About 11:30 o'clock A. M . Friday, Mr. Cyrus Cobb, who lives on Court street, just as the Auburn end of the bridge, looking from the rear windows of his store and house, saw two females, apparently young ladies, sitting on the Au burn shore of the river, on the very verge of West Pitch. Mr. Cobb's daughter also noticed the girls, and thought it very strange that they should be sitting so near a very dangerous place. The more noticeable became the fact, when she saw them jump up and trip lightly and carclessly down the precipitous, rocky and slippery bank, where they removed their outer garments Miss Cobb then said to her father that she believed they meditated drowning themselves, and so possessed with this idea was she that she resoled to still watch them and see what they were proposing to do. After removing their outer garments, including their hats, she saw the girls return to the spot where they had been sitting and resome their seats.

In a few moments, not far from one o'clock, the train from Bangor came thundering by, the track being but two or three hundred feet from where they sat. Mass Cobb says that while the train was passing that point she saw the girls rise, each throw her arms arou d the other's waist, and in this embrace they, apparently with one consent, leaped from the shore into the falls,

The fact speedily became known, and crawds gathered in the vicinity of the terrible tragedy; but nothing could be discovered but the garments, bearing silent and at the same time sad witness of the tragedy. The clothing was disthe ly visible to crowds who gathered on he new bridge. Policeman Wash barne, of Aubern, was the first to reach the scope of the melancholy event.

He found the clothing on a spur of the ledge, about opposite the main plunge of West Pitch. It was not rolled up care fally, but seemed to have been laid down. each acticle as it had been removed from the person. The clothing, which conristed of their hats, a water-proof cloak, a shaw! and a black overskirt, with a mass of false bair, was of rather indifferent quality, yet apparently tidy. Pinn.d into the water-proof cloak was a brooch of some black stone, with a medallion face in white in the centre of the tone-the whole set in gold. Pinned in the ribbon of the hat were two ten cent bille

An examination of the premises by Mr Cobb who saw the movements of the girls, and by one or two gentlemen who noticed where they sat but did not happen to see them when they took the fatal leap, established that the two suicides-as they seemed to have leaped from the point where they first sat down -threw themselves from the flat rock which forms a platform close to the water's edge, ne r the foot of the first descent of West Pitch, which consists of two talls. The first is a slight plunge upon a table rock ; then a light fall for a hundred feet, more or less; then a great cataract, with, at present, a fearful fall of water, rolling down into a chaem many feet from the base of the first fall. Here. just beyond the base of the first fall they seem d to have thrown themselves into the river. It must have been a headlong leap with the current. They fell and were plunged into the torrent and out of the world in a moment

Miss Starbird of Auburn, and others identify the clothing as belonging to Ada Brown, of Buckfield, and Anna and fourteen years of age. liable protector against them. While adapted to mikler forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croaps, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to cooks and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the discase seemed settled, have been completely curved, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing clee could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthmas is always relieved and often wholly curved by it.

Bronchitis is generally curved by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Nine years before the public, and no preparation for the hair has ever been produced equal to Hall's "Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer," and every honest dealer will say it gives the best satisfaction. It restores GRAY HAIR to its original color, eradicating and preventing dandruff, curing BALDNESS and promoting the growth of the hair. The gray and brashy hair by a few applications is changed to black and silky locks, and wayward bair will assume any shape the wearer desires. It is the cheapest HAIR DRESS-ING in the world, and its effects last longer, as it excites the glands to furnish the nutritive princip necessary to the life of the hair. It gives the hair that splendid appearance so much admired by all. By its tonic and stimulating properties it prevents the hair from falling out, and none need be without Nature's ornament, a good head of hair. It is the first real perfected remedy ever discovered for curing diseases of the hair, and it has never been equalled, and we assure the thousands who have used it, it is kept up to its original high standard. Through a long series of years, and among moet of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to alkler forms of disease and to young children, it is it the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the danger of the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the danger of the consumption, and the danger of the consumption, and the danger of the consumption is the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the danger of the consumption is the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the danger of the consumption is the same time the ment of the consumption is the same time the consumption in the consumption is the consumption in the consumption in the consumption is the consumption in the consumption in the consumption is the consumption in the consumption in the consumption is the consumption in the consumption in the consumption in the consumption is the consumption in the consumption in the consumption is the consumption in the consumption in the consumption in the consumption is the consumption in the con Patterson with every TUESDAY and SATURDAY mornings. every THURSDAY morning. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of its curse in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the arkno viedgments we receive of the radical curse effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed. Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasumatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liner Compulsiatus, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver it to healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable curse where other medicines had failed. Prepared by Da. J. C. AVER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.
