A Proposition. The Morning Post of yesterday asks us to publish Mr. Hamilton's renunciation of Missouri.

We had intended doing so, but now that an enemy demands it we are disposed to ask our readers to make an extra effort.

We will publish all that the Post has published about Mr. Hamilton's renunciation of Missouri.

Nothing, absolutely nothing. While every candid man must admit that Col. McCandlish could accomplish much by a prudent and judicious course, and the influence he is known to possess over those who have control of the subject.

We submit this brief communication in the earnest hope that our Whig friends will read and ponder on what it sets forth.

More cowardly insinuations. Knows and hypocrites always endeavor to blast the reputation of their fellow beings by base insinuation and cowardly insinuation.

Like the assassin they stab in the dark—the thief they cover their depredations by the mantle of night.

We have said no word against the private character of a single man on the Whig and Antislavery Ticket—we have never alluded to them in their official relations. No—God forbid that we should be so forgetful of all the endearing ties of human nature, as to resort to such detestable weapons to blot the character and disturb the peace of a single living being.

We have spoken freely of the public, political and official acts of the opposition candidate, and it was our right—it was our duty—to do so.

But such was not the course of the Editor of the Gazette. This subject speaks, with a freedom and boldness that we should be proud to emulate.

It is not our duty to attack the private character of a man, but it is our duty to expose his public and official acts.

It is not our duty to attack the private character of a man, but it is our duty to expose his public and official acts.

"Go and do likewise." The Editors of the Gazette paid the Five Dollars received by them for a copy of Hamilton's renunciation, to the Orphan Asylum.

Can't they induce Hamilton to pay one of the five dollars received by him in the Bradlee trial to the same charitable institution?

The Strategy, set of 50 would not be so beneficial to the Government as 50 cents, but still it would in a measure relieve the wants of the Orphan. Our advice to Hamilton is to follow the example of the Deacon.

If he will do this act of charity, we will agree to say nothing more about his double dealing—keep the $500, and give up the $50.

Neighbor Bradlee, Mr. Hamilton's renunciation still stands in our office, and we shall be very happy to let you have the use of the type from charge. Do publish it or will you please send us a copy of the paper in which you have published it.

People tell me that you are a fair, candid and honorable man, and of course we expect you to comply with this reasonable proposition.

Mr. Hamilton is your candidate—he expects support from your readers and your party, and it is his duty to withhold his opinion of Missouri from your patrons and supporters? It is all a game to say that you will not publish the renunciation, because the request comes from a "political enemy." We shall not permit you to escape in a cloud of smoke of your own raising!

Funerals.—We notice by the list of arrivals at the St. Charles Hotel, the name of J. S. SILVER, who is the Prince of the Yastek, a glorious fool and a gentleman; so look out for him and prepare him for his own side next week.

as we have described him. Judge Coulter has not interfered in party politics for many years, and he has devoted himself to his profession. Let us go no further back, in 1844 he was the firm supporter of the Dallas Bank, and when the Democratic ticket. His appointment was asked by the united voice of the Democrats of this county, and that in it is a sound Republican as any of the Dallas Bank.

Correspondence. Perseverance, July 25th, 1846. Dear Sir.—The undersigned committee appointed to address the candidates for the next Legislature, by the Boot and Shoe Makers of Pittsburgh and Allegheny cities, at a meeting held on the 15th inst., present the following for your consideration. We are aware, perhaps, that the Manufacture of Boots and Shoes is carried on in a manner which is highly objectionable to the public health, and we are, therefore, desirous of bringing it under the control of the Legislature.

Under these considerations we ask of you a decisive answer to the following question: Will you pledge your influence to the next Legislature, in support of the proposed bill, which we have the honor to enclose to you, and which we believe will be for the benefit of the public health, and the interest of the Boot and Shoe Makers of Pittsburgh and Allegheny cities?

If you will not pledge your influence in support of the proposed bill, we will be obliged to you to inform us of the reasons which induce you to withhold your support from our patrons and supporters? It is all a game to say that you will not publish the renunciation, because the request comes from a "political enemy." We shall not permit you to escape in a cloud of smoke of your own raising!

STAND BY YOUR COUNTRY! "Stand by your party!" Let each word sink to the soul like living flame. For, in a Patriot's heart they stir, And from the Patriot's lips they come. From those whose honored graves, Still send a voice to warn and save.

"Stand by your party!" Never sleep. For many a myriads are near, Who sleep and snore, and snore and snore. Of all a Freeman holds most dear, Men who have you, how low the knee Like them, to nullify Liberty.

"Stand by your party!" To the sky Let her proud banner be unrolled. No to one honest heart dead, Whom Liberty's stars shed light, But hail with joy each aged ray That tells of Freedom onward way.
