LITERARY AND MISCELLANEOUS. NOT TO MYSELF ALONE. Not to myself alone,"
The little opening flower transported cries—

Not to myself alone I bud and bloom; With fragrant breath the breezes I perfume And gladden all things with my rainbow dyes: The bee comes sipping, every eventide, His dainty fili; The butterfly within my cup doth bide

"Not to myself alone,"

The circling star with honest pride doth boas Not to myself alone I rise and set; I write upon night's coronal of jet His power and skill who formed our myriad hos friendly beacon at heaven's open gate, I gem the sky, That man might ne'er forget, in every fate,

"Not to myself alone." The heavy-laden bee doth murmuring hum-Not to myself alone from flower to flower I rove the wood, the garden and the bower And to the hive at evening weary come: For man, for man the lucious food I pile With busy care, Content if this repay my ceaseless toil— A scanty share

" Not to myself alone." The soaring bird with lusty pinion sings-"Not to myself alone I raise the song: I cheer the drooping with my warbling tongue And hear the mourner on my viewless wings; I bid the hymnless churl my anthem learn, And God ador I call the worldling from his dross to turn,

And sing and soar,' "Not to myself alone." The streamlet whispers on its pebbly way-Not to myself alone I sparkling glide; I scatter life and health on every side,
And strew the fields with herb and flow ret gay: I sing unto the common, bleak and bare, My gladsome tone sweeten and refresh the languid air

In droughty June." "Not to myself alone,-Oh man, forget not thou, earth's honored priest! Its tongue, its soul, its life, its pulse, its heart-In earth's great chorus to sustain thy part.

Perpetual Motion.

Will be exhibited to the ladies and gentlemen of Pittsburgh and vicinity, for a few days, at the Æthensum Philo Hall, entrance, Third street.—

A self propelling wheel of two feet diameter which has the power of perpetual motion, and at present sufficient to drive a clock, to which it is attached. A. B. Van Cott, has at great expense of ime and labor brought this wonderful piece of mechanism to perfection. The wheel and frame in which it stands are enclosed in a glass case, and can be taken; up and removed from one place to another without interrupting its motion, showing that it is perout interrupting its motion, showing that it is per-fectly isolated and free from any external agency. Any one can discover every portion of the work. by simply looking at it, so open and free from even-the appearance of deception has it been constructed. All those visiting the Exhibition, will, on leaving, All those visiting the Exhibition, will, on leaving, have their money returned, should they be in the least dissatisfied.
