Are you Assessed?

If not, attend to it immediately—lose not a moment.

Examine the assessment in each township, in the city, and each township in the county, and don't go away until you see your name there.

The law requires each voter to be assessed at least ten days before the next general election, and pay a State or County Tax, otherwise he will be deprived of his vote.

Democrats, be sure and see to this matter before the 30th of October.

Chi. Improvement.

A stranger in visiting Pittsburgh is impressed with a high regard for the individual enterprise and industry of its citizens, but with the exceptions of the Law Test on the hill, which was erected by the County, he sees little evidence of the public spirit for public benefit.

The Market House is a disgrace to the city, and we wonder that the women do not form Sewing Societies and hold Fairs to raise the means of putting a decent one in its place.

But the most apparent want is Public Squares.

With fifty thousand of a population, the citizens—the men, we mean the mechanics and laborers, for the rich can ride to the country where they please.

What is the matter? "How?" they may ask.

We will tell them. Elect to your counsels a man who is not in favor of purchasing a piece of ground, and command him to be with trees and fountains, when the working people may take their wives and children for an hour—two hours—of enjoyment, after the labor of the day is done.

If any should propose the project, mark that man—give him no opportunity to oppose it a second time.

But the city is in debt and perhaps embarrassed.

It would be well to let them know that unless somebody moves in the matter nothing will be done.

Our paper is open for communications from all who feel the want of a Public Square, a commodious Market House, a City Hall, or any other improvement that will benefit the city by its health, comfort, and happiness of the people.

The more money spent in the improvement of the city, the better, the better will it be for every interest in the city.

Cram and confine one part of the body politic and white wall suffer. "Posterty bleas the man that plants a tree" and if the present generation will only pay the interest of the debt incurred in laying out public squares and promenades, and ornamenting them with trees and fountains, posterty is in doing nothing for us, will honor the draft of their acres.

A Few Words.

We distinctly and unequivocally state, upon taking charge of this paper, that no clique on either side of the fence should exercise the slightest control over it.

To prevent all unnecessary doubt on the subject, we are plainly and unreservedly "for our friends"—a few brief words.

The Post, under consideration, will advocate the claims of no political aspirant at the expense of another—the business of selecting and nominating candidates, so far as we are concerned, shall be left with the people. In their judgment and wisdom we have the most implicit confidence.

After nominations are made, by conventions fairly called and represented, those nominations shall receive our warmest support. We don't care if one most brilliant aspirant were nominated to fill the highest office in the state, provided he shall support him in our paper, and vote for him on the day of election. Our motto is "service, not size."

Nearly all the bitter animosity that is engendered in party is in consequence of the ill-advised course of papers in taking a premature stand in favor of some particular person, and in doing so, do nothing for us, will honor the draft of their acres.

Facts are STUBORN THINGS.
