perfected remedy ever discovered for curing diseases of the hair, and it has never been equalled, and we assure the thousands who have used it, it is kept up to its original high standard.
