TOWN AND COUNTRY. Frost, on Saturday morning. Boys talk about swimming now. The Zouaves paraded on the 30th. The public schools in town have closed. Many of the corn fields have been replanted during the past week.

Jennie Denies committed suicide by jumping in the canal at Harrisburg on Tuesday week. Trouble between herself and husband was the cause as expressed by a letter to her husband, and also one to her mother.

THREE gentlemen from town caught 303 trout in the head waters of Licking Creek, last Thursday. A troupe of Italian Minstrels entertained certain portions of the village with their music on Saturday evening.

THE Harrisburg Telegraph of Saturday says, "An immense school of eel passed up the river by this city yesterday. The railroad track scales built by the Fairbanks Scale Company in 1872, could weigh 654 locomotives loaded upon them all at once.

FOR SALE.—A good double seated Carriage, suitable for one or two horses. Terms easy. Apply to C. McCLELLAN, Millin Pa. MEN who profess to know the habits of fish declare that fish that go to the deep waters and the sea in the fall always, if possible, return to the waters in which they were hatched.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS will be supplied with Libraries, large or small, at city prices and express prepaid, at the Book Store of G. R. FRYSENER, Lewistown, Pa. May 21-3w. There is music in the air. There should be music everywhere.

The speediest and cheapest way to get the sweetest music in your house is to call on, or write to Wm. Rollman of this place who sells the far famed Bay State Organ. Mr. Rollman is a practical musician and knows that every instrument that he sells is just what it is represented to be in tone and volume.

On last Friday evening the Pleasant View Saving Fund and Loan Association met at Perryville and elected the following officers: President—William Milliken. Vice President—J. K. Patterson. Treasurer—J. Barton. Secretary—Alfred W. Snyder. Directors—James E. Edin, John Yoder, James J. Patterson, Thomas Aruckle, Wm. Leach, Wm. Van Swearingen, J. P. Kelly, John Gillford, Wm. Telfer. Alfred J. Patterson was elected Attorney for the ensuing year.

FACTS WORTH KNOWING.—That at the old Dentist Establishment of G. L. Derr, Millintown, you can have tooth-ache cured in five minutes, no pain, and keep the tooth in your mouth. No extracting on account of pain.

There is the place to get the most beautiful sets of porcelain teeth, and at your own prices, ranging from $5.00 to $20.00 per single set, and I am determined that hereafter no Dentist in Juniata county shall put up good work at less prices than can be had at the old establishment.

There is the place to go if you want to find the Dentist at home. Being no traveling or moving Dentist, I am always to be found at my office during business hours, and my office is always in Millintown—not one year in Meigs and the next in Texas.

There is the place to have your work done promptly and satisfaction given in all cases. There is the place to go if you want your teeth filled to last for life, and war ranted as such. G. L. DERR, May 21-3w. Practical Dentist.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.—According to previous announcement the Juniata County Sunday School Association held its Sixth Annual Convention in the Presbyterian Church in this place, on Tuesday and Wednesday last week. The convention organized at 10 o'clock A. M., on Tuesday. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Rev. J. H. Stewart. Vice President—Jacob Beidler. Secretary—Dr. T. A. Elder. Treasurer—W. C. Laird. Executive Committee—Rev. T. J. Sherrard, Chairman; Rev. H. C. Shindle, Rev. W. R. Whitney, Rev. J. A. McGill, Lucien W. Doty, Esq., Mr. S. D. Batesholtz, Mr. J. W. Speddy, Miss Annie Thompson, Miss Kate Thomas, Miss Sallie Irwin, Mrs. Jane Showers.

The following Committee on Resolutions was appointed by the Chair: Rev. D. M. Blackwelder, Rev. H. C. Shindle, Mrs. J. N. North, Mrs. Sarah Brown. Revs. J. H. Stewart and H. C. Pardee were chosen as delegates to the State Sunday School Convention, to be held at Titusville, June 3d, 4th and 5th. Wellington Smith and Miss Ellen Frow were chosen as alternates.

A large number of delegates were in attendance, and considerable interest was manifested by those present. It is hoped that great good will result through this convention to the Sunday School cause throughout the county. The Committee on Resolutions submitted the following report, which was received and adopted:

Your committee, appointed to prepare the usual resolutions, respectfully submit the following: Believing that the Secretary's Report of the past Sunday School year presents in a succinct yet complete form all the important facts in the S. S. work of the past year, your committee take the liberty of incorporating it in their own report, as follows:

SECRETARY'S REPORT. In submitting the following report of the number, condition and work of the Sabbath Schools in Juniata county, the Secretary deems it necessary to say that it is made up from the reports of 37 schools, and that so many of them are imperfect in some particular or other that this report must necessarily be imperfect also, and, therefore, not of the same interest or value that it otherwise would be.

Organization.—According to three reports the first school organized was at Church Hill, in 1830, and the second, the Presbyterian of Millintown, in 1836. One school was organized in 1870, one in 1872, and one in 1873, showing that the work is still going on. Statistics.—Thirty nine schools have reported, but the following statistics are based on the reports of thirty seven, two being so imperfect as to be of no value. These 37 schools show 195 male and 203 female teachers, making a total of 398 engaged in the good work of training the children for Christ; 1194 male and 1266 female scholars, making 2460. The average attendance was 1554, being but a fraction over one-half of the whole number on the rolls. But very little reliance can be placed in this, as an inspection of the reports shows that the minutes of most of the schools have been very imperfectly kept.

Eight schools are kept open 12 months in the year. All of these schools are in towns except one—Academy. The average time that the schools are kept open is 8 months. Libraries.—The total number of volumes in the libraries of the 37 schools is 8901. The largest number in any one library is 500, that of Wesley Chapel M. E. It is well to state that the Lutheran school of Millintown have cast out all the novels from their library, yet have remaining on their shelves 285 volumes. Conversations.—Eight schools report conversions; two, 1 each; one, a teacher; one, 3; one, 4; one, 7; one, 8; making a total of 35. This is certainly encouraging, and affords ample remuneration for the time, labor and money expended in the year's work. Teachers' Meetings.—Only five schools report teachers' meetings, and all held weekly—some on Sabbath, others on week days or evenings. These are Horingtown Union, Millintown Lutheran, Freedom U., McCoysville U. P., and Millintown Presbyterian, and Free-spring U. occasionally.

From a consideration of this report and from the discussions of the present convention, your committee are prompted to offer the following resolutions: Resolved, That as an association of workers for Jesus, we are deeply grateful for the manifest presence of the Spirit and the evident progress of the Sabbath School work during the past year.

Resolved, That the introduction of a uniform series of lessons in each school in the county would be greatly conducive to the success of the S. S. work. Resolved, That the holding of teachers' meetings to study the lesson would secure greater efficiency in teaching, and thus largely contribute to the furthering of the great cause.

Resolved, That, great cause as we have for gratitude for the progress made during the past year, we are urged by that progress to a renewed consecration of our time, energies, money and every talent to this good work. Resolved, That the assistance afforded us by the press of this county in furthering the interests of the S. S. work is hereby recognized and gratefully acknowledged.

Resolved, That the hearty thanks of this convention are hereby tendered to the citizens of Millin, Patterson and vicinity, for their generous hospitality during its sessions; also, to the Presbyterian congregation for the use of their church; also, to the choir for furnishing music for the convention. D. M. BLACKWELDER, H. C. SHINDLE, Mrs. J. N. NORTH, Mrs. SARAH BROWN, Committee.

The convention adjourned at 5 o'clock P. M. on Wednesday. The next convention will be held at Perryville, the time to be fixed by the Executive Committee. COMMUNICATION. PORT ROYAL, May 30, 1873. Editor Juniata Sentinel:—Decorra time was observed by the citizens of Perryville and vicinity in a becoming manner. It seems fitting and appropriate that of all of the days set apart by common consent, for national celebration or observance, none has a more significant meaning attached to it than Decoration Day. In the rich, bright, joyous days of early spring we celebrate it, when all nature is bursting into life—The flower is significant of immortality, and placed upon the graves of the departed ones, the significance of the emblem becomes more apparent, and it becomes a token of love, and belief in the coming of that day, when the battle of life being over, all shall come forth in obedience to the call of Him who is the Resurrection and the Life.

During the early part of the day the people congregated at the school house and prepared wreaths and bouquets to be used in decorating the graves of those of our Juniata soldiers who repose beneath the soil of Church Hill Cemetery. At 2 P. M. a procession was formed under the Marshaling of Charles Emerson, the efficient President of our School Board, and headed by the Perryville Cornet Band, marched to the Cemetery, where they were met by a large number of the citizens of Turbett township, who had congregated there, to unite in paying this annual tribute to our heroic dead. The procession passed into the cemetery and formed around a large national flag, upon which were placed the flowers to be used in the ceremonies, the band meanwhile performing several national airs. The flowers and garlands were then consecrated to their intended use, by a feeling prayer by Rev. Mr. Whitney, after which the sad but pleasant duty of strewing the flowers was performed. There were about sixteen graves, upon each of which was placed a small American flag. A cross was erected in the centre of the cemetery, upon which wreaths and bouquets were placed to the memory of the noble men from Juniata who fell in battle, and whose bodies repose beneath southern soil.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies the people were called together by the band playing the "Red, White and Blue," when Prof. A. J. Patterson, being called upon, delivered a neat and appropriate address, in which he eulogized the deeds of our brave soldiers, who perished in the late war, and reminded the people of their duty to the living. His remarks were well received by those present, and will make for him many friends.

In the evening a meeting of soldiers was held in the school house, which was organized by the election of D. B. Alter as President, with Messrs. Beidler and Smith as Vice Presidents, and J. L. Turbett as Secretary. A platform was constructed, on which was erected a campaign tent, with a stack of musketry in front, the back-ground being draped with the national colors, the whole scene presenting a pleasing and lively appearance. A short and patriotic address was delivered by Rev. Mr. Whitney, late Chaplain of 191st Pa. Vols., and he referred in eloquent terms to the sacrifices made in common by soldiers and people in defence of our liberties. Remarks were also made with the same general import, by Maj. Thompson, Jacob Beidler and others, after which the meeting adjourned.

Taking everything into consideration, the whole affair was a complete success, and reflects credit upon those participating. We hope this beautiful custom will be perpetual, and that the flower and garland will be annually laid upon the graves of the heroic dead, and thus their memory will be fondly cherished by an appreciative people. SOLDIER.

A Country-Girl in the City. From the St. Louis Daily Globe. A plain young woman from the country, now visiting in the city, writes thus to her mother: St. Louis, May 15.

DEAR MOTHER—Since I last wrote you I've seen so much that is new to me (a country girl), that I can't begin to tell you half. Aunt Edna and her girls are so much like city people now, that you'd never think they were raised down on Cowskin river. Before I was allowed to be seen, Aunt Edna took one of cousin Letty's black alpaca skirts, and pinned and ducked it over my green Sunday dress, to make me look city bred.

Mother, is it a disgrace to live in the country? Because they all seem so much afraid that I shall be suspected of coming from there, that I begin to wish I was home again in my calicoes and aprons. One thing I will not allow that the girls don't like in me, that is to tie a great hump on my back. Would you believe it, mother, the women all look broken backed, like poor Jennie Thornton, and seem as much weighed down with the clothes they have on as our poor old Ball does when he's starting for the mill with that big bag of corn on his back.

I went last Sunday with aunt and the girls to a big church on Pine-street. You know Aunt Edna used to be a plain Methodist, on Cowskin; now she's as fine as the finest. We had a seat to the right of the pulpit, where we could see everything—and oh, what a sight! The largest millinery store in the country was nothing to it. I had been reading in the newspapers of the grand opening for new style of hats, and I thought, maybe, this is one of them; and then, the silks and satins! Don't you think God must feel proud to have them all come to see him in their best clothes—not a single shabby-looking one there.

Oh! yes, I forget, there was one plain dressed woman, who looked scared, as if she didn't know where to sit. One of the men cupped her, and took her to a back seat; wouldn't she have looked like a weed among flowers in the middle seats? I noticed, when the meeting was over, that all the fine dressed ladies nodded and smiled at each other, but nobody noticed her. I would have felt sorry for her if she hadn't been so simple as to come where none but grand dressed people belong. I wondered if she thought their God would notice her, and why she didn't go to some place where the Saviour comes!

You can't think what funny looking wagons they have here to hand people through the streets. Sometimes they are so crowded that the men have to hang on behind. It's considered very disgraceful for a man to keep his seat in one and let a fine dressed lady stand; but, if the woman has on a sun bonnet and carries a basket, he can sit still—it's lawful. I'll write soon again, mother. Your loving KATIE.
