The following scale of prices for announcements of candidates, in the SENTINEL, for office at the approaching election—to be published weekly until the Primary Election—will be rigidly adhered to: Senate, $15; Legislature, $10; Sheriff, Register and Recorder, Commissioner and Treasurer, $5 each. Communications recommending candidates for office, 25 cents per line. No announcement or communication will be published unless accompanied by the money.

TOWN AND COUNTRY.

THE season is twenty days late. BOTH girls and boys "run hoop" on the pavements in the evenings. THE circus companies have given this valley the "go by." SUNDAY was the brightest and pleasantest day of the season. HOFFMAN'S building, on the corner of Bridge and Water streets, is being raised. PEACH TREES in this neighborhood don't bud. They were frozen last winter. THE Court did not grant license to those who petitioned for the sale of liquor, last week. THE Wilson Brothers are building a large barn on their farm in Fermanagh township. THE common question among land owners in Juniata is, "Have you iron ore on your property?" If you wish to buy a town lot to build a house on, give the editor of the Sentinel a call. He has a number for sale. If you have anything to sell advertise in the columns of the Sentinel. There is not a better medium in the county. HARLEY & Co. have created a furor in the clothing market by the introduction of their large stock of New Goods. THE "janitor" of the public ground should not allow bill posters to drive tacks and nails into the trees around the public square. HON. Hugh N. McAlister, for years a citizen of Bellefonte, Center county, but originally from Lost Creek Valley, this county, died on last Monday, aged 65 years.

In 1872, 301 cars of pig iron, 285 cars of coal, 3,600,000 feet of lumber, and other materials in proportion, were used in the manufacture of Fairbanks' scales. BLACK BASS are being caught at Newport, in the river. It is the result of the Susquehanna having been stocked at Harrisburg some years ago with that kind of fish. A CITIZEN suggests that men who own lands containing iron ore should club and procure a geologist and practical miner, and have the county thoroughly examined. Who will move in the matter to raise a fund for that purpose. NEW GOODS.—Laird & Bell have just finished shelving a large stock of Spring and Summer Goods—latest styles, which they offer at the lowest prices. Call and examine their stock and secure bargains. See advertisement in another column.

ICE.—H. D. Weller is offering to the citizens of Millintown, at their doors, from his wagon, clear, pure, Lost Creek ice. Now is the time to engage it. It is luxury for the season. He will also open his ice cream garden on next Saturday evening. Don't fail to call. THE Grand Jury last week reported the Court House unfit for a proper transaction of business, and recommended that the County Commissioners alter that building so as to place the court room on the second floor, and the public offices on the first floor, with jury rooms, Judge, witness and attorney rooms, and an enlargement. Three of the rooms in the jail were condemned, and that the unfenced portion of the public ground should be surrounded by a fence. SEND DELEGATES TO S. S. CONVENTION.—The different Sunday Schools throughout the county are requested to appoint their delegates to the Convention at an early day, and send their names to the Chairman of the Executive Committee, so that arrangements can be made for their entertainment. Each school is entitled to four delegates. The Convention will organize at 10 o'clock, A. M., on TUESDAY, MAY 27, 1873, in the Presbyterian Church, Millintown, and continue two days. It is hoped that every Sunday School in the county will send delegates, and that every delegate will do his or her utmost in order to make the Convention interesting and profitable. H. C. PARDOE, Chairman Executive Committee, Millintown, Pa.

LAST Thursday two strangers hired a horse and buggy at Perryville and drove across the Tuscarora mountain into Perry county, to Henry Swab's residence, one mile and a half south of Leckesburg. Before reaching Swab's, one of the party got out of the buggy. The other fellow drove up to the house, got out and represented himself as a horse dealer, wishing to buy horses. While looking at the stock, the man who had left the buggy made his appearance and asked for a man named Wagner, who he said owed him quite a sum of money for jewelry. He declared that he had come all the way from Baltimore expecting to get the money, and that he had not only failed in that, but he had failed in even getting a sight of Wagner. He seemed to be in great distress. He was in need of money, and Wagner's failure to come to town would straiten him the more, financially. He offered to sell one of two gold watches that he had with him, to the drover, at a greatly reduced price. The watches, he said, were worth $150 a piece. The drover did not wish to buy. Swab would not buy. He then offered to pawn the watches to the drover for $100. The drover would not take them, for he might not be found at home when the watches should be redeemed. At this last bid Mr. Swab bit. He would take the watches at $100, and if the fellow failed to put in an appearance at the stated time, they were to be his, and he would get $300 for them. The fellow said he was hard up for money, and asked Mr. Swab to loan him seven dollars until he would redeem the watches. Swab didn't have all of $107 in his house, but he went and borrowed from a neighbor what was needed to make that amount. The man with many thanks and promises of speedy return took his departure, while the assembled horse dealer lingered a while to properly season Swab with congratulations of the probability of a couple of hundred dollars easily made. By and by he also left, and was joined by his confederate, and the two speedily came back to Perryville, and sent a boy with the horse and buggy to the man from whom they were obtained, with the statement that they wanted the horse and buggy on Friday. Meanwhile Swab's speculation was too good to keep; he told it to his neighbors. He told it to one who takes a county paper and was posted. This man told Swab that he believed that he was the victim of a swindle, and that in his opinion the horse dealer and the man in search of Wagner had the thing in partnership, and that he supposed his watches were anything but gold. Swab became alarmed, and posted off and had them examined, and to his consternation they were pronounced to be worth about $350 a piece. He mounted the best horse he owned and came to Perryville as fast as he could. He reached the town about an hour after the two swindlers had walked from it, on the railroad, in the direction of Thompsonstown. The 6:30 P. M. train east came along just then. He took it and went to Thompsonstown. The men had not passed that point. He walked up the road to Tuscarora Station, where he was informed that two men were there who described the man he had been there but a short time before, and traded a gold watch to a man for a silver watch and $10 "to boot," and had then been ferried across the river in a skiff by a boy, to whom they gave a "quarter." Swab conjectured that they would lodge at Thompsonstown that night, and hastened to that place, where, sure enough, he found the swindlers. They willingly surrendered all of the money they had left of the $107, which was $100. They declared that they had already spent $7. Swab did not have them arrested. No regular reader of a county paper is taken in as was Swab.

DECORATION DAY.—The following general order has been issued from the headquarters of the Grand Army of the Republic, Department of Pennsylvania, under date of April 23, 1873: In accordance with our rules and regulations, Friday, May 30th, will be observed as a memorial day for the purpose of strewing with flowers, or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late rebellion, or who have since passed away. Citizens generally, military and civic associations, churches and Sunday schools should be invited to participate, and in places where there are no Posts of the Grand Army, it is hoped that the citizens will join together for this purpose, that fitting services may be held in every church yard or cemetery where our dead heroes sleep. The manner of conducting these services is optional with Posts, but those desiring it, can obtain copies of the form of ceremonies, as furnished last year by making immediate application to the A. A. G. Attention is especially invited at this time to the recommendation from National headquarters last year "that flowers and shrubs be planted at each grave, in order that when we are gone, the seasons in their ceaseless round, may in our stead adorn the sleeping places of our comrades." By order of R. B. BEATH, Commanding Department. C. S. GREENE, A. G.

THE Allentown Vocal Class will hold a Concert on the 9th of May, at the St. Paul's Church, for the benefit of the Sabbath School, to begin at 7 1/2 P. M. To be conducted by Harris J. Sheelanberger, teacher. Admission 15 cents. All are invited.

CLEANED cels were in the market last week at 16 cents per pound.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.—Court opened Monday morning, 28th ult, at 10 o'clock, when the constables made their returns and the newly elected ones were sworn into office. The grand jury were called and charged by the Court, after which considerable Orphans' Court and miscellaneous business was transacted. The trial list was then called over, and a jury empaneled in the first case on the list. E. S. Doty vs. David Watts and Thos. Cox.—This was an action of assumpsit on a promissory note drawn by James R. Graham in favor of Thomas Cox and David Watts for the sum of $300, and by them endorsed. Part of the money had been paid by Graham before his death. There was a judgment by default against Thomas Cox, and the issue was as to whether David Watts, as the other endorser, was liable on the note. David Watts alleged an alteration of the note by Mr. Doty after he had endorsed, by inserting his name as payee, when he alleges he was a second endorser only, and that such alteration would have increased his liability. The verdict was for the defendant. Andrew Hoover vs. Wesley Toomey. This was an appeal by defendant from the judgment of Samuel Leonard, Esq., who had given judgment against the defendant for the sum of $13.20. On the trial of the case in court, after the case was fully argued by counsel on the one side and the other, and the jury having been charged by the Court, found for the plaintiff the sum of ten dollars. James North vs. Samuel Hostetler.—Settled by the parties. Henry W. Overman vs. Wm. Given, Assignee of C. J. Chamberlin. Action of replevin for 150 sides of leather. The verdict was for the plaintiff. Laird & Bell vs. James Burns. Settled by the parties. Shantz & Keely vs. John Dunbar.—Action of assumpsit. Verdict for plaintiff for $242.71. David K. Suloff vs. Frow & Parker. Assumpsit on promissory note. Verdict for plaintiff for $425.42. Cyrus Morrison vs. Penna. R. R. Co. Verdict for plaintiff for $214.20. George W. Smith vs. Joel Whitmer. Verdict for plaintiff for $48.38. H. & J. Myers vs. Alfred Steel. Assumpsit. Verdict for plaintiff for $203.25. T. V. Irwin vs. John Sherlock. Verdict for plaintiff for $122. J. E. West vs. Joseph Lane. There were two of these cases originating before a Justice of the Peace, who gave judgment for the plaintiff, from which the defendant appealed. On the trial of the case, it appearing that the title to lands came in question, the Court dismissed the case, because the Justice had no jurisdiction. Elias Snyder vs. Abraham Halemman. Plaintiff took a non suit.

The other cases on the list were continued. The argument list was continued till May 14th, when an adjourned court will meet to dispose of it.
