

JUNIATA SENTINEL

MIFFLINTOWN: Wednesday, October 1, 1873. PENNA. R. R. TIME TABLE.

Passenger trains leave Mifflin Station as follows: EASTWARD. Philadelphia Express, 1 10 a. m.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE. Huntingdon is to have a new Academy. David Salouff is working lively on the Nivin lot.

They catch black bass in large numbers now at Harrisburg, with "rod and line." The weight of the fish vary between one and four pounds.

A citizen of Huntingdon named Michael McBrule was killed while walking on the railroad by a train of cars, on the evening of the 18th inst.

Squirrels are plenty. Some attribute their numbers to the enforcement of the law in the early part of the season.

The National Banks have stood the shock of the money panic almost without a quiver. The country would be in calamitous circumstances, financially speaking, if it were not for our present National banking system.

By and by the SENTINEL office will be opened at the intersection of East Point and Cross street. The latter street will also be opened, thereby opening communication from the McAlisterville road to the Cedar Spring road without going by way of Main street.

There is a perennial boldness and even smugness in work. Were he never so benighted, forgetful of his high calling, there is always hope in a man that actually and earnestly works; in idleness alone is there perpetual despair.

THOUSANDS have been changed by the use of the Peruvian Syrup (a protoxide of iron) from weak, sickly, suffering creatures to strong, healthy, and happy men and women, and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

THE Lewistown Gazette says the bridge question in Mifflin county has been settled. The same paper further says: Elisha Graham, of Bratton township, having provided himself with the proper material, thought he might as well take a hunt on Thursday last.

WARREN is a poor man, says the Democrat: Warren is a poor man, echoes the Sentinel: And so follows the Mifflintown Register. Now if Warren is a poor man, we should like to know what these chaps consider themselves, as he is able to buy out the whole trimvurate, lock, stock and barrel, and have his nice pig-bon on the corner of Wayne and Market streets left?

Meeting of Juniata Scouts.—Company met according to previous at McAlisterville, and on their arrival the death of John H. Funk, late a member of the company, was announced, when the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:
