LOSS ABOUT $50,000.

From the Scranton Republican of May 14th. The Moosic powder mills, located on the Lackawanna river, between Archibald and Gibsonburg. had their third blow-up within the last eighteen months yesterday. The fire originated in the refinery in consequence of dried nitrate of soda dopping and setting fire to the floor. The dried soda, when it comes off the drying pans, is very hat As soon as it was discovered that the floor was on fire they threw water on the soda, FURNITURE, which exploded it at once, and away WATCHES went the refinery. There was a strong north gale blowing at the time, which carried the flames from the refinery to the pres house, a distance of about 250 Hall Said Caps, feet, where there were two bydraulic presses, used for dressing the meal into cakes; from the press house, the flames BOOTS & SHOES, were carried along by the high wind and communicated with the corning mill, a distance of 350 feet from the press house, where the cake is broken into

From the coming mill the flames were communicated to what is called the barrel mill, a distance of about 400 feet farther down the stream, where the ingredients are mixed; from the barrel mill to the glazing mill, distance of about 600 feet further down the river. There is not a vestige of any of these buildings left standing, with the excepttion of the engine stack at the refinery. The polver zing mill, which was locat- able stock of SPRING GOODS, consisting of ed about 100 fect from the refinery. where the charcoal and brimstone are prepared, was blown to atoms. The tock house, which was situated about a quarter of a mile distant, across the river, was also destroyed, together with about 500 bags of nitrate of soda and thirty barrels of brimstone. They were also 600 barrels of charcoal and thirty barrels of beimstone near the refinery that were burned.

The magazine and drying houses were not destreyed, They contain about 4 000 kegs of powder. It was a close call for the dry houses. The padlocks were blown off, the outside doors blown in, and the inside doors blown out. The fire was within about twenty feet of those buildings when the wind vecred around, and the men, headed by Mr. Boise, rushed in and threw water around the structure, and fought back the fire, and boys in the neighborhood are work- terial, all kinds of ing with a will to extingursh the flam s, BOOTS, SHOES AND GAITERS

The bridge across the river, some dis tance below where the explosion took place, caught fire from the burning embers that were hurled through the air, and the one end was burned down. On the other side of the river piles of saw logs are on fire. In every direction. charred pieces of powder kegs, and large may desire. sticks of lumber.

We saw eight kegs of powder, all charred, that had been blown about one hundred feet from the building they WAGON MANUFACTORY were in and did not explode. It is most remarkable that there was no one killed

The shock was quite recting the immediate vicinity.
