What is Thought ?-In childhood-an imperfect gleam; A summer bower-a moonlight dream-Glimpses of some far shining stream-A rosy wreath-the blessed beam That dwell's in mothers' eves.

In youth-an urn brimm'l with delight, t thronging fantasies of light-Meek eyes, with love's own radiance bright-

In manhood-a benighted shore, With wischs of bliss all scattered o'er-Dark swelling doubts-fears scorned before A spirit withered at the core-A-sea of storm and strife.

In age-a calm undazzled eye, Living in world's of memory: Low breathed thanks for love on high-A patient longing for the sigh That wafts it into rest

There is a beautiful thought in the follow ing. It is from Sergeant Talfourd's Ion : It is a little thing To give a cup of water, yet its draught refreshment drained by fevered May send a shock of pleasure to the soul, More exquisite than when nectatious juice Reneves the life of joy in happiest hours.

Tis a little thing to speak some common word Of comfort, which hath almost lost its use, Yet on the ear of him who thought to die Uumourned, 'twill fall like choicest music.
