READING MATTER ON EVERY PAGE.

Republican Primary Election.

At a meeting of the Republican County Committee, held according to previous notice, at Wills' Hotel, in Mifflintown, on Saturday, July 6, 1872, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the Primary Election be held at the usual places on

SATURDAY, AUGUST 24th, 1872,

Between the hours of 2 and 7 o'clock P. M., and that the Return Judges meet at the Court House, in Mifflintown, on

MONDAY, AUGUST 26th, 1872,

at 1 o'clock P. M.

Resolved, That the manner of selecting Return Judges, and the qualifications of voters be the same as prescribed and carried out last year.

Resolved, That John A. Gallaher and John Motzer be and they are hereby appointed members of the County Committee, to represent Walker township, and G. R. Henderson to represent Patterson borough, in place of J. W. Parker and L. W. Sieber, of Walker, and Samuel H. Brown, of Patterson, who are no longer residents of these districts.

The rinderpest has again broken out in Russia.

THE cholera is raging dreadfully in Moscow, Russia.

The grave diggers of Woolwich Cemetery, London, are on a strike.

Saw-mill hands at Williamsport are on a strike, and so violent have their actions been that Governor Geary has called out troops to restrain them in their riotous conduct.

Voorhees, of Indiana, who so bitterly opposed the nomination of Greeley, has been nominated by his Democratic friends for Congress. Since his nomination he is for Greeley, renouncing and indirectly denouncing the Cincinnati platform by advocating its opposite principles.

King William's band, that attended the Boston Jubilee, visited Philadelphia last weeek. "They number forty-eight men, who average about thirty years of age, and each is a skilled soloist." They will take home with them $75,000, the earnings of their trip to America.

At midnight on the night of the 18th inst., as the King and Queen of Spain were returning to their palace, they were fired on by five men, but received no injury. The King's guard killed one of the would-be assassins, and arrested two others and lodged them in jail to await their trial.

IN a Greeley demonstration in North Carolina, last week, a number of colored men participated. Subsequently the colored marshal was whipped by his indignant brethren. It is to be hoped that the colored people of the South will not follow in the footsteps of the Kuklux against their political opponents. The persons guilty of the outrage have been arrested.

The Democrats have started a new lie on the president to the effect that he has authorized a bet on his election. The editor of the Daily Wisconsin addressed a vote to the President relative to the report and received the following reply from the President's private secretary:

"The President directs me to say, in regard to that charge, that he never in his life made a bet on the result of an election; nor has he authorized or advised any one to do so. He had no knowledge that any one had made a bet with Mr Wilkes until he read the announcement in the newspapers."

Questionable Company.

It is well known that during the rebellion, the Rebel Government constantly kept in their secret a strong party of men in Canada, whose duty it was, with the aid of Northern sympathizers and corrupt men, to put into practice such diabolical schemes as they might from time to time concoct. One of the schemes conceived by the sojourned rebels in Canada was the burning of New York City. This, however, failed. Another was the peace scheme—in which Mr. Greeley, became a pilgrim—which Abraham Lincoln sifted by his proclamation, "To all whom it may concern." Another was the assassination of President Lincoln, which was carried to a succeseful issue. Prominent among the Canada rebels engaged in all of the wicked work done against the Government was George N. Sanders. This obnoxious personage has recently come into intimate relationship with Horace Greeley. They are frequently in each other's company. But a day or two ago Mr. Greeley took him to listen to a sermon by the Rev. Dr Chapin, a noted Universalist preacher in New York city, and Mr. Greeley's pastor. It seemed like questionable company for Greeley to keep, and the congregation so considered it, as may be learned from a New York paper, that speaks of it as follows:

On Sunday morning last, much to the surprise and indignation of the congregation, Horace Greeley, accompanied by George N. Sanders and Theodore Tilton, walked into Rev. Dr. Chapin's church, taking seats in Mr. Greeley's pew. It was soon known that the notorious traitor who was hatching conspiracies in Canada during the whole of the rebellion was Mr. Greeley's guest and an expression of disgust was manifest in almost every countenance, for in our whole city there is not a congregation more distinguished for its intelligence and loyalty than this one. Nor did the circumstance fail to attract the attention and the rebuke of the eminent and eloquent pastor, whose patriotic heart must have burned with indignation to see a man who had conspired to burn our city and assassinate our President thus openly and shamelessly patronized by a prominent member of his congregation. This man, Sanders, who was wandering in Europe until Greeley's nomination for President, was a guest at a recent political breakfast to aid Greeley's election, where he met Erastus Brooks and others of that stripe. The incendiary who burns a single dwelling goes to State Prison, while George N. Sanders, who conspired to burn the whole city of New York, and whose agents actually kindled fires simultaneously in several parts of the city, is not only Mr. Greeley's intimate political friend and supporter, but is the recipient of public hospitalities in a city from which he should be promptly and indignantly banished.

Senator Buckalew $1000 and $500.

The Democrats love to talk about honest Charley Buckalew. He is a State Senator, and as such receives one thousand dollars a session. Last winter he was Chairman of the committee to investigate the Gray and McClure case. The duties of a contest committee belong to the duties of a Senator. The Senator took his committee to Philadelphia. They rode in the cars on free tickets. Their labor did not comprehend the continuous space of a week. Their expenses did not equal those at Harrisburg, for they made the State pay their board while in the city, and reported McClure as entitled to the seat, and a bill of expenses, for the State to pay, amounting to twenty-six thousand and sixty five dollars. Of these thousands Mr. Buckalew appropriated five hundred dollars to his own pocket, thus making the State pay him fifteen hundred dollars instead of one thousand dollars. That is a specimen of the Senator's honesty.

The State Treasury and the County Treasury.

The Democrats just now are trying to manufacture capital out of the charge that the State Treasurer is speculating in State funds, by depositing them in certain institutions and drawing the percentage, and thrusting it into his pocket for himself. They then cooly add "General Hartranft is the acquaintance and a friend of the Treasurer." This is done to injure Hartranft. It may be true that State Treasurers have for a long time been thus speculating, with State funds.

We think it would be infinitely more proper for the howling Democrats in our own county to review the record of some of the Treasurers and Collectors of this county. It is probable that their record will prove them financiers of the very kind that they and their friends have been condemning. Come, gentlemen, while you are on the Treasury question, get a little nearer home.

IF Mr. Buckalew had lived in the days of the Revolution he doubtless would have been a Tory, for even at this late day, after it has been proven that man is capable of self-government, he questions and opposes the governmental principle of extending the right to vote to the masses. Read him on this point, as he delivered himself when in the United States Senate in 1866:

"Now, sir, the objection which I have to a large extension of suffrage in this country, whether by Federal or State power, is this: that thereby you will corrupt and degrade elections and probably lead to their complete abrogation hereafter. By pouring into the ballot boxes of the country a large mass of ignorant voters, and votes subjected to pecuniary or social influence, you will corrupt and degrade your elections and lay the foundation for their ultimate destruction. That is a conviction of mine and it is upon that ground that I resist negro suffrage and female suffrage, and any other proposed form of suffrage which takes humanity in an unduly broad or enlarged sense as the foundation of an arrangement of political power."

His Account Stated.

Mr. Buckalew has been fortunate in acquiring for himself a reputation as an honest and disinterested Democrat. His record, which is being looked up, makes sad work of this late inflated Democratic politician. If no other record than the investigation of the Grey-McClure case could be reached, it alone would be sufficient to remove the wool from the eyes over which it has been pulled.

His friends not only inflate him, but he lends a help himself in his speeches when he declares that he is not in "public life for the purpose of making profit for himself. How adroitly he speaks to impress the public with the belief that he desires no office and possesses no itching palm.

The following offices that he has held and the money he received from each, tells how nearly his acts and his words correspond. An exchange states his account thus:

C. E. Buckalew to United States Dr.

To 6 y'rs salary as U S Senator	$30,000
Outfit as Midister to Ecuador	7,500
4 years salary for same, $7,500	30,000
	$67,500

To State of Pennsylvania Dr.

To salary as member of Constitutional Convention	$ 1,000
3 years salary as Senator	2,100
" " " 2d term	3,000
Extra pay to put McClure into his seat upon contest	500
	$6,600
Total	$74,100

The Geneva Arbitration.

It was believed that upon the withdrawal of the indirect damage claims from the Geneva Board of Arbitrators that no other obstacle would intervene to prevent a speedy settlement of the trouble between England and the United States. Such, however, is not the case, for England, through her agent, has again brought the arbitration to a halt. This time she pauses and hesitates about the payment of damages for ships and cargoes burned, sunk or confiscated by ten rebel ships. She says these vessels were not built in English ports, consequently she objects to payment for the property that they destroyed. The opinion is held by Americans that England should be held responsible for the damages done by these vessels, for the reason that in her ports they always found a place of refuge from the vessels of the Republic, and because they were there allowed to coal and provision and throughly to refit themselves after a cruse of depridation on Northern commerce. It will not be a matter of surprise if the English arbitrators present a bill against the United States large enough to cover out of sight all America's claims. Should such unfortunately be the case, it will prove itself the feather that will break the camel's back.

Alderman William McMullin, a leader of the rough men of Philadelphia, was shot on Monday night, by a man whom McMullin did his utmost for when he was on trial and sent to prison for the shooting of Brooks, a Government agent employed in ferreting out the unlawful distillation of whiskey. Marra is the name of the man who did the shooting. A Moyamensing ball was in progress. Marra entered one of the rooms and removed a boquet from a table. McMullin saw him do it, and followed him to a barroom in the vicinity and desired the flowers. They were not given up.—Words followed. Marra drew a pistol and shot McMullin. Latest reports announce him in a dying condition. Marra has not yet been arrested.

OF the adoption of Greeley by the Democrats, the Nation says: "It must be admitted that the nomination of Greeley by the Democrats is, on the whole, the most ludicrous end which ever overtook a great organization. We know of nothing in sacred or profane literature to which it can be likened, except the rush of swine, in the New Testament, 'down a steep place into the sea,' when the devils entered into them. * * The party in electing Greeley ipso facto perishes, and perishes in the most ignoble way."—Ex.

"John F. Hartrantt, as Auditor General, laid the way for the repeal of the tax on real estate, by securing the collection of all outstanding taxes on corporations, and the payment of all moneys due the State collectors and sureties. He it was who induced the Attorney General to sue out and save for the State thousands of dollars which would other wise have been lost—Forney's Press Oct 5, 1868.

Mail Robber Convicted.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—David E George, deputy postmaster of San Francisco, has been convicted in the United States Circuit Court for robbing the mails. The accused pretended that the store in which the postoffice was kept had been broken open by robbers, who threatened his life with pistols. George was sentenced to eighteen months' imprisonment.

THE following proposed amendment to the State Constitution will be subject to the adoption or rejection of the people, at the October election:

Strike out the sixth section of the sixth article of the Constitution, and insert in lieu thereof the following: "A State Treasurer shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the State, at such time and for such term of service as shall eb prescribed by law."

Letter from South Carolina.

CHARLESTON, S. C.,
July 18, 1872.

Mr. Editor:—How can you expect a letter from South Carolina in July? To write under a wide-spreading tree near some meandering stream in the mountain regions of old Pennsylvania is possible, but here, where your energy is all melted out of you, such a thing is almost impossible. Why, this is the third letter I have commenced. Two, alas! are in the waste basket. I know not but that this one will be there before I finish. Perhaps if I do accomplish my task, your readers will say, "It ought to be there with the others!"

But, after all, we who are this far south have no reason to complain. I have had several letters from northern friends, saying, "The heat is almost beyond endurance—how we pity you all in the South!" This commiseration was not at all appreciated by us, for we were having very pleasant weather just at that time. Before I came South, I supposed the heat was so intense here that no one not used to it could endure it. But so far, I am obliged to say I have suffered more from the heat in the North. The thermometer varies little from between 85 and 92 degrees. The direct rays of the sun are very hot. Stand under them for a time and you literally melt, and woe to that part of the skin which may be exposed. But stay in the shade, and with the stiff breeze from the ocean blowing constantly, you feel quite comfortable.

The time to go out is before 9 A. M. and after 4 in the afternoon. Between these hours it is better to keep "shady." Those who are compelled to go out between 9 and 4, have to travel at a slow pace, and carry an umbrella over them. Dealers in this commodity say their business thrives best in this country. Broad rimmed hats are worn much in the South, and "white" is the color preferred. One of our dailies said the other day that this augured well for a large majority for Greeley in this Black Republican State, but I am inclined to the opinion that the people choose white hats because they don't attract the rays of the sun as much as black. The people in the South are a very slow people. They transact business in a slow and easy way—none of your rush and tare sort of people, such as we see in the North, and especially in the West. This is the way with all dwellers in warm climates.

Charleston is dull in summer. All who can leave for the season, have gone North. They must acknowledge there is a little virtue left in that despised section of our land. Many who cannot leave for the summer have moved their families either to Summerville, a beautiful and healthy little village twenty-two miles from the city, or five miles across the Bay to Sullivan's Island, on the sea shore, from whence the first gun was fired upon Ft. Sumter. These removals have thinned out our once populous city, and made all kinds of business more or less dull.

Those in authority are actively engaged in fortifying against cholera and yellow fever. They learned a lesson from the visit of the latter disease last fall which they will not soon forget. Boards of health have been established in every ward—the streets and lanes are carefully watched and kept clean, and chloride of lime and copperas are freely circulated throughout the city. It is to be hoped that God will hold back forever that terrible scourge with which the city was visited last fall.

By the time this reaches the eyes of your readers, I hope to be packing my "carpet-bag" for the purpose of finding a cool retreat somewhere in old Juniata. Hoping to see you face to face soon, I now, for this summer at least, bid you and your kind readers an affectionate farewell.

Yours as ever.
WM. A. PATTON.

There are now in daily use on the Michigan Central railroad fifty one cars fitted up expressly for carrying butter, beef and eggs from Chicago to Boston and New York. An average of four of these loaded cars start East each day, and are inspected and re-iced at Detroit before they go further. Each car consumes four tons of ice on the trip.

A Quaker who had been troubled with rats informs a friend that he greased a thirty-foot board, filled it full of fish-hooks, set it up at an angle of forty-five degrees, and put an old cheese at the top. The rats went up, slid back, and he caught thirty of 'em the first night.

A man traveling from Syracuse to Buffalo on the Central Road, last week, tendered the conductor of the train a railroad ticket issued by that company sixteen years ago. The conductor received the ticket without any hesitation, but with a great deal of astonishment.

WALLINGFORD ACADEMY, located at Charleston, was instituted in 1868, and incorporated by the Legislature of South Carolina in 1872. It was established through the generous contributions of Mrs. Wallingford, of Pittsburg, after whose departed husband the Academy is named. It is under the care of the Board of Missions for Freedom of the Presbyterian Church. A primary object with the friends of this Institution, is to furnish the colored youth of both sexes the means of acquiring a liberal education. But with the education of the mind, the heart is not neglected. A distinctive feature of this Institution, is to be useful to themselves, to their country, and to their God.

This School has enjoyed in a great degree the blessing of Almighty God since its commencement. A very large number has been brought under its influence. Some who have received a partial education here, are now successful Ministers of the Gospel; others are filling useful stations in life. Four of the young men attending the Academy are studying with the Sacred Office in view. All we need now, in order to place this Institution on an equality with any other of the kind in the land, is money sufficient to procure endowment and philosophical apparatus. Will our friends aid us with their prayers and alms?

Rev. W. A. Patton of Tuscarora Valley, Juniata County, is Superintendent of this Institution.

CANDIDATES' CARDS.

CONGRESS.

MR. EDITOR:—As it is of the utmost importance that we should place before the people a man whose name would add both strength and vigor to the ticket, allow me to present as a candidate for Congress, the Hon. Joseph Pomeroy, of Academia, a man widely known for his strict integrity, fine business qualities, and knowledge of public affairs.

MILFORD.

LEGISLATURE.

MR. EDITOR:—Noah Hertzler, of Port Royal, has held our banner aloft in two campaigns in a manner that reflected credit on himself and his party. He has again consented to enter the field. I, therefore, ask that he be announced as a candidate for Legislature, in your issue of the 24th inst. He is a true man.

FERMANAGH.

LEGISLATURE.

MR. EDITOR:—As our Primary Election is drawing nigh, it is necessary that we should bring out our most available and strongest men for the different offices. I would suggest the name of our friend John W. Muthersbaugh, of old Fayette, as the most suitable candidate for the State Legislature. Mr. Muthersbaugh is popular in Mifflin county as well as in Juniata, and if nominated his election would be sure.

MIFFLINTOWN.

DELEGATE TO CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

MR. EDITOR:—It is of the highest importance that the men who are chosen to represent the different districts in this Commonwealth in the State Convention to revise the State Constitution should be men of character, industry and ability, so that they can intelligently lay hold of the questions of reform that will be brought up for the consideration of the Convention, and so that they can assist in moulding a new fundamental law that shall be in harmony with the spirit of reform that is abroad in the land. I know of no one in our county who is better qualified for these requirements than our young friend, Jeremiah Lyons, of our town, and I ask that his name be announced as a candidate for Delegate to the Constitutional Convention.

MIFFLIN.

DELEGATE TO CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

We have been authorized to announce Dr. J. P. Sterrett, of Academia, as a candidate for Delegate to the Constitutional Convention.

BARLOW'S INDIGO BLUE.
Is the cheapest and best article in the market for Blueing Clothes. The genuine has both Barlow's and Wilberger's name on the label, and is put up at Wilberger's Drug Store, No. 234 North Second St., Philadelphia. D. S. WILBERGER, Proprietor. For sale by Druggists and Grocers.

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT.
Reject all Violent Purgatives. They ruin the tone of the bowels and weaken the digestion. TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT is used by rational people as a means of relieving all derangements of the stomach, liver and intestines, because it removes obstructions without pain and imparts vigor to the organs which it purifies.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

$1,000 REWARD
For any case of Blind, Bleeding, Itching or Ulcerated Piles that Dr. BIGLER'S PILE REMEDY fails to cure. It is prepared expressly to cure the Piles, and nothing else. Sold by all Druggists. Price, $1.00.

Know all Men by these Presents,

J. Hamilton, four horses, one wagon, one grain drill, one mower and reaper, one cider press, one fanning mill, one set smith tools, one corn planter, one horse rake, carpenter tools, harrow, hay fork, rope and pulley, two plows, double trees, log chain, wheel barrow, shovel plow, cultivator, three sets harness, flails, rakes, dung fork, corn fodder cutter, grindstone and fixings, one horse (Rock), two farm wagons, one cart, one three horse and one two horse doubletree, one spring wagon, four head of cows, four head of young cattle, and two mules, to have and to hold the aforesaid property unto the said J. J. Hamilton, his Executors, Administrators or Assigns, to his and their own proper use and benefit and behoof forever; and I, the said Simon P. Logan, my heirs, Executors and Administrators, the bargained premises unto the said J. J. Hamilton, his Executors, Administrators or Assigns, from and against all person or persons whomsoever, shall and will warrant and defend by these presents.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and seal this 3rd day of July, 1872.

SIMON P. LOGAN, [Seal.]

NOW, KNOW ALL MEN, and take notice, that the said Simon P. Logan is living on and cultivating for me and for my benefit, my farm in Tuscarora township, Juniata county, and that I have left the above property (with the exception of one horse and two mules) with him, and in his possession and care, and only during my pleasure and for my benefit, in the cultivation of my farm; and all men are warned and forbidden to interfere with said property in any way, or to be either principal or accessary in diverting said property from the use for which I have left it in the care of said Simon P. Logan.

J. J. HAMILTON.
