Senator Sumner is out in a long speech regarding the appointment of relatives to office, and gift taking—old subjects—without a word of how our government was saved by Grant. The President is safe in the hands of the people, and they will re-elect him next November.

The Democrats last week held their State Convention at Reading, and nominated Charles R. Buckalew for Governor.

He is a gentle, honest, able and intense Democrat. He was in the United States Senate during the war, and made as good a record there for the Democracy as could be desired, and as unfavorable a record for the Union cause as he could make.

The Democrats and Liberals are playing a high game, each expecting to turn up head. The Democrats wink and say vote for Buckalew. The Liberals wink and say vote for Greeley. Then chorus, all Agreed! Agreed! Hartranft will be the next Governor, and Grant the next President.

No one questions Senator Buckalew's character as a man, but if the Congress of the United States had entertained the views that Mr. Buckalew did during the war, the rebellion would have been a success, and free government would have come to an end.

Senator Buckalew is a gentleman and a first class Democrat. His action in the United States Senate never in the faintest degree gave encouragement to the soldiers who were periling their lives against the rebellion.

When the Democrats support Horace Greeley they support all the reconstruction measures. When they support Charles Buckalew, they repudiate all the reconstruction measures. A double play, that.

The bargain and sale between the ground floor managers of the Democratic and Liberal party is, You vote for Buckalew and I will vote for Greeley.

The residence, barn and outbuildings of Frederick Douglass, at Rochester, were destroyed by fire on Sunday night. The fire originated in the barn about midnight.

Democratic State Convention.

The Democratic State Convention last week nominated Charles R. Buckalew for Governor on the 7th ballot. Hon. Jas. Thompson was nominated for Supreme Judge, by acclamation. Mr. William Hartley, of Bedford county, was nominated for Auditor General.

No nomination for President was made, which is equivalent to an endorsement of Greeley.

The Convention adopted the following platform:

Resolved, That the Democratic party, while in the future as in the past, firmly upholding the Constitution of the United States as the foundation and limitation of the powers of the General Government, and the safe shield of the liberties of the people, demands for the citizen the largest freedom consistent with public order, and for every State the right of self government; that to uphold the former and protect the latter the Democracy of Pennsylvania can find no better platform on which to stand than the great leading principles enunciated in the inaugural address of President Jefferson and the farewell address of the immortal Jackson; upon those two great State papers we plant ourselves and enter the contest of 1872.

Resolved, That abused as the public confidence has been by a long period of official mismanagement, waste and fraud, this convention invites the co-operation of all citizens of the Commonwealth in the earnest effort which the great constituency it represents is about to make to remove from our State administration every taint of political corruption. The interest of every Pennsylvanian is directly and vitally concerned in the eradication of all unjust usages and practices by which individual fortunes may be created at public cost, and the attempt to do this can be made certainly successful by the union of upright and fair-minded men of all parties, and by sustaining candidates of unquestioned abilities and unspotted names.

Resolved, That this convention appeals to the people of Pennsylvania for the support of the candidate for Governor whom it has placed in nomination because his election will secure at once a correction of existing wrongs and the permanent future prosperity of the State. It asks for his support, because he has been nominated not to subvert the views or promote the interests of any section or faction, but to meet the requirements of an urgent and common cause; because he fully represents and in his life and character fairly illustrates the true spirit and principles of popular government; because he has been an earnest, sincere and efficient opponent of the fraudulent practices and false doctrines of the party that has held power through many long years of misrepresentation and misrule; because he stands pledged, by the record of his who's life, to administer his office, if elected, for the benefit and only for the benefit of the people; because he can be trusted to secure careful, economical and responsible control of the agents and officials and the Treasury of the Commonwealth; because he can be relied on to withstand unfounded and unjust demands to the prejudice of public rights, to oppose with vigor the encroachment of powerful corporations, and energetically resist the grant to aggregated capital of privileges which could be used to injure, hamper and impede the efforts of individuals in the various enterprises and fields of labor which the State affords, and because his action in the past is proof that his official influence will be used hereafter to prevent the mischief of special legislation, and to destroy the possibility of procuring the enactment of any statute by the use of money or any other corrupt means.

Resolved, That in presenting the Hon. James Thompson for Judge of the Supreme Court, we have only to invite the consideration of the people to the integrity, impartiality and eminent legal attainments which have characterized his fifteen years' service upon the bench of the Supreme Court.

Resolved, That in the persons of the candidates presented for the offices of Auditor General, Congressmen at large and delegates to amend the Constitution, we have candidates eminently worthy of the confidence and support of the people.

Resolved, That the grant by the national Legislature of this State of numerous charters creating such corporations as the "South Improvement Company," "Continental Improvement Company," and others of similar character, is unjust to the interests of trade, is dangerous to the rights and liberties of the people and as such meets with our unqualified condemnation.

The following candidates are in the field for the Presidency: President Grant, Republican; Horace Greeley, Democrat or Liberal; Judge Davis, Labor Reform; James Black, Temperance; Mrs. Victoria C. Woodhull, Free Love.

It is said that the Free Traders will repudiate Greeley, which, if true, will put another candidate in the field.

For the Governorship in Pennsylvania there are General Hartranft, Republican; Senator Buckalew, Democrat or Liberal; Mr. Schell, Labor Reform; With a Temperance Governor in prospect.

On the Presidential question all of the nominations outside of the nomination of Grant, Republican, and Greeley, Democrat or Liberal, are side issues.

All nominations outside of the Hartranft and Buckalew nominations are side issues.

There are some nine hundred millions of people in the world. Of this number only four millions have a free government, in which family or class despotism does not rule. The people of the United States are the forty millions. We have able men in our State who are favorable to class rule. Senator Buckalew is and for years has been considered a leader among such men. He belongs to the party that has advocated that capital should own its labor. Class doctrine stronger than that cannot be advocated.

Half the land in Virginia is in the market at low prices.

A TORNADO'S DOINGS.

A Quilting Party Disturbed—A House Lifted from Its Foundations.

Between four and five o'clock on Wednesday evening, says the Greenville Argus, a tornado passed across the Valley a short distance above town, taking an easterly course, which did a vast amount of damage to dwellings, fences and forests. It was seen at the time mentioned—for it was a thing of substance, having the proverbial funnel form, its outlines defined by the darkness of its great density—it was seen proceeding from the hill on the West side swiftly across the river, taking up as it went in a swath perhaps a quarter of a mile wide every object which it encountered. After snatching the trees bald-headed, and juggling, in good Japanese style, with the fence rails, it struck the house of Mr. Phillips, on the Jamestown road, lifted the roof completely off, and twisted the frame into an ugly mutuality. It then wrapped its trunk around his apple trees, and, as old Hannibal, or any other elephant would have done, jerked them out of root with the greatest ease. It next struck the house and barn of Mr. Thompson Williamson a few miles beyond, serving these in the same manner. The house it picked up and carried some thirty feet, the concussion as it touched terra firma again, demolishing the kitchen part completely. Although there were thirty persons in the house, a quilting party being held at the time, no one, strange to relate, was seriously injured. The roofs of both houses and barns are wanting to this day, they having, literally, "gone up." The damage to timber and fences was immense, the former being generally devastated and the latter carried away all along the course of the inverted maelstrom. Of the further progress of the monster we have not heard, though it is likely that it continued its uprooting and overturning career for some distance beyond. So far as learned no one was hurt.

A Magazine reviewer in the Philadelphia North American says: Mr. Lee sees the woman's suffrage movement in Wyoming has given the sex political equality, and they have enjoyed it for two years. Their domestic and wifely qualities have not deteriorated. Their influence is exerted to purify the political atmosphere and enforce the laws. They do not seek office inordinately. No domineer over their husbands; give from half an hour to one day yearly to politics; adore free love and have won so much respect that an attempt to repeal the law has failed. They have served for two years as jurors and done well. The female carcasses were shrill but did not come to blows, and upon the whole Mr. Lee praises the experiment.

A VENERABLE Kentucky Democrat, oppressed with grief at the thought of voting for Greeley, gives voice to his feeling as follows: "I'm getting old; I can't last long; I will soon step into the grave. I don't want to go to the other world and meet our old Democratic neighbors and tell 'em I wound up my life by votin' for a man who has abused our party for his days, and to whose infamous teaching, more than to those of any other man living, we owe the sad, sad, weeping days of fire and sword and desolation and ruin of the past twelve years!"

BARN BLOWN DOWN—During the heavy thunder storm, on Monday afternoon, the large bank barn owned by Robert Green of this city, and situated on his farm about one mile east of Altoona, was lifted from its foundation by a violent blast of wind and shivered to atoms. The barn was a good one, being constructed of heavy timber, and was supposed to be proof against howling winds, but those of Monday afternoon were too strong for it, and razed it to a total wreck. We did not lean the loss estimated.—Altoona Tribune.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Saturday the 18th inst., as Mr. Peter Sholly, of Rye township Perry county, was on his way unloading wood, he slipped, and his foot catching in one of the standards he fell to the ground on his head and shoulders, receiving such internal injury as to cause his death on the Monday following. Mr. Sholly was only about 30 years of age. He leaves a widow and four children to mourn his sudden death.—Perry County Advocate.

ARM CRUSHED.—On Monday evening of last week, Mr. David Bitner, while engaged in boring posts with a machine driven by horse power, at the residence of John R. Boden, Esq., near Lekeburg, he slipped, and in throwing out his left arm it came in contact with the augur and both bones of the fore arm were crushed at the wrist joint. This will render the wrist joint useless. We sympathize with Mr. Bitner in his misfortune.—Perry County Advocate.

THIS Christian Union asks: "What are we to gain by a new party—made up in haste, without common principles, jumbled together, not to correct grave public evils, but to avenge private griefs, or to reward violent and irregular ambition?"

FORGER ARRESTED IN Samuel.

RICHMOND, May 30.—Samuel Perry, alias Perrin, was arrested upon his arrival in this city to day, on a telegram from Macon, charged with forgery. He was proved to be the party who stole bonds to the amount of $50,000 in Worcester, Mass., some months since. He was disguised as an old farmer when arrested. He will be held for a requisition from Massachusetts or Georgia.

A Heavy Railroad Suit in the Supreme Court of New York.

NEW YORK, May 29.—A New York firm has brought suit in the Supreme Court, on behalf of some stockholders of the Blue Ridge Railroad Company of South Carolina, against the president and Executive Committee of the road.

The offence charged is the misappropriation of the funds of the company, and the complaint alleges that in accordance with a bill passed by the South Carolina Legislature, last March, $4,000,000 of bonds of the road, guaranteed by the State, were exchanged for revenue bond scrip, which was to be receivable by the State for taxes. The complaint further alleges that the president of the road, John J. Patterson, obtained possession of $1,800,000 of this scrip, and obtained loans upon portions of it, and divided money and scrip among his personal friends and members of the South Carolina Legislature.

The complaint alleges also that the Treasurer of the State of South Carolina received $50,000. Judge Ingraham granted an order to show cause why an injunction should not be issued and a receiver appointed.

The question was argued before Judge Leonard to day whether courts of this State have jurisdiction in matters where plaintiffs are non-residents. The decision was reserved.

BOLD ROBBERY.—One of the boldest and most successful robberies that has come to our knowledge for a long time was perpetrated in Salisbury, in our neighboring county of Somerset, on Thursday night last. The particulars, as given by a gentleman from the place yesterday, are as follows: On Thursday night, between eleven and one o'clock, some parties gained an entrance to Mr. Peter Hay's store, by taking out a pane of glass in one of the windows when, after one of the thieves got inside the front door of the store was opened. From tracks in front of the store it was plainly to be seen that the thieves had a wagon in which to carry off their booty, which they successfully accomplished, taking with them over $1,000 worth of dry goods, boots and shoes. A wagon was tracked out the road leading to the National Pike, but at that point the trail was lost. It is presumed the parties will yet be detected, as numbers of persons are on the lookout for them. A wagon was followed by one of the Messrs. Hay yesterday from near Salisbury to Frostburg, but it proved to be that of a resident of the vicinity, against whom there was not a shadow of suspicion.—Cumberland Daily News of last week.

SUDDEN DEATHS.—Friday last Laura a fifteen month old child of Mr. A. Hake, of this borough, died of cholera infantum on Sunday evening, Edward, a four year old son of the same gentleman fell a victim to the same disease. It is supposed both children had eaten locust blossoms the day previous to Laura's disease and that these were the direct cause of their sudden demise. Monday morning another child of Mr. Hake's was ill, but at this writing, not seriously. Locust blossoms are very dangerous and often fatal poisons to children and parents should use every precaution to prevent their getting them, as they are quite pleasant to the taste and children become very fond of them.—Huntingdon Monitor.

GORED BY A BULL.—On Tuesday evening Mrs. Bricker, an aged lady of Lysburn, Cumberland county, was passing along the public road between Lantz's mill and her house, she was attacked by a bull (belonging to Mr. Floyd) who pushed her against and over a fence, and inflicted an ugly gash of five inches in length upon one of her limbs. It seems that the animal had escaped from a field into a road. The wounded lady was conveyed to her home, where she is receiving proper attention.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

Wife Murderer Lynched.—John Sparta, Ky., May 30.—John Braunham, who murdered his wife yesterday splitting her head open with his axe, was hung last night by a party of a hundred men, who collected in front of the jail about 1 o'clock and demanded the keys from the jailor, who were reluctantly given up. They then took Braunham from the jail, carried him half a mile from town, and hung him to a tree. His wife was buried to-day. No cause for killing his wife is known.

Fire at Tanamqua, Pa.—TANAMQUA, May 31.—At two o'clock A. M. a most destructive fire broke out in Dean's carriage factory here. The flames spread rapidly and before six o'clock the whole block was destroyed, including Dean's factory, a chair factory, hardware store, two saddlery shops, several grocery stores—in all about twenty buildings. The total loss could not be ascertained. The property was partially insured.

Results of the Freshet.—St. Louis, May 30.—Mail accounts of the freshest in Southwestern Missouri say that whole farms in the valley of Spring river Centre creek and other streams were completely washed away, leaving nothing but rock and gravel. Large numbers of live stock were drowned, and hundreds of yards of the Atlantic and Pacific railroad tracks were swept from its bed into the adjacent fields.
